Making Capitalism Without Capitalists Gil Eyal, Ivan Szelenyi, Eleanor R. Townsley, 2000 Explores class formation and elite struggles in post communist Central Europe Making Capitalism Without Capitalists Gil Eyal, Iván Szelényi, Eleanor R. Townsley, 1998 Making Capitalism without Capitalists offers a new theory of the transition to capitalism By telling the story of how capitalism is being built without capitalists in post communist Central Europe it guides us towards a deeper understanding of the origins of modern capitalism Capitalist Diversity on Europe's Periphery Dorothee Bohle, Bela Greskovits, 2012-08-15 With the collapse of the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance in 1991 the Eastern European nations of the former socialist bloc had to figure out their newly capitalist future Capitalism they found was not a single set of political economic relations Rather they each had to decide what sort of capitalist nation to become In Capitalist Diversity on Europe's Periphery Dorothee Bohle and Bela Greskovits trace the form that capitalism took in each country the assets and liabilities left behind by socialism the transformational strategies embraced by political and technocratic elites and the influence of transnational actors and institutions They also evaluate the impact of three regional shocks the recession of the early 1990s the rolling global financial crisis that started in July 1997 and the political shocks that attended EU enlargement in 2004 Bohle and Greskovits show that the postsocialist states have established three basic variants of capitalist political economy neoliberal embedded neoliberal and neocorporatist The Baltic states followed a neoliberal prescription low controls on capital open markets reduced provisions for social welfare The larger states of central and eastern Europe Poland Hungary and the Czech and Slovak republics have used foreign investment to stimulate export industries but retained social welfare regimes and substantial government power to enforce industrial policy Slovenia has proved to be an outlier successfully mixing competitive industries and neocorporatist social inclusion Bohle and Greskovits also describe the political contention over such arrangements in Romania Bulgaria and Croatia A highly original and theoretically sophisticated typology of capitalism in postsocialist Europe this book is unique in the breadth and depth of its conceptually coherent and empirically rich comparative analysis Inventing the Needy Lynne Haney, 2002-06-03 In her beautifully written deeply researched and elegantly argued book Lynne Haney shows how much American policy makers can learn from Hungary's social welfare experience By unpacking the very different strategies that Hungary has adopted during the past half century Haney's account illuminates basic policy choices about how a society any society addresses the problems of poverty It makes indispensable reading for those on both sides of the Atlantic who care about the lives of the poor David Kirp author of Gender Justice Inventing the Needy is a theoretically engaged and methodologically innovative ethnography of Hungarian welfare regimes from 1948 to 1996 Studying the state from below her multi layered and multi sited analysis of the transformations in state policies and institutional practices and their effects on everyday life is an important contribution to comparative studies of welfare states the social construction of the materialization and materialization of need as well as to critical socialist postsocialist and feminist studies Well written lucidly argued thoughtful and thought provoking Gail Kligman author of The Politics of Duplicity Controlling Reproduction in Ceausescu's Romania Inventing the Needy stands at the forefront of a new generation of revisionist scholarship It dispenses with the sharp dichotomies of capitalism and communism and forsakes triumphal interpretations of the transition to the free market and liberal democracy Looking at Hungary through the eyes of women and their experiences with successive welfare regimes Lynne Haney offers a more balanced and variegated picture of the state socialist past and a more sober account of the capitalist present Inventing the Needy is a brilliant combination of ethnography history and theory Michael Burawoy co author of Global Ethnography Forces Connections and Imaginations in a Postmodern World Lynne Haney's provocative original and altogether brilliant study of welfare restructuring in Hungary in the wake of 1989 challenges us to rethink gender states and social policies in both east and west while providing essential conceptual tools for doing so Ann Shola Orloff coauthor of States Markets Families Gender Liberalism and Social Policy in Australia Canada Great Britain and the United States This important book engages the central issue sociology faces after the fall of communism Inventing the Needy is a careful empirically well documented and beautifully written analysis of the Hungarian welfare system during and after socialism Haney shows that a critical analysis of capitalism is possible from the perspective of a socialist alternative even today She challenges transitologists who often contrast an idealized capitalist present with a homogeneous and negative view of socialism This book is a must for those interested in theoretical debates about socialism and capitalism and in the welfare state and gender relations under and after socialism Ivan Szelenyi author of Privatizing the Land Rural Political Economy in Post Communist and Socialist Societies and co author of Making Capitalism without Capitalists Class Formation and Elite Struggles in Post Communist Central Europe China's Domestic Private Firms: Anne S. Ambiguous Transitions Jill Massino, 2019-07-30 Focusing on youth family work and consumption Ambiguous Transitions analyzes the interplay between gender and citizenship postwar Romania By juxtaposing official sources with oral histories and socialist policies with everyday practices Jill Massino illuminates the gendered dimensions of socialist modernization and its complex effects on women's roles relationships and identities Analyzing women as subjects and agents the book examines how they negotiated the challenges that arose as Romanian society modernized even as it clung to traditional ideas about gender Massino concludes by exploring the ambiguities of postsocialism highlighting how the legacies of the past have shaped politics and women's lived experiences since 1989

