Conquest and Construction Mark DeLancey,2016-06-21 In Conquest and Construction Mark Dike DeLancey investigates the palace architecture of northern Cameroon a region that was conquered in the early nineteenth century by primarily semi nomadic pastoralist Muslim Ful e forces and incorporated as the largest emirate of the Sokoto Caliphate Palace architecture is considered first and foremost as political in nature and therefore as responding not only to the needs and expectations of the conquerors but also to those of the largely sedentary agricultural non Muslim conquered peoples who constituted the majority population In the process of reconciling the cultures of these various constituents new architectural forms and local identities were constructed The Economics of Pastoralism Z.A. Konczacki,2014-07-16 The economics and future of pastoralism in Sub Saharan Africa

Herdsmen, Warriors, And Traders John G Galaty,2019-03-04 African pastoralists have been devastated by drought famine and dislocation yet herding remains the most viable system of support for the inhabitants of the vast arid and semi arid zones Using case studies of the Tswana and the San the interlacustrine pastoralists the Masai and Mursi of East Africa and the multi ethnic regional systems of Lak Cultures of Migration Hans Peter Hahn,Georg Klute,2007 International Migrations have become a central topic in the Humanities in the last years Understanding migration requires a closer look at the migratory phenomena and the continuities within the societies involved in the migration process This volume intends to overcome simplistic views on migration and the shortcomings of a push and pull factor analysis

Instead the perspective of the migrants themselves orients the approach of cultures of migration In this view migration becomes a complex issue and motives and acceptance of migration appear to be a matter of negotiations in the migrants societies of origin and in the host societies as well The present volume brings together a number of essays exploring the cultures of migration in various contexts It is organised in three sections dealing with Migrations as Encounters Migration as Challenge and Transcontinental Migrants Ten contributions each based on original fieldwork in various parts of Africa examine the validity of the concept of cultures of migration as explained in the introduction

Population, Health and Nutrition in the Sahel Allan G. Hill, 2022-09-09 This collection of studies first published in 1985 describes some contemporary problems of selected pastoral and agro pastoral communities of the West African Sahel Several important features of the Sahel are illustrated the significance of seasonal factors in causing periodic stress amongst people and animals the economic uncertainty introduced by interannual climactic variations as well as the role of traditional systems of social and economic organisation in providing some support during periods of need The findings presented here are published in co operation with the Sahel Institute a regional research organisation set up in the early 1970s with representation from eight Sahelian countries Cape Verde Chad Gambia Mali Mauritania Niger Senegal and Upper Volta

African Herders Andrew B. Smith, 2005-01-24 Scholars have long acknowledged a gap in the archaeological literature on African herder societies Utilizing almost 40 years work Andrew Smith presents a detailed portrait of modern herdsman and their historical antecedents Following the assumption that Africa has never been isolated from the rest of the world Smith illuminates key topics ranging from material culture and rituals to future prospects for pastoralists Written in a scholarly yet accessible style Smith presents evidence detailing African herders historical relationship to similar societies in the Near East as well as their present state in the modern world This volume will be indispensable to understanding the unique role pastoralists have played over time throughout the continent

Practising Development Johan Pottier, 2013-02-01 Throughout the 1980s there have been calls often from development organizations of global repute for the incorporation of social science perspectives into the design and management of sustainable development programmes Practising Development is the first collection to offer first hand critical assessments of the success and failures found within actual responses to these calls By combining academic and practical experience from anthropology development and aid organizations the contributors examine the processes of intervention the methods by which this intervention can be assessed and explain the socio economic and political worlds within which intervention and development evolve

The Pastoral Continuum Paul Spencer, 1998-01-29 Paul Spencer presents the definitive study of the ways of life of the cattle herding peoples of East Africa drawing on many years of research This region has offered a prime example of a traditional culture resisting the inevitability of change it provides the best known and most extensive instance both of cattle pastoralist society and of social organization based primarily on age Pastoral peoples were once dominant in the East African interior but development of the market economy has progressively polarized the region and forced them into the most marginal drought ridden areas in this ecological trap they have become a peripheral underclass The Pastoral Continuum examines the richness and resilience of their cultures and illuminates the role of indigenous practices and institutions in adaptation and survival The pastoralists systems of age organization in particular are notable for their resilience it is demonstrated that these are bound up with problems of growth and succession in family enterprises and that marriage is a critical link in the web of alliance that governs the problematic relations between old and young Spencer s exploration of the development of the pastoralist phenomenon yields a unique view of its place in the modern world and its prospects for the future This landmark work by a leading authority will be of lasting value to any reader interested in traditional social systems of this kind The Lesser Gods of the Sahara Jeremy Keenan,2004-08-02 The eight essays that comprise this collection cover various aspects of social change and contested terrain amongst the Tuareg people Algeria Warfare in Atlantic Africa, 1500-1800 John Kelly Thornton,1999 First Published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Moving Through and Passing On Yaa P.A. Oppong,2017-12-02 The Fulani are one of West Africa s most populous and geographically dispersed ethnic groups Commonly thought of as a pastoral people primarily engaged in cattle herding Fulani peoples are in reality highly differentiated in livelihood and patterns of mobility Despite having a long history of residence in Ghana Fulani are considered aliens in the eyes of the state and strangers by the various ethnic groups among whom they reside Among Fulani themselves differences of place circumstance and experience have generated parallel ambiguities on matters of identity and survival In Moving Through and Passing On Yaa P A Oppong focuses on the Fulani of the Greater Accra region to offer the first detailed account of the lives of this transnational community in Ghana Based on eighteen months of ethnographic fieldwork Oppong develops detailed case studies and draws upon over two hundred in depth life histories to explore issues of mobility survival and identity among this spacially dispersed and diverse group Using perspectives and insights gained from oral life histories private and public ceremonies and ethnic associations she examines the sites and circumstances in which people profess to be the same or different from one another The markers of Fulani identity as recognized by Fulani and non Fulani alike are examined Oppong also explores the factors that allow them as a distinct ethnic category to maintain and perpetuate this identity and viability in Greater Accra The metaphoric analogy of construction sites is employed to define the explicit and implicit events and recurring processes through which people conceive of themselves as Fulani These locations and contexts of action include ethnic associations public gatherings and common rites of passage The recurring processes include genealogical reckoning of kinship and endogamous marriage transactions and the ways in which ties of descent and filiation are used to enhance Indigenous Knowledge and Learning in Asia/Pacific and Africa D. Kapoor,E. Shizha,2010-09-27 This collection makes a unique contribution towards the amplification of indigenous knowledge and learning by adopting an inter trans disciplinary approach to the subject that considers a variety of spaces of engagement around knowledge in Asia and Africa Linking Social and Ecological Systems Fikret Berkes, Carl Folke, Johan Colding, 2000-04-13 It is usually the case that scientists examine either ecological systems or social systems yet the need for an interdisciplinary approach to the problems of environmental management and sustainable development is becoming increasingly obvious Developed under the auspices of the Beijer Institute in Stockholm this new book analyses social and ecological linkages in selected ecosystems using an international and interdisciplinary case study approach The chapters provide detailed information on a variety of management practices for dealing with environmental change Taken as a whole the book will contribute to the greater understanding of essential social responses to changes in ecosystems including the generation accumulation and transmission of ecological knowledge structure and dynamics of institutions and the cultural values underlying these responses A set of new or rediscovered principles for sustainable ecosystem management is also presented Linking Social and Ecological Systems will be of value to natural and social scientists interested in sustainability
