Making Algeria French Colonialism In Bne 1870 19:

The Invention of Decolonization Todd Shepard, 2006 In this account of the Algerian War's effect on French political structures and notions of national identity Todd Shepard asserts that the separation of Algeria from France was truly a revolutionary event with lasting consequences for French social and political life For more than a century Algeria had been legally and administratively part of France after the bloody war that concluded in 1962 it was other its eight million Algerian residents deprived of French citizenship while hundreds of thousands of French pieds noirs were forced to return to a country that was never home This rupture violated the universalism that had been the essence of French republican theory since the late eighteenth century Shepard contends that because the amputation of Algeria from the French body politic was accomplished illegally and without explanation its repercussions are responsible for many of the racial and religious tensions that confront France today In portraying decolonization as an essential step in the inexorable tide of history the French state absolved itself of responsibility for the revolutionary change it was effecting It thereby turned its back not only on the French of Algeria Muslims in particular but also on its own republican principles and the 1958 Constitution From that point onward debates over assimilation identity and citizenship once focused on the Algerian province colony have troubled France itself In addition to grappling with questions of race citizenship national identity state institutions and political debate Shepard also addresses debates in Jewish history gender history and queer theory

The French Colonial Mind: Mental maps of empire and colonial encounters Martin Thomas, 2011-01-01 What made France into an imperialist nation ruler of a global empire with millions of dependent subjects overseas Historians have sought answers to this question in the nation's political situation at home and abroad its socioeconomic circumstances and its international ambitions But all these motivating factors depended on other less tangible forces namely the prevailing attitudes of the day and their influence among those charged with acquiring or administering a colonial empire The French Colonial Mind explores these mindsets to illuminate the nature of French imperialism The first of two linked volumes Mental Maps of Empire and Colonial Encounters brings together fifteen leading scholars of French colonial history to investigate the origins and outcomes of imperialist ideas among France's most influential empire makers Considering French colonial experiences in

Africa and Southeast Asia the authors identify the processes that made Frenchmen and women into ardent imperialists By focusing on attitudes presumptions and prejudices these essays connect the derivation of ideas about empire colonized peoples and concepts of civilization with the forms and practices of French imperialism in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The contributors to The French Colonial Mind place the formation and the derivation of colonialist thinking at the heart of this history of imperialism

Russian Colonial Society in Tashkent, 1865--1923 Jeff Sahadeo,2007-02-07 This intensively researched urban study dissects Russian Imperial and early Soviet rule in Islamic Central Asia from the diverse viewpoints of tsarist functionaries Soviet bureaucrats Russian workers and lower class women as well as Muslim notables and Central Asian traders Jeff Sahadeo s stimulating analysis reveals how political social cultural and demographic shifts altered the nature of this colonial community from the tsarist conquest of 1865 to 1923 when Bolshevik authorities subjected the region to strict Soviet rule In addition to placing the building of empire in Tashkent within a broader European context Sahadeo s account makes an important contribution to understanding the cultural impact of empire on Russia s periphery

The Wars of French Decolonization Anthony Clayton,2014-06-06 This ambitious survey draws together the two major wars of decolonization fought by France in Indochina and Algeria as well as the lesser but far from insignificant military operations in Madagascar Tunisia and Morocco into a single integrated account It examines traditional French attitudes to empire and how these changed under the pressure of events the military operations themselves the collapse of the Fourth Republic and the return of de Gaulle and the final drama of French withdrawal from Algeria and the ethnic cleansing of its European settler population

Great Land Rush and the Making of the Modern World, 1650-1900 John C. Weaver,2003-04-24 He also underscores the tragic history of the indigenous peoples of these regions and shoes how they came to lose possession of their land to newly formed governments made up of Europeans with European interests at heart Weaver shows that the enormous efforts involved in defining and registering large numbers of newly carved out parcels of property for reallocation during the Great Land Rush were instrumental in the emergence of much stronger concepts of property rights and argues that this period was marked by a complete disregard for previous notions of restraint on dreams of unlimited material possibility Today while the traditional forms of colonization that marked the Great Land Rush are no longer practiced by the European powers and their progeny in the new world the legacy of this period can be seen in the western powers insatiable thirst for economic growth including newer forms of economic colonization of underdeveloped countries and a continuing evolution of the concepts of property rights including the development and increasing growth in importance of intellectual property rights