Lustration and Transitional Justice Roman David, 2011-09-21 How do transitional democracies deal with officials who have been tainted by complicity with prior governments Should they be excluded or should they be incorporated into the new system In Lustration and Transitional Justice Roman David examines major institutional innovations that developed in Central Europe following the collapse of communist regimes While the Czech Republic approved a lustration vetting law based on the traditional method of dismissals Hungary and Poland devised alternative models that granted their tainted officials a second chance in exchange for truth David classifies personnel systems as exclusive inclusive and reconciliatory they are based on dismissal exposure and confession respectively and they represent three major classes of transitional justice David argues that in addition to their immediate purposes personnel systems carry symbolic meanings that help explain their origin and shape their effects In their effort to purify public life personnel systems send different ideological messages that affect trust in government and the social standing of former adversaries Exclusive systems may establish trust at the expense of reconciliation while inclusive and reconciliatory systems may promote both trust and reconciliation In spite of its importance the topic of inherited personnel has received only limited attention in research on transitional justice and democratization Lustration and Transitional Justice is the first attempt to fill this gap Combining insights from cultural sociology and political psychology with the analysis of original experiments historical surveys parliamentary debates and interviews the book shows how perceptions of tainted personnel affected the origin of lustration systems and how dismissal exposure and confession affected trust in government reconciliation and collective memory Radical Political Economy: A Concise Introduction Charles A. The Transnational Politics of Corporate Governance Regulation Henk

Overbeek, Bastiaan van Apeldoorn, Andreas Nölke, 2007-04-30 This ambitious volume explores the politics of recent changes in corporate governance regulation and the transnational forces driving the process Corporate governance has in the 1990s become a catchphrase of the global business community The Enron collapse and other recent corporate scandals as well as growing worries in Europe about the rise of Anglo Saxon finance have made issues of corporate governance the subject of political controversies and of public debate The contributors argue that the regulation of corporate governance is an inherently political affair Given the context of the deepening globalization of the corporate world it is also increasingly a transnational phenomenon In terms of the content of regulation the book shows an increasing reliance on the application of market mechanisms and a tendency for corporations themselves to become commodities The emerging new mode of regulation is characterized by increasing informalization and by forms of private regulation These changes in content and mode are driven by transnational actors first of all the owners of internationally mobile financial capital and their functionaries such as coordination service firms as well as by key public international agencies such as the European Commission The Transnational Politics of Corporate Governance Regulation will be of interest to students and researchers of international political economy politics economics and corporate governance

Constructing the Limits of Europe

Rumena Filipova, 2022-04-30 This comparative study harks back to the revolutionary year of 1989 and asks two critical questions about the resulting reconfiguration of Europe in the aftermath of the collapse of communism Why did Central and East European states display such divergent outcomes of their socio political transitions Why did three of those states Poland Bulgaria and Russia differ so starkly in terms of the pace and extent of their integration into Europe Rumena Filipova argues that Poland s Bulgaria s and Russia s dominating conceptions of national identity have principally shaped these countries foreign policy behavior after 1989 Such an explanation of these three nations diverging degrees of Europeanization stands in contrast to institutionalist rationalist interest based accounts of democratic transition and international integration in post communist Europe She thereby makes a case for the need to include ideational factors into the study of International Relations and demonstrates that identities are not easily malleable and may not be as fluid as often assumed She proposes a theoretical middle ground argument that calls for qualified post positivism as an integrated perspective that combines positivist and post positivist orientations in the study of IR
