Manjunath Pendakur,1990 A history of the Canadian film industry from its inception to 1980s providing a chronological record of the conflicting priorities between American capital which seeks to shape the Canadian film industry to its own image and Canada's stated goal which is to serve the Canadian people with films autonomously conceived produced and exhibited

Making Crime Television Anita Lam,2013-10-15 This book employs actor network theory in order to examine how representations of crime are produced for contemporary prime time television dramas As a unique examination of the production of contemporary crime television dramas particularly their writing process Making Crime Television Producing Entertaining Representations of Crime for Television Broadcast examines not only the semiotic relations between ideas about crime but the material conditions under which those meanings are formulated Using ethnographic and interview data Anita Lam considers how textual representations of crime are assembled by various people including writers directors technical consultants and network executives technologies screenwriting software and whiteboards and texts newspaper articles and rival crime dramas The emerging analysis does not project but instead concretely examines what and how television writers and producers know about crime law and policing An adequate understanding of the representation of crime it is maintained cannot be limited to a content analysis that treats the representation as a final product Rather a television representation of crime must be seen as the result of a particular assemblage of logics people creative ideas commercial interests legal requirements and broadcasting networks A fascinating investigation into the relationship between television production crime and the law this book is an accessible and well researched resource for students and scholars of Law Media and Criminology

Making Public Pasts Alan Gordon,2001 It conscripts historical events in a bid to guide shared memories into a coherent narrative that helps individuals negotiate their place in broader collective identities The contest over public memories involves an exclusiveness that packages other according to the ideological preferences of the dominant cultures Gordon shows that in Montreal ethnic class and gender voices strove to stake their own claims to legitimacy

BOOK JACKET
Over-Time Bob Falconi,2020-11-30 In today's sport's world the modern day athlete has attained rock star status To those who are legends and well deserving of their status we give accolades All too often however we hear about those who cheat use illegal drugs or disrespect their fans their teammates and the game itself What is happening in the sports world Does no one still play for the love of the game anymore Fortunately the answer to that question is Yes There is a group of men in Canada who in 2019 played hockey together for 50 years They are one of Canada's oldest non professional affiliate or school team in Canadian history While they do not get paid there is no fanfare and they do not enjoy celebrity status they have achieved a level of distinction in hockey that in all likelihood will never be attained again Ironically they named themselves

the Rebels and they have blazed a path where no hockey team has gone before Just for the love of the game The book follows their path and delves into the elements of their success Most adult teams of this nature last an average of three years so what drove these guys What motivated them What did they have that made them so special in Canada s game How did they compete and continue to win year after year It s a magical story If you are tired of the antics of some of the modern day athletes this is a story that needs to be heard Family Matters Rohinton Mistry,2011-02-18 Set in Bombay in the mid 1990s Family Matters tells a story of familial love and obligation of personal and political corruption of the demands of tradition and the possibilities for compassion Nariman Vakeel the patriarch of a small discordant family is beset by Parkinson s and haunted by memories of his past He lives with his two middle aged stepchildren Coomy bitter and domineering and her brother Jal mild mannered and acquiescent But the burden of the illness worsens the already strained family relationships Soon their sweet tempered half sister Roxana is forced to assume sole responsibility for her bedridden father And Roxana s husband besieged by financial worries devises a scheme of deception involving his eccentric employer at a sporting goods store setting in motion a series of events that leads to the narrative s moving outcome Family Matters has all the richness the gentle humour and the narrative sweep that have earned Mistry the highest of accolades around the world Canada

Immigration 101 Sage Graystone,2024-10-05 Canada Immigration 101 offers a comprehensive guide to navigating the complex process of immigrating to Canada This essential resource explores the country s points based Express Entry system provincial nomination programs and the socio economic landscape awaiting newcomers The book argues that successful immigration requires a strategic approach based on thorough preparation and understanding of the system Readers are guided through the entire immigration journey from assessing eligibility to preparing for life in Canada The book s user centric approach sets it apart providing actionable strategies and decision making frameworks rather than simply listing rules and requirements It draws on official government data case studies and expert interviews to support its arguments while also incorporating unique data visualizations to make complex statistics accessible Canada Immigration 101 strikes a balance between authoritative and approachable writing using clear language and real life examples to engage readers It addresses ongoing debates in Canadian immigration policy such as the balance between economic and family class immigration and the challenges of immigrant integration in smaller communities By presenting these issues objectively the book equips readers with the knowledge and tools needed to pursue their Canadian dream with confidence and clarity

