Conflicted Mission Linda M. Clemmons, 2014 From the mid 1830s to the 1860s the missionaries sent to Minnesota by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions ABCFM wrote thousands of letters to their supervisors and supporters claiming success in converting the Dakota people But author Linda M Clemmons reveals that the reality of the situation was far more conflicted than what those written records would suggest In fact in the rough Minnesota territory missionaries often found themselves looking to the Dakota for support The missionaries and their wives struggled to define what it meant to convert and civilize Dakota people And although many scholars depict missionaries as working hand in hand with the federal government Clemmons reveals discord over the Dakota people s treatment especially after the U S Dakota War of 1862 when many missionaries spoke out against exile The missionaries found that work with the Dakota was rarely as heroic romantic or successful as what they read about in the evangelical press but at the same time they themselves painted a rosier picture of their own work 38 Nooses Scott W. Berg, 2013-09-10 A Kirkus Reviews Best Book of the Year In August 1862 after suffering decades of hardship broken treaties and relentless encroachment on their land the Dakota leader Little Crow reluctantly agreed that his people must go to war After six weeks of fighting the uprising was smashed thousands of Indians were taken prisoner by the US army and 303 Dakotas were sentenced to death President Lincoln embroiled in the most devastating period of the Civil War personally intervened to save the lives of 265 of the condemned men but in the end 38 Dakota men would be hanged in the largest government sanctioned execution in U S history Writing with uncommon immediacy and insight Scott W Berg details these events within the larger context of the Civil War the history of the Dakota people and the subsequent United States Indian wars and brings to life this overlooked but seminal moment in American history The State We're in Annette Atkins, Deborah L. Miller, 2010 Minnesota historians present recent and groundbreaking work on a range of people and events that make up the state s history The North Star State Anne J. ultimately leading to the demise of the category of female husband in the early twentieth century Groundbreaking and influential Female Husbands offers a dynamic varied and complex history of the LGBTO past The Making of the Populist Movement Adam Slez, 2020-08-11 When it comes to explaining the origins of electoral populism in the United States we often look to the characteristics and conditions of voters overlooking the reasons why populist candidates emerge in the first place In The Making of the Populist Movement Adam Slez argues that the rise of electoral populism in the American West was a strategic response to a political environment in which the configuration of positions was literally locked in place precluding the success of new contenders or otherwise marginal competitors Combining traditional forms of historical inquiry with innovations in network analysis and spatial statistics he shows how the expansion of state and market drove the push for market regulation in southern Dakota where an insurgent farmers movement looked to third party alternatives as a means of affecting change In the context of western settlement the struggle for political power was synonymous with the struggle for position in an emerging urban hierarchy As inequities in the spatial distribution of resources became more pronounced appeals to agrarian populism became a powerful political tool with which to wage partisan war Offering a fresh take on the origins of electoral populism in the United States The Making of the Populist Movement contributes to our understanding of political action by explicitly linking the evolution of the political field to the transformation of physical space through concerted action on the part of elites