The Sober Revolution Joseph Bohling,2018-12-15 Burgundy Bordeaux Champagne The names of these and other French regions bring to mind time honored winemaking practices Yet the link between wine and place in French known as terroir was not a given In The Sober Revolution Joseph Bohling inverts our understanding of French wine history by revealing a modern connection between wine and place one with profound ties to such diverse and sometimes unlikely issues as alcoholism drunk driving regional tourism Algeria's independence from French rule and integration into the European Economic Community In the 1930s cheap mass produced wines from the Languedoc region of southern France and French Algeria dominated French markets Artisanal wine producers worried about the impact of these inferior products on the reputation of their wines created a system of regional appellation labeling to reform the industry in their favor by linking quality to the place of origin At the same time the loss of Algeria once the world's largest wine exporter forced the industry to rethink wine production Over several decades appellation producers were joined by technocrats public health activists tourism boosters and other dynamic economic actors who blamed cheap industrial wine for hindering efforts to modernize France Today scholars food activists and wine enthusiasts see the appellation system as a counterweight to globalization and industrial food But as The Sober Revolution reveals French efforts to localize wine and integrate into global markets were not antagonistic but instead mutually dependent The time honored winemaking practices that we associate with a pastoral vision of traditional France were in fact a strategy deployed by the wine industry to meet the challenges and opportunities of the post 1945 international economy France s luxury wine producers were more market savvy than we realize Russia's Orient Daniel R. History's Place Seth Graebner,2007-01-01 History s Place explores nostalgia as one of the defining aspects of the relationship between France and North Africa Dr Seth Graebner argues that France s most important colony developed a historical consciousness through literature and that post colonial writers revised it while retaining its dominant effect

Beyond the Frame Deborah Cherry,2000 Beyond the Frame rewrites the history of Victorian art to explore the relationships between feminism and visual culture in a period of heady excitement and political struggle Artists were caught up in campaigns for women s enfranchisement education and paid work and many were drawn into controversies about sexuality This richly documented and compelling study considers painting sculpture prints photography embroidery and comic drawings as well as major styles such as Pre Raphaelitism Neo Classicism and Orientalism Drawing on critical theory and post colonial studies to analyse the links between visual media modernity and imperialism Deborah Cherry argues that visual culture and feminism were intimately connected to the relations of power Empire and Culture M.

Evans,2004-07-30 By 1931 the time of the huge Colonial Exhibition in Paris France had the second largest empire in the world extending to the four corners of the globe Yet intriguingly the multi various impact of the empire upon French culture and society has been largely ignored by historians This volume aims to redress this balance and will explore how the idea of empire was expressed in film photography painting and monuments It analyzes how the image of the universal civilising mission saturated French society during the first half of the Twentieth century In particular it examines how the subject peoples of the empire were represented in art and fiction In this way the volume underlines that there was not just one single image of empire but many ranging from the extreme right to the extreme left It contains an in depth consideration not just of the triumphalist images of empire but the oppositional ones most notably the surrealists which directly challenged the emergent colonial consensus Ethnicity and International Law Mohammad Shahabuddin,2016-04-06 An historical analysis of how ethnicity shaped international law and why it is relevant to minorities and ethnic conflicts today Guest Workers or Colonized Labor? GilbertG. Gonzalez,2017-07-05 While a few commentators have recognized the parallels of the guest worker programs for Mexican immigrants to the United States to the bracero policies early in the 20th century fewer still connect those policies to traditional forms of colonial labor exploitation such as that practiced respectively by the British and French colonial regimes in In Building in China Jeffrey W Cody, 2021-01-15 Building in China is about striking an architectural balance between the pull of monumental tradition and the push of technological novelty Centering on the dynamic period of post imperial and pre Communist China the book focuses on the building and city planning initiatives of Henry Murphy a little known American architect who initially ventured to China in 1914 to design a campus for the Yale in China programme but who then found himself captivated by a professional and cultural challenge that lasted two decades how to preserve China s rich architectural traditions while also designing new buildings using up to date Western technologies Murphy s buildings were compromises wine in old bottles as he once called them and the book uses those tles as lenses through which to understand not only Murphy s quest to find a middle ground for his architecture in China but also to gaze at a tumultuous society facing an uncertain future Murphy s buildings were more than vessels for either aesthetic visions or technical expertise inadvertently they became political emblems as Chinese rulers such as Chiang Kai shek and Sun Yat sen s son called on Murphy for city planning advice to complement their hopes for urban reconstruction There are few serious studies of Western architects in the twentieth century who practiced in non Western contexts and those scant studies that have been published concentrate largely on British French or Dutch examples in colonial settings Hence the book makes significant contributions to the fields of both American and Chinese architectural history
