

The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock by T.S. Eliot

S'io credesse che mia risposta fosse
A persona che mai tornasse al mondo,
Questa fiamma staria senza piu scosse.
Ma perciocche giammai di questo fondo
Non torno vivo alcun, s'i'odo il vero,
Senza tema d'infamia ti rispondo.

Let us go then, you and I,
When the evening is spread out against the sky
Like a patient etherized upon a table;
Let us go, through certain half-deserted streets,
The muttering retreats
Of restless nights in one-night cheap hotels
And sawdust restaurants with oyster-shells:
Streets that follow like a tedious argument
Of insidious intent
To lead you to an overwhelming question ...
Oh, do not ask, "What is it?"
Let us go and make our visit.

In the room the women come and go
Talking of Michelangelo.

The yellow fog that rubs its back upon the window-panes,

Rhythms of Feeling in Edward Lear, T. S. Eliot, and Stevie Smith Jasmine Jagger, 2022 Rich with unpublished material and detailed insight Rhythms of Feeling offers a new reading of three of the most celebrated poets Edward Lear T S Eliot and Stevie Smith Tracing exciting lines of interplay affinity and influence between these writers for the first time the book shifts the terms of critical debate on Lear Eliot and Smith and subtly reorients the traditional account of the genealogies of Modernism Going beyond a biographically framed close reading or a more general analysis framed by affect theory the volume traces these poets affective rhythms fits tears nerves to consider the way that poetics the mental and physical process of writing and reading and the ebbs and flows of their emotional weather might be in dialogue Attentive acute and often forensic the book broadens its reach to contemporary writers and medical accounts of creativity and cognition Alongside deep critical study this volume seeks to bring emotional intelligence to criticism finding ways of speaking lucidly and humanely about emotional and physical states that defy lucidity and stretch our sense of the human Provided by publisher

Pelias, 1999 Ronald J. Pelias is concerned with writing about performance from the everyday performative routines to the texts on stage He seeks to write performatively to offer poetic or aesthetic renderings of performance events in order to capture some sense of their nature In his quest for the spirit of theatrical performances in a collection of essays Pelias of course asks more of the written word than the word can deliver Yet the attempt is both desirable and necessary To discuss performance without some accounting for its essence as art he asserts is at best misleading at worst fraud Pelias divides his efforts to present performance events into three general categories Performing Every Day On Writing and Performing and Being a Witness As the title implies Performing Every Day focuses on performances ranging from the daily business of enacting roles to the telling of tales that make life meaningful It incorporates essays about the ongoing process of presenting oneself in everyday life the gender script that insists that men enact manly performances the classroom performances of teachers and students stories of gender class and race that mark identity and a performance installation entitled A Day's Talk which is a record of talk produced in a day's time accompanied by reflections about and responses to that talk On Writing and Performing examines the written script and performance practices It contains a description of a struggle between a writer and a performer as they protect their own interests an intimate look at an apprehensive performer a short play entitled The Audition which deals with what it means to be an actor a chronicle of performance process from the perspective of an actor and a brief essay on the nature of performance Being a Witness examines performance from the perspective of the audience and the director It includes essays on the experience of being an audience member viewing theatre in the context of New York City directing and being directed by actors bodies watching The DEF Comedy Jam and in the form of an interview some final reflections about working with performance for many years

Poetic Obligation Matthew G. Jenkins, 2008-04 Since at least the time of Plato's Republic the relationship between poetry and ethics has been troubled Through the prism of what has been called the new ethical criticism inspired by the work of Emmanuel Levinas G. Matthew Jenkins considers the works of Objectivists Black Mountain poets and Language poets in light of their full potential to reshape this ancient relationship American experimental poetry is usually read in either political or moral terms Poetic Obligation by contrast considers the poems of Louis Zukofsky Charles Reznikoff George Oppen Edward Dorn Robert Duncan Susan Howe and Lyn Hejinian in terms of the philosophical notion of ethical obligation to the Other in language Jenkins's historical trajectory enables him to consider the full breadth of ethical topics that have driven theoretical debate since the end of World War II This original approach establishes an ethical lineage in the works of twentieth century experimental poets creating a way to reconcile the breach between poetry and the issue of ethics in literature at large With implications for a host of social issues including ethnicity and immigration economic inequities and human rights Jenkins's imaginative reconciliation of poetry and ethics will provide stimulating reading for teachers and scholars of American literature as well as advocates and devotees of poetry in general Poetic Obligation marshals ample evidence that poetry matters and continues to speak to the important issues of our day

