The Miseducation of English Learners Grace P. McField, 2014-01-01 Sometimes you need to hear the story from the beginning The Miseducation of English Learners examines the initial policy impact of Structured English Immersion SEI an English only program mandated for English Learners ELs in California Arizona and Massachusetts in the United States The book features analyses of the legal context and parameters of SEI research history on SEI SEI language policy and policy implementation according to situated context and the educational priorities and legal rights of ELs The book examines the history of SEI in the educational research literature and as it has been interpreted in the context of the legal requirement for schools to take appropriate action to meet the needs of ELs following the historic Lau v Nichols 1974 court decision The Miseducation of English Learners also presents and considers the implementation of SEI in comparative contexts from various perspectives including teacher education the classroom and legal In several of the chapters SEI implementation is examined in concert with other factors that have effected the teaching and progress of ELs such as Senate Bill 2042 2001 that overhauled the teacher education process in California and the federal No Child Left Behind legislation signed into law on January 8 2002 Moreover the book provides implications and recommendations for teaching research advocacy and policy change The Miseducation of English Learners addresses and invites the readers to consider the following key questions How appropriate is the mandated SEI program for ELs both in substance and in the one year duration as specified in the three voter initiated propositions Proposition 227 Proposition 203 and Question 2 What issues themes and patterns can be noted in the implementation of SEI in California Arizona and Massachusetts Why might the student outcomes not show the desired results in measures such as achievement test scores or dropout rates What necessary changes are called for in order to enhance or in some cases supplant the SEI programs and services in place for ELs Are ELs parents and other stakeholders able to thoughtfully select desired and optimal instructional programs and participate meaningfully in the educational process of language minority students under the SEI mandates

Corpus Applications in Applied Linguistics Ken Hyland, Chau Meng

Huat, Michael Handford, 2012-04-26 Demonstrates the importance of corpus research to applied linguistics covering a range of areas Future Research Directions for Applied Linguistics Simone E. Pfenninger, Judit Navracsics, 2017-01-19 This edited volume provides an overview of current thinking and directions for further research in applied linguistics by bringing together in a single volume a range of perspectives regarding original research agendas and innovative methodological approaches It focuses not only on the challenges that applied linguistics researchers have been facing in recent years but also on producing workable and productive research designs and on identifying ways of how alternatives to conventional research methodologies can be used Discussions featured in the volume include the so called Bilingual Advantage in psycho and neurolinguistics the optimal starting age debate in foreign language learning the growing interest among applied linguists in more nuanced and more complex statistical data analysis and the priority given to more descriptive and social approaches to linguistics rather than to theorising The collection will be a useful reference and stimulus for students researchers and professionals working in the areas of applied linguistics psycholinguistics second language acquisition and second language education Developmental and Crosslinguistic Perspectives in Learner Corpus Research Yukio Tono, Yuji Kawaguchi, Makoto Minegishi, 2012-03-28 This volume provides a state of the art overview of current research and developments on the use of learner corpora perceived from developmental and crosslinguistic perspectives The book is divided into two parts The eleven contributions of Part I investigate the development of English language skills of young learners across seven countries regions on the basis of a new corpus resource called the International Corpus of Crosslinguistic Interlanguage ICCI Part II contains seven papers devoted to other varieties of learner corpora especially spoken learner corpora and learner corpora of languages other than English Presenting original research in corpus linguistics this book will be of interest to researchers and postgraduates in the fields of learner corpus research and second language acquisition and those who wish to apply corpus methodology in teaching and learning For sale in all countries except Japan For customers in Japan please contact Yushodo Co Articles in English as a Second Language Justyna Leśniewska, 2019-06-02 The aim of this study is twofold firstly to provide an overview of research findings on the acquisition and use of articles in English as a second language secondly to investigate this issue from a phraseological perspective The book also presents an examination of various linguistic accounts of the English article system with respect to their application to English language teaching In view of the growing body of theoretical and empirical studies indicating that language use is to a considerable degree phraseologically motivated this book argues for a connection between formulaicity and correct article use This possibility is explored in two studies presented in the final chapter which suggest that correctness in the use of articles depends on the frequency of the phrases in which they appear These findings support the view that frequency driven conventionality in language may play a role in the acquisition and use of articles in L2 English This is a very important contribution to the discussion of the L2 acquisition of articles with particular regard to the L2 acquisition of English Such a discussion is required in view of the confusing variety of opinions expressed on this matter and the unsatisfactory nature of the pedagogical advice on offer to teachers of English as an L2 Dr Le niewska s study reviews the relevant literature interestingly and fully and it proposes an approach to article acquisition in L2 English which is long overdue Prof David Singleton Fellow Emeritus Trinity College
