Under Eastern Eyes Arnold McMillin, 1992-01-20 This collection of essays concerns perceptions of the West as reflected in the work of Russian writers of the Third Wave of emigration. The authors include several well-known writers such as Aksenov, Gladilin, Zinik, and Loseff, as well as Soviet and Western scholars, and the result is both varied and surprising in the light it throws on the Russian mentality, on the phenomenon of exile, and on aspects of the West. It will interest students of contemporary literature of the Soviet mentality and of exile in general.

Russian Jews on Three Continents Larissa Remennick, 2017-07-05 In the early 1990s, more than 1.6 million Jews from the former Soviet Union emigrated to Israel, the United States, Canada, Germany, and other Western countries. Larissa Remennick relates the saga of their encounter with the economic marketplace, lifestyles, and everyday cultures of their new homelands, drawing on comparative sociological research among Russian Jewish immigrants. Although citizens of Jewish origin ostensibly left the former Soviet Union to flee persecution and join their co religionists Israeli North American and German Jews were universally disappointed by the new arrivals tenuous Jewish identity In turn Russian Jews whose identity had been shaped by seventy years of secular education and assimilation into the Soviet mainstream hoped to be accepted as ambitious and hard working individuals seeking better lives These divergent expectations shaped lines of conflict between Russian speaking Jews and the Jewish communities of the receiving countries Since her own immigration to Israel from Moscow in 1991 Remennick has been both a participant and an observer of this saga This is the first attempt to compare resettlement and integration experiences of a single ethnic community former Soviet Jews in various global destinations It also analyzes their emerging transnational lifestyles Written from an interdisciplinary perspective this book opens new perspectives for a diverse readership including sociologists anthropologists political scientists historians Slavic scholars and Jewish studies specialists