How to Teach American Literature Elizabeth McCallum Marlow, 2017-09-01 How does one keep classic books alive for young people today and teach them that literature is instructional and delightful How does the teacher foster a classroom environment that encourages student participation and promotes enjoyment so that teenagers learn to appreciate literary study More specifically how can teachers cover centuries of American literature with students who don't appreciate why they should read material written centuries ago about people and issues that appear to be irrelevant to life today in a language that seems esoteric The author of this series of high school teaching guides addresses these issues How to Teach American Literature A Practical Teaching Guide provides a detailed resource for teachers or anyone interested in an in depth study of the subject This second book in the series covers American literature from the Puritan era to contemporary works Included are suggestions for cultivating a love for literature teaching techniques detailed analyses of each work questions for review and test questions with suggested responses essay topics audiovisual aids classroom handouts and recommended books that enhance teaching The author emphasizes two basic reasons for teaching literature it is instructional and delightful This book provides a comprehensive methodology for teaching the subject that a teacher could apply to one years lesson plans without further investment in time Elizabeth McCallum Marlow has developed quality comprehensive guides for the teaching community based on her thirty five years of experience and her passion for literature Teaching professionals will find her tried and true practices to be invaluable Johnathan Arnold MBA M Ed D Ed Min Headmaster Covenant Christian Academy Cumming GA The Poems of T. Philosophy by Other Means Robert B. Pippin, 2021-05-11 Throughout his career Robert B Pippin has examined the relationship between philosophy and the arts With his writings on film literature and visual modernism he has shown that there are aesthetic objects that cannot be properly understood unless we acknowledge and reflect on the philosophical concerns that are integral to their meaning His latest book Philosophy by Other Means extends this trajectory offering a collection of essays that present profound considerations of philosophical issues in aesthetics alongside close readings of novels by Henry James Marcel Proust and J M Coetzee The arts hold a range of values and ambitions offering beauty playfulness and craftsmanship while deepening our mythologies and enriching the human experience Some works take on philosophical ambitions contributing to philosophy in ways that transcend the discipline s traditional analytic and discursive forms Pippin s claim is twofold criticism properly understood often requires a form of philosophical reflection and philosophy is impoverished if it is not informed by critical attention to aesthetic objects In the first part of the book he examines how philosophers like Kant Hegel and Adorno have considered the relationship between art and philosophy The second part of the book offers an exploration of how individual artworks might be considered forms of philosophical reflection Pippin demonstrates the importance of practicing philosophical criticism and shows how the arts can provide key insights that are out of reach for philosophy at least as traditionally understood

Similes, Puns and Counterfactuals in Literary

Narrative Jennifer Riddle Harding, 2017-04-21 In this study Jennifer Riddle Harding presents a cognitive analysis of three figures of speech that have readily identifiable forms similes puns and counterfactuals Harding argues that when deployed in literary narrative these forms have narrative functions such as the depiction of conscious experiences allegorical meanings and alternative plots uniquely developed by these more visible figures of speech Metaphors by contrast are often invisible in the formal structure of a text With a solid cognitive grounding Harding's approach emphasizes the relationship between figurative forms and narrative effects Harding demonstrates the literary functions of previously neglected figures of speech and the potential for a unified approach to a topic that crosses cognitive disciplines Her work has implications for the rhetorical approach to figures of speech for cognitive disciplines and for the studies of literature rhetoric and narrative

War Poets and Other Subjects Bernard Bergonzi, 2017-03-02 In the opening section of these related studies of modern literature Bernard Bergonzi considers the poetry and fiction of two World Wars including discussions of Wilfred Owen Richard Aldington's Death of a Hero Pat Barker's Regeneration and the poetry of the Desert War of the 1940s The second section deals with a number of prominent twentieth century authors Among other subjects it looks at Ford Madox Ford's The Good Soldier as a novel anticipating the Great War the treatment of memory in Orwell's Nineteen Eighty Four and aspects of the poetry of T S Eliot responding to arguments about its anti-Semitism The final section is on Catholic writers from Hopkins and Chesterton to Graham Greene and David Lodge The book continues Bergonzi's extensive career as a critic and literary historian of the modern period and takes a fresh look at the subjects of some of the earlier books such as Hopkins Eliot Wells and the literature of war
