

Mortar

The bricks below are all the same. Note the difference the colour of mortar makes to their appearance.

Crisp white mortar will add contrast and highlight the shape of each brick.

Natural grey mortar offers a softer, less intrusive look.

Use off white mortar to tone in with lighter bricks or a muted look with natural coloured bricks.

The traditional role of mortar is to bind bricks together. Today, mortar is a design tool that can accentuate exterior colour and form. Crisp white mortar, for example, will add contrast and highlight the shape of each brick, while off-white mortar offers a softer, less intrusive look. Be mindful that mortar colours will also vary depending on local sands. For example, natural grey in Brisbane would be different to natural grey in Rockhampton.

Colour matched mortar is also available, however you will need to check with your builder if it is an option.

Mortar Colour	Sand Colour	Consent Colour
Natural Grey	Pit Sand	Grey
Off White	White	Ivory
White	White	White

Once you've decided on the colour of the mortar, you should also consider the type of mortar joint to use, as each type has its own unique character.

Round Recessed Mortar Joints

These enhance the effect of the brickwork by emphasising the mechanical regularity and repetition. Best suited to textures like smoothface, relief and wirecut.

Flush Mortar Joint

When formed consistently, a Flush Mortar Joint makes the mortar the feature. Best suited to textures like smoothface, matte and relief.

Raised Mortar Joints

Raised Mortar Joints create an ever-changing shadow line for contrast and interest. Best suited to textures like sandblasts, smoothface and relief.
