Young, 2012-12-06 Beginning is the hardest ITPment not because openers are all that scarce but because you're blowing into cracking a universe I Maurice Natanson openings are already directed toward closings The first question in presenting a body of work is where to cut in This is an especially difficult question since the cut in provides a perspective on what follows A cut is an angle of entry Wherever I enter from there a realm unfolds itself In that sense my angle of entry is my point of view A realm cut into has an orientation It evidences a hierarchy of importance relevance accessibility value or logic Its content is no longer neutral and equivalent From my perspective the realm is not only differentiated in substance but differential in significance There is a relation between angles and attitudes Where I look from is tied up with how I see The first cut opens out into a frame of reference What count as lines of evidence in that realm materialize along with its background expectancies its assumptions concentrations and confusions its cost/plogy quirks and enchantments Hence once I am committed to a perspective I am implicated in a methodology one possessed of puzzles of a certain shape ITPping toward solutions within its orthodoxy Openings are directed toward closings Another cut would open onto another realm The realm of events I cut into is a Taleworld inhabited by characters acting in their own space and time Home Leave Libby
