Love In Chaos Spiritual Growth And The Search For Peace In Northern Ireland:

Love in Chaos Mary McAleese, 1999 In this work Mary McAleese shares her deepest beliefs about the way to lasting peace She provides a perspective on the origins of violence and also the painful cure for it She writes with the authority of a woman who has herself suffered sectarian violence but who has been actively involved for many years in the search for peace in Northern Ireland Her insights draw on deep religious faith the practice of meditation and the irrepressible hope that is born of these She illustrates her ideas with telling stories from her personal life and family as well as her political experience

Love in Chaos of Northern Ireland Mary McAleese, 1999 Folk Women and Indirection in Morrison, N Dhuibhne, Hurston, and Lavin Jacqueline Fulmer, 2017-11-30 Focusing on the lineage of pivotal African American and Irish women writers the author argues that these authors often employ strategies of indirection via folkloric expression when exploring unpopular topics This strategy holds the attention of readers who would otherwise reject the subject matter The author traces the line of descent from Mary Lavin to N Dhuibhne and from Zora Neale Hurston to Toni Morrison showing how obstacles to free expression though varying from those Lavin and Hurston faced are still encountered by Morrison and N Dhuibhne The basis for comparing these authors lies in the strategies of indirection they use as influenced by folklore The folkloric characters these authors depict wild denizens of the Otherworld and wise women of various traditions help their creators insert controversy into fiction in ways that charm rather than alienate readers Forms of rhetorical indirection that appear in the context of folklore such as signifying practices masking sly civility and the grotesque or bizarre come out of the mouths and actions of these writers magical and magisterial characters Old traditions can offer new ways of discussing issues such as sexual expression religious beliefs or issues of reproduction As differences between times and cultures affect what can and cannot be said folkloric indirection may open up a vista to discourses of which we as readers may not even be aware Finally the folk women of Morrison N Dhuibhne Hurston and Lavin open up new points of entry to the discussion of fiction rhetoric censorship and folklore

Love and Forgiveness for a More Just World Hent de Vries,Nils F. Schott,2015-11-03 One can love and not forgive or out of love decide not to forgive Or one can forgive but not love or choose to forgive but not love the ones forgiven Love and forgiveness follow parallel and largely independent paths a truth we fail to acknowledge when we pressure others to both love and forgive Individuals in conflict sparring social and ethnic groups warring religious communities and insecure nations often do not need to pursue love and forgiveness to achieve peace of mind and heart They need to remain attentive to the needs of others an alertness that prompts either love or forgiveness to respond By reorienting our perception of these enduring phenomena the contributors to this volume inspire new applications for love and forgiveness in an increasingly globalized and no longer quite secular world With contributions by the renowned French philosophers Jacques Derrida and Jean Luc Marion the poet Haleh Liza Gafari and scholars of religion Leora Batnitzky Nils F Schott Hent de Vries psychoanalysis Albert Mason Orna Ophir Islamic and political philosophy Sari Nusseibeh and the Bible and literature Regina Schwartz this anthology reconstructs the historical and conceptual lineage of love and forgiveness and their fraught relationship over time By examining how we have used and misused these concepts the authors advance a better understanding of their ability to unite different individuals and emerging groups around a shared engagement for freedom and equality peace and solidarity

Women of Power Torild Skard,2015-03-09 At a time when a woman Angela Merkel is arguably the most powerful leader in Europe and another Hilary Clinton continues to be at the center of the US political stage it seems that women have broken through the glass ceiling and begun to populate the highest offices of the political world Women of Power is a testament to that accomplishment offering the most comprehensive overview of female presidents and prime ministers to date Looking at over fifty countries and over seventy women leaders since 1960 Torild Skard herself an experienced politician examines how and why these women rose to the top and what their leadership has meant for women s empowerment throughout the latter half of the twentieth century Skard examines the achievements and life stories of the world s female leaders up to the current era She offers nuanced portraits that draw on a number of materials including many interviews that she conducted herself All of the women discussed are organized by both chronology and geography and Skard includes a number of helpful chapters that provide an overview and assessment of how different women leaders have come to power in different regions Overall the book provides a fascinating account of women s empowerment as it has manifested itself at the very top of the political hierarchy

Folk Women and Indirection in Morrison, N Dhuibhne, Hurston, and Lavin Jacqueline

Fulmer,2017-11-30 Focusing on the lineage of pivotal African American and Irish women writers the author argues that these authors often employ strategies of indirection via folkloric expression when exploring unpopular topics This strategy holds the attention of readers who would otherwise reject the subject matter The author traces the line of descent from Mary Lavin to N Dhuibhne and from Zora Neale Hurston to Toni Morrison showing how obstacles to free expression though varying from those Lavin and Hurston faced are still encountered by Morrison and N Dhuibhne The basis for comparing these authors lies in the strategies of indirection they use as influenced by folklore The folkloric characters these authors depict wild denizens of the Otherworld and wise women of various traditions help their creators insert controversy into fiction in ways that charm rather than alienate readers Forms of rhetorical indirection that appear in the context of folklore such as signifying practices masking sly civility and the grotesque or bizarre come out of the mouths and actions of these writers magical and magisterial characters Old traditions can offer new ways of discussing issues such as sexual expression religious beliefs or issues of reproduction As differences between times and cultures affect what can and cannot be said folkloric indirection may open up a vista to discourses of which we as readers may not even be aware Finally the folk women of Morrison N Dhuibhne Hurston and Lavin open up new points of entry to the discussion of fiction rhetoric censorship and folklore

Race and Reconciliation John B. Hatch, 2009-12-01 Hatch develops a robust rhetorical theory of reconciliation and applies it to contemporary national and global efforts to redress the racialized wounds and injustices created by slavery What emerges from this work is a profound vision for the prospects of meaningful reparation forgiveness and reconciliation in American race relations

Alternative Approaches in Conflict Resolution Christine Schliesser, Martin Leiner, 2025-02-24 In its second edition this extended and revised volume brings together alternative and innovative approaches in conflict resolution With traditional military intervention repeatedly contributing to instability and violence the study of alternative approaches has become imperative Can forgiveness help heal relationships in post apartheid South Africa How can art assist dealing with unrememberable events such as the genocide in Rwanda What transformational resources do women offer in contexts of massive human rights violations The aim of this edited volume is twofold to provide and encourage critical reflection of the approaches presented here and to explore concrete improvements in conflict resolution strategies In its interdisciplinary and international outlook this work combines the tried and tested approaches from conflict resolution experts in academia NGOs and civil society making it an invaluable tool for academics and practitioners alike

From Enlightenment to Rebellion James G. Buickerood, 2018-05-04 This book is a collection of essays and a short story written to honor Christopher Fox of Notre Dame arguably the most influential figure in Irish Studies for the past quarter century The essays address topics in which Professor Fox has made his own enduring scholarly contributions and subjects to which he has made enduring contributions through his academic leadership from the development of library collections and important fellowships at his university to the institution of a global community of scholars in Irish Studies The disciplines represented by the essays published here include English Literature Irish Literature Comparative Literature Medieval Studies

Librarianship History Intellectual History Irish Folklore Philosophy and Documentary Film Seven of the fifteen essays focus on topics at the intersection of Irish Studies and Eighteenth Century Studies Fox's own specialty They include studies of Edmund Burke's late career view of the free market and social justice the persistent influence of William Molyneux and Jonathan Swift in late eighteenth century Irish patriots political vision Swift's conception of neighborliness in his fiction and sermons the satirist's illnesses and their bearing on his social relationships the anthropogenic dimension of Alexander Pope's Dunciad the reception of Lucretius De rerum natura in the seventeenth and eighteenth century British Isles and an examination of the conception of the self in the philosophical work of John Locke and Charles Mein The remainder cover texts and issues such as the role of Continental influence on medieval Irish epic the relations of poets and lords in early modern Ireland perspectives on writers in Irish folklore and the relations of social class and linguistic change in the modern novel There is as well a pair of essays on the 1916 Dublin Easter Rising one examining the role of the theater in the participants' conceptions of that event the other discussing the creation of the award winning recent documentary series of which Fox was executive producer 1916 The Irish Rebellion The contributions open with a Forward by the former President of Ireland Mary McAleese and conclude with a new short story by the Irish novelist Patrick McCabe The book includes a Select Bibliography of the publications of Professor Fox and an Index Great Quotations on Religious Freedom Albert J. Menendez, 2010-12-30

This outstanding collection of memorable quotations on religious freedom the most comprehensive ever assembled covers many centuries of thought and a wide array of sources On every page the reader will discover a wealth of thoughtful wise and sometimes impassioned statements by all manner of men and women on a subject that has moved the consciences of generations from the distant past to the present Included are early church fathers Enlightenment philosophers popes anticlerical European statesmen journalists famous writers judges twenty six presidents of the United States and many others A special feature of this compilation is the inclusion of quotes from major judicial decisions from 1872 to the present that bear on religious liberty Above all these quotations show that an enormously wide spectrum of men and women of diverse religious social and political views have championed the principle of religious freedom Teachers scholars clergy legislators writers and anyone with an interest in this vital issue will benefit from the useful material in this superb volume