You Can't Make "Fish Climb Trees" Lawrence Muganga,2018-08-02 In our rapidly changing global environment where learning methods styles and access vary dramatically it is increasingly necessary to stimulate conversation around drastically revolutionizing education In You Can t Make a Fish Climb Trees Overcoming Educational Malpractice through Authentic Learning author and scholar Lawrence Muganga advocates for educational transformation and exposes our archaic education systems modeled for nineteenth century Europe which has allowed governments and administrators to structure and deliver education as if it were an assembly line The current model largely discounts students individual differences and natural abilities impacting their ability to transition from the classroom into the workforce While he focuses on the need for more dynamic education models in Sub Saharan Africa Muganga establishes applications for the presence of Authentic Learning where teaching happens in a student centered environment filled with real world applications throughout the global community Drawing from the research of educational experts worldwide he advocates for the kind of revolutionized education model that would see students individuality used to empower them so that they can navigate their future and the workforce successfully Programming Reality Zoë Druick,Aspa Kotsopoulos,2008-08-01 Programming Reality

Perspectives on English Canadian Television the first anthology dedicated to analyses of Canadian television content is a collection of original interdisciplinary articles combining textual analysis and political economy of communications It explores the television that has thrived in the Canadian regulatory and cultural context namely programs that straddle the border between reality and fiction or even blur it The conceptual basis of this collection is the hybrid nature of television fare the widely theorized notion that all mediations of reality involve fiction in the form of narrative or symbolic shaping Each of the contributions here is a reminder too of the significant relationship of television to nation building in Canada to the imaginative work involved in thinking through the relations that constitute nations citizens and communities The collection focuses on English language Canadian television because the imperatives guiding its texts are markedly different from those pertaining to their French language counterparts The collection therefore develops a nuance of perspective on the cultural and political economic specificities that inform the imaginative work of television production for English Canada So

Governing with the Charter James B. Kelly, 2011-11-01 Since the introduction of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms in 1982 the question of judicial power and its relationship to parliamentary democracy has been an important one in Canadian politics Some critics suspicious of what they perceive as the activism of unelected and unaccountable judges view the increased power of the Supreme Court as a direct challenge to parliament But has parliamentary democracy been weakened by judicial responses to the Charter In Governing with the Charter James Kelly clearly demonstrates that our current democratic deficit is not the result of the Supreme Court s judicial activism On the contrary an activist framers intent surrounds the Charter and the Supreme Court has simply and appropriately responded to this new constitutional environment While the Supreme Court is admittedly a political actor it is not the sole interpreter of the Charter as the court the cabinet and bureaucracy all respond to the document which has ensured the proper functioning of constitutional supremacy in Canada Kelly analyzes the parliamentary hearings on the Charter and also draws from interviews with public servants senators and members of parliament actively involved in appraising legislation to ensure that it is consistent with the Charter He concludes that the principal institutional outcome of the Charter has been a marginalization of Parliament and that this is due to the Prime Minister s decision on how to govern with the Charter A significant contribution to law and society studies Governing with the Charter will be widely read by political scientists legal scholars parliamentarians public servants and students of the machinery of government Canadian Essays and Collection Index Canadian Library Association, 1976

The Role of University Governing Boards in Canadian Higher Education Dominik Antonowicz, Glen A. Jones, 2023-11-24 This book explores the historical and social foundations of Canadian higher education and provides a detailed analysis of university boards within this broader context of university governance By examining rich empirical data from a sociological perspective it offers unique insights into the role of boards and the structures and practices that frame their work It explores board composition the professional backgrounds of board members how members perceive their role and the complex relationships between the board and the university president The authors also compare and contrast the Canadian experience with governance reforms in Europe and other regions over recent decades Drawing on multiple theoretical perspectives the authors provide a nuanced analysis of the role of boards in terms of oversight protecting university autonomy representing societal interests and dealing with increasing complexity and expectations This innovative original study makes an enormous contribution to our understanding of the role and work of Canadian university boards and to international scholarship on higher education governance It will appeal to scholars and researchers with interests across higher education international and comparative education and the sociology of education
