Flaming? Alisha Lola Jones, 2020 Male centered theology a dearth of men in the pews and an overrepresentation of queer males in music ministry these elements coexist within the spaces of historically black Protestant churches creating an atmosphere where simultaneous heteropatriarchy and real masculinity anxieties archetypes of the alpha male preacher the effeminate choir director and homo antagonism are all in play The flamboyant male vocalists formed in the black Pentecostal music ministry tradition through their vocal styles gestures and attire in church services display a spectrum of gender performances from hyper masculine to feminine masculine to their fellow worshippers subtly protesting and critiquing the otherwise heteronormative theology in which the service is entrenched And while the performativity of these men is characterized by cynics as flaming a similar musicalized fire that of the Holy Spirit moves through the bodies of Pentecostal worshippers endowing them religio culturally physically and spiritually like fire shut up in their bones Using the lenses of ethnomusicology musicology anthropology men's studies queer studies and theology Flaming The Peculiar Theo Politics of Fire and Desire in Black Male Gospel Performance observes how male vocalists traverse their tightly knit social networks and negotiate their identities through and beyond the worship experience Author Alisha Jones ultimately addresses the ways in which gospel music and performance can afford African American men not only greater visibility but also an affirmation of their fitness to minister through speech and song
