Divided We Fall Alice M. Rivlin,Sheri Rivlin,Allan Rivlin,2022-10-04 Partisan warfare and gridlock in Washington threaten to squander America s opportunity to show the world that democracy can solve serious economic problems and ensure widely shared prosperity Instead of working together to meet the challenges ahead an aging work force exploding inequality climate change rising debt our elected leaders are sabotaging our economic future by blaming and demonizing each other in hopes of winning big in the next election They are weakening America s capacity for world leadership and the case for democracy here and abroad Alice M Rivlin with decades of experience in economic policy making argues that proven economic policies could lead to sustainable American prosperity and opportunity for all but crafting them requires the tough time consuming work of consensus building and bipartisan negotiation In a divided country with shifting majorities major policies must have bipartisan buy in and broad public support Otherwise we will have either destabilizing swings in policy or total gridlock in the face of challenges looming at us Rivlin believes that Americans can and must save our hyper partisan politicians from themselves She makes the case that on many practical economic issues the public is far less divided than partisan politicians and sensationalist media would have us believe She draws attention to numerous hopeful efforts to bridge partisan and ideological divides in Washington in state capitols and city governments and communities around the country and advocates a major national effort to enable citizens and future leaders to learn and practice the art of listening to each other and working together to find common ground This book is a practical guide for Americans across the political spectrum who are agonizing over partisan warfare incivility and policy gridlock and looking for ways they can help to get our democratic policy process back on a constructive track before it is too late Saving America's Great Places United States. The State of Conservation Joshua Nygren,2025-01-07 Saving Global Fisheries J. Samuel Barkin,Elizabeth R. DeSombre,2013 A proposal for a new global approach for fisheries focused on reducing fishing capacity and providing incentives for long term sustainability The Earth s oceans are overfished despite more than fifty years of cooperation among the world s fishing nations There are too many boats chasing too few fish In Saving Global Fisheries J Samuel Barkin and Elizabeth DeSombre analyze the problem of overfishing and offer a provocative proposal for a global regulatory and policy approach Existing patterns of international fisheries management try to limit the number of fish that can be caught while governments simultaneously subsidize increased fishing capacity focusing on fisheries as an industry to be developed rather than on fish as a resource to be conserved Regionally based international management means that protection in one area simply shifts fishing efforts to other species or regions Barkin and DeSombre argue that global rather than regional regulation is necessary for successful fisheries management and emphasize the need to reduce subsidies They propose an international system of individual transferable quotas that would give holders of permits an interest in the long term health of fish stocks and help create a sustainable level of fishing capacity globally Saving the White Lions Linda Tucker, 2013-05-07 In this captivating suspenseful memoir white lion conservationist Linda Tucker describes her perilous struggle to protect the sacred white lion from the merciless and mafia like trophy hunting industry armed only with her indomitable spirit and total devotion Her story begins in 1991 with a heart stopping misadventure in the Timbavati Reserve of South Africa Tucker then a successful advertising executive and a group of fellow travelers found themselves surrounded by a pride of angry lions There was no way out night had fallen and the battery in their only flashlight was beginning to flicker Miraculously a local medicine woman with two youngsters in tow passed tranquility and fearlessness through the lions and escorted them all to safety For Tucker that life threatening experience became a life changing one She abandoned her career left Europe and returned to Timbavati to track down the medicine woman who had saved her Maria Khosa Upon seeing Tucker again Khosa only smiled and said What took you so long She had been expecting her and there was so much to do Under Khosa's shamanic tutelage Tucker learned of her sacred destiny to be the keeper of the white lions believed to be angelic beings sent to Earth to save humanity at a time of crisis Khosa also prophesized that the queen of the white lions the embodiment of the mother of Ra the sun god would soon be born on a day and in a place considered holy by Westerners On December 25 2000 in the little South Africa town of Bethlehem a snowy white lion cub Marah was born From the moment of her first meeting with Marah Tucker's story immediately takes off into battle as she dedicates her every waking moment to prying Marah and her siblings from the grips of the trophy hunting industry Compellingly written in the intimate style of a journal Tucker describes with unflinching honesty her fears doubts hopes and dreams all the while unfolding for us an unforgettable tale of adventure romance spirituality and most of all justice Kansas History, 2002

Against Extinction William Mark Adams, 2013 Conservation in the 21st century needs to be different and this book is a good indicator of why Bulletin of British Ecological Society Against Extinction tells the history of wildlife conservation from its roots in the 19th century through the foundation of the Society for the Preservation of the Wild Fauna of the Empire in London in 1903 to the huge and diverse international movement of the present day It vividly portrays conservation's legacy of big game hunting the battles for the establishment of national parks the global importance of species conservation and debates over the sustainable use of and trade in wildlife Bill Adams addresses the big questions and ideas that have driven conservation for the last 100 years How can the diversity of life be maintained as human demands on the Earth expand seemingly without limit How can preservation be reconciled with human rights and the development needs of the poor Is conservation something that can be imposed by a knowledgeable elite or is it something that should emerge naturally from people's free choices. These have never been easy questions and they are as important in the 21st century as at any time in the past. The author takes us on a lively historical journey in search of the answers. Saving a Rainforest and Losing the World Gregory M. Thaler, 2024-02-27. An unflinching investigation of the false promises of land sparing exposing how its illusory successes mask the failures of green capitalism. For two decades the concept of land sparing the claim that agricultural intensification can spare land by preventing forest clearing for agricultural expansion has dominated tropical forest conservation. Land sparing policies transform landscapes and livelihoods with the promise of reconciling agricultural development with environmental conservation. But that land sparing promise is false. Based on six years of research on agrarian frontiers in Indonesia, Brazil, and Bolivia, this book traces where and how land sparing becomes policy and charts the social and ecological effects of these political contests. Gregory M. Thaler explains why land sparing appears successful in some places but not in others and reveals that success as an illusion achieved by displacing deforestation to new frontiers. The failure of land sparing exposes a harsh truth behind assurances of green capitalism: capitalist development is ecocide.

Who Can Be Saved? Terrance L. Tiessen, 2009-09-20 Throughout history millions have lived and died without hearing the gospel of Jesus Christ Despite vigorous missionary efforts large populations of the world today have never been evangelized And now religious pluralism has set up shop on Main Street The question Who can be saved forces itself on the minds of Christians like never before Is there a wideness in God's mercy Does God reveal himself in a way that invites all people to respond positively in saving faith Does one have to be an Arminian to believe so Or is there a way for Calvinists to see how God might reveal and save apart from the explicit gospel and yet exclusively through Jesus Christ And if so what does this say about the role of religions within the sovereign providence of God These are big questions requiring thoughtful care In this intriguing study Terrance L Tiessen reassesses the questions of salvation and the role of religions and offers a proposal that is biblically rooted theologically articulated and missiologically sensitive This is a book that will set new terms for the discussion of these important issues
