Making Of Britain 2 Life Work Between:

Anglo-Chinese Encounters Before the Opium War Xin Liu, 2022-08-12 Anglo Chinese Encounters Before the Opium War A Tale of Two Empires Over Two Centuries studies the fascinating encounters between the two historic empires from Queen Elizabeth I's first letter to the Ming Emperor Wanli in 1583 to Lord Palmerston's letter to the Minister of China in 1840. Starting with Queen Elizabeth I's letter to the Chinese Emperor and ending with the letter from Lord Palmerston to the Minister of China just before the Opium War, this book explores the long journey in between from cultural diplomacy to gunboat diplomacy. It interweaves the most known diplomatic efforts at the official level with the much unknown intellectual interactions at the people-to-people level from missionaries to scholars from merchants to travelers and from artists to scientists. This book adopts a novel mirror approach by pairing and comparing people, texts, commodities, artworks, architecture, ideologies, operating systems, and world views of the two empires. Using letters, gifts, and traded goods as fulcrums and by adopting these unique lenses, it puts China into the world history narratives to contextualise Anglo-Chinese relations, thus providing a fresh analysis of the surviving evidence. Xin Liu casts a new light on understanding the Sino-centric and Anglo-centric world views in driving the complex relations between the two empires and the reversals of power shifts that are still unfolding today. The book is not intended for specialists in history but a general audience wishing to learn more about China's historical engagement with the world. The Salem Witch Trials Marilynne K. Roach, 2004 The Salem Witch Trials is based on over twenty-five years of archival research, including the author's discovery of previously unknown documents, newly found cases, and court records. From January 1692 to January 1697, this history unfolds a nearly day-by-day narrative of the crisis as the citizens of New England experienced it. Teaching History, 1969, Navigating the Return-to-Work Experience for New Parents Maria Karanika-Murray, Cary Cooper, 2020-02-18 Parenthood can be one of the most fulfilling, altering, and challenging life events. This book is set within the background of the reality of many parents' return to work, experience the task of re-engaging with work and maintaining a job or a career, and the difficulties that parenthood poses for balancing the demands of a new family with the demands of work. It helps us understand this reality, give voice to new parents, and offer relief in the knowledge that we know a lot about these challenges and most importantly how we can start to address them. The book brings together a number of internationally recognized experts from research, practice, and policy to explore the issues and offer evidence-based solutions around return to work after having children. It takes a balanced approach to theory and practice to cover topics such as equality, stereotypes, work-family conflict, training, and development, and workplace culture, among others, whilst integrating research and policy and illustrating learnings with case studies from parents and examples from countries that lead the way. It will appeal to parents, researchers, and employers in any sector or economy across the world. Ultimately, it will help develop ways for new parents to re-engage with work successfully while maintaining their work-family well-being. The Making of Women Trade Unionists Gill Kirton, 2017-03-02

In what will be essential reading for all industrial relations scholars Gill Kirton considers the social construction of women's trade union participation in the context of male dominated trade unions Exploring the making and progress of women's trade union careers this book locates the issues within the context of their experiences of three interlocking social institutions the union work and family The book examines how and why women embark on trade union careers the social processes which shape women's gender and union identities and the combined influences of union work family contexts on the trajectory of women's union careers Additionally the book offers a historical overview of the development of women's trade union education and separate organizing with original analysis and historical data

Struggling With The System: The case for UK welfare reform Moussa Haddad, The Making of Sporting Cultures John Hughson, 2013-09-13 The Making of Sporting Cultures presents an analysis of western sport by examining how the collective passions and feelings of people have contributed to the making of sport as a way of life The popularity of sport is so pronounced in some cases that we speak of certain sports as national pastimes Baseball in the United States soccer in Britain and cricket in the Caribbean are among the relevant examples discussed Rather than regarding the historical development of sport as the outcome of passive spectator reception this work is interested in how sporting cultures have been made and developed over time through the active engagement of its enthusiasts This is to study the history of sport not only from below but also from within as a means to understanding the deep relationship between sport and people within class contexts the middle class as well as the working class Contestation over the making of sport along axes of race gender and class are discussed where relevant A range of cultural writers and theorists are examined in regard to both how their writing can help us understand the making of sport and as to how sport might be located within an overall cultural context in different places and times The book will appeal to students and academics within humanities disciplines such as cultural studies history and sociology and to those in sport studies programmes interested in the historical cultural and social aspects of sport This book was published as a special issue of Sport in Society

The Making of Indian English Literature Subhendu Mund, 2021-07-08 The Making of Indian English Literature brings together seventeen well researched essays of Subhendu Mund with a long introduction by the author historicising the development of the Indian writing in English while exploring its identity among the many appellations tagged to it The volume demonstrates contrary to popular perceptions that before the official introduction of English education in India Indians had already tried their hands in nearly all forms of literature poetry fiction drama essay biography autobiography book review literary criticism and travel writing Besides translation activities Indians had also started editing and publishing periodicals in English before 1835 Through archival research the author brings to discussion a number of unknown and less discussed texts which contributed to the development of the genre The work includes exclusive essays on such early poets and writers as Kylas Chunder Dutt Shoshee Chunder Dutt Toru Dutt Mirza Moorad Alee Beg Krupabai Saththianadhan Swami Vivekananda H Dutt and Sita Chatterjee and historiographical studies on the various aspects of the genre The author also examines the strategies used by the early writers to indianise the western language and the form of the novel The present volume also demonstrates how from the very beginning Indian writing in English had a subtle nationalist agenda and created a space for protest literature The Making of Indian English Literature will prove an invaluable addition to the studies in Indian writing in English as a source of reference and motivation for further research Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka
