Louis Farrakhan Political Activist:

Jim McAvoy,2002-01-01      Southern Political Party Activists John Clark,2004-09-10 The South continues to be the most distinctive region in American politics Over the last half century Democratic dominance in the South has given way to the emergence of a truly competitive two party system that leans Republican in presidential elections In some ways the region is increasingly like the rest of the country yet even the degree of change and the speed with which it occurred give the South a distinctive air The contributors to Southern Political Party Activists examine both the development of American political party organizations and the changing political character of the South focusing on grassroots party activists those who are involved in party organizations at the county level John A Clark is associate professor of political science at Western Michigan University Charles L Prysby is professor of political science at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro

The Politics of Black Empowerment James Jennings,2000-01-08 The Politics of Black Empowerment uses the experiences of grassroots activists to develop various conceptualizations and explanations of Black political behavior today In analyzing Black politics since the late 1960s James Jennings focuses on both the behavioral aspects such as individual and group characteristics of voting and nonvoting and elections as well as more fundamental philosophical and cultural questions regarding Black politics This study examines how the traditional face of Black politics and electoral activism interacts with a growing progressive face of Black politics While traditional Black political activists seek access or political incorporation another group aims for power sharing The traditional approach is sometimes satisfied with merely replacing white politicians with Blacks but the progressive constituency focuses on fundamentally changing the whole economic and political pie Activists desirous of Black empowerment are pursuing a political and economic orientation that goes beyond programs based on access to American institutional arrangements and attempting to change or alter given political arrangements and social relations between Blacks and whites on the basis of changing the social structure and the distribution of wealth and power Based on interviews with Black and Latino activists in several big cities as well as on a review of the literature and the Black newspapers around the country The Politics of Black Empowerment describes the characteristics of Black empowerment activism in America      Louis Farrakhan Philip Koslow,Therese De Angelis,1997-08-01 A biography of the Afro American who dreamed of a career as a violinist before joining the Nation of Islam and rising in its ranks eventually becoming its leader
