Twentieth-century Ecuadorian Narrative K. J. A. Wishnia, 1999 It examines works by several of Ecuador's most important writers in terms of the interrelations of history and myth of realism and magic or marvelous realism and the problems of using orality and dialogism to actively undermine authoritative discourse

BOOK JACKET

Henry Fielding In Our Time J. A. Downie, 2020-11-09 Henry Fielding In Our Time publishes many of the papers presented at the international conference held at the University of London 19-21 April 2007 to commemorate the tercentenary of his birth Written by established scholars including the acknowledged doyen of Fielding scholars Martin C Battestin of the University of Virginia as well as younger scholars who successfully bring their recent research to bear on neglected areas of Fielding's life and works the essays offer a cross section of current approaches to Fielding and his writings from his ballad operas poetry and political journalism via Joseph Andrews Tom Jones and Amelia the novels for which he is still best known to the social pamphlets written during his years at Bow Street as magistrate for Westminster and Middlesex The collection should appeal both to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as academics and general readers interested in the eighteenth century in general and Fielding's contribution to the emergence and development of the novel form in particular

Losing Our Heads Regina Janes, 2005-08-01 What is the fascination that decollation holds for us as individuals and as a culture Why does the idea make us laugh and the act make us close our eyes Losing Our Heads explores in both artistic and cultural contexts the role of the chopped off head It asks why the practice of decapitation was once so widespread why it has diminished but not as scenes from contemporary Iraq show completely disappeared and why we find it so peculiarly repulsive that we use it as a principal marker to separate ourselves from a more barbaric or primitive past Although the topic is grim Regina Janes s treatment and conclusions are neither grisly nor gruesome but continuously instructive about the ironies of humanity s cultural nature Bringing to bear an array of evidence the book argues that the human ability to create meaning from the body motivates the practice of decapitation its diminution the impossibility of its extirpation and its continuing fascination Ranging from antiquity to the late nineteenth century passion for Salom and John the Baptist and from the enlightenment to postcolonial Africa s challenge to the severed head as sign of barbarism Losing Our Heads opens new areas of investigation enabling readers to understand the shock of decapitation and to see the value in moving past shock to analysis Written with penetrating wit and featuring striking illustrations it is sure to captivate anyone interested in his or her head

Persian Words of Wisdom Bahman Solati, 2015-10-05 What is the secret of happiness What is the nature of love What makes us good hosts or good guests What traits should we seek out in friends and seek to embody as friends ourselves How should we approach the sensual beauties of this world when do they induce us to error and when are they signs of God The poets and bards of many traditions have long sought answers to such questions but perhaps no culture has taken up this challenge with more passionate urgency than that of Persia from the ninth century AD to modern day Iran These eleven centuries of poetic tradition include poets who have become well known in the West such as Umar Khayyam Rumi and Hafiz as well as many others whom Westerners have yet to discover In Iran these poems remain part of everyday popular culture with people of all classes and levels of education able to recite them from memory even if they may not always be sure who the poets were where they came from or what precisely was the spiritual intent behind the verse In Persian Words of Wisdom the US based Iranian scholar Bahman Solati has compiled hundreds of examples reflecting his country s religious and spiritual traditions especially the Shia branch of Islam and Islamic Sufism but also the Zoroastrian faith This bilingual edition with his own English translations further illuminates the sometimes enigmatic poems with parallel Western proverbs as well as comparison quotations from Christian Jewish and Buddhist scripture and secular sources ranging from Mark Twain to Dale Carnegie One of Solati s goals in this anthology is to build a cultural bridge through poetry between the West and Iran making these treasures of Persian culture more available both to Westerners generally and most specifically to young people of Iranian descent who have grown up in the English speaking world perhaps without fully understanding the wealth of their heritage For them and all readers this will be a book of discovery
