Partial Recall The Afterthoughts Of A Schoolmaster:

Partial Recall John D. Verdery, 1981-01-01 Preparing For Power Peter W Cookson Jr, Caroline Hodges Persell, 2008-08-04 Why do private boarding schools produce such a disproportionate number of leaders in business government and the arts In the most comprehensive study of its kind to date two sociologists describe the complex ways in which elite schools prepare students for success and power and they also provide a lively behind the scenes look at prep school life and underlife Princeton Alumni Weekly, 1981 Wake Up Running David Egee, 2015-02-16 A travel memoir by American executive David Egee who overcame a learning handicap to become a successful international health care executive establishing hospitals in the Middle East and nursing homes in England while dealing with persons such as Yasser Arafat and Muammar Gaddafi Subject Catalog, 1982 Library of Congress, 1982 Subject Catalog Library of Congress, Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1983 National Union Catalog, 1982 Includes entries for maps and atlases Good Books Steven Gilbar, 1982 Library Journal, 1981-07 International Bulletin of Bibliography on Education, 1982 Biography Index Bea Joseph, 1979 A cumulative index to biographical material in books and magazines The Publishers Weekly, 1981 American Book Publishing Record, 1982-04 The Cumulative Book Index, 1982 A world list of books in the English language Wake Up Running David Egee, 2015-01-28 ADHD as a child David Egee suffered through many years of reading and writing impairment I was ADHD before the expression became a household word Egee overcame his learning handicap to become the Director of the American Hospital in Beirut at the age of 35 dealing with such Middle Eastern luminaries as Yasser Arafat and Muammar Gaddafi Later he established hospitals throughout the Middle East just before the region exploded In the 1980s he worked for Hospital Corp of America HCA in England setting up nursing homes When HCA bowed out of Britain he founded his own nursing home company From there he went on to create and own a string of nursing homes in England finally selling out at age of 68 and retiring with enough money to take care of his family and live comfortably for the rest of his life I was raised in Newtown CT a small idyllic New England rural farming community 60 miles from New York City In the 1950s Newtown was evolving into a residential and light industry area for middle and upper middle class people starting new families There were just enough rich upper class New Yorkers creating second homes to give the town an air of exclusivity It was a Saturday Evening Post magazine cover community with all the Norman Rockwell characters you can imagine a far cry from the infamous Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting event that took place there in 2012 76 years after I was born By my 3rd year in school I began to realize that I was not the smartest student in the class John Verdery the headmaster of the Wooster School described my deficiency in his book Partial Recall The Afterthoughts of a Schoolmaster David was the dumbest student we ever had at the school This refrain was echoed throughout my educational career Fortunately Verdery believed in me as a person and acted as one of my mentors Later on I consoled myself in the belief that you don't need to be too intelligent to be educated and you don't have to be educated to be successful You just have to work harder and wake up running I believe I was genetically attuned to challenges Education was a challenge a difficult task but I got through it I wrote Wake up Running because it was a challenge and because it was there to write Once after I finished telling my daughter about negotiations with Yasser Arafat my experiences in Libya and the day that Muammar Gadhafi distributed his Green Book to every single individual living in Libya and announced that Libya was now a Jamahiriya she asked me Pappy why don t you write these stories down Everybody Has a Story to Tell People spend their entire lives talking with their friends relatives and family about themselves Everyone has a first memory The simple fact of where we are from what our work is do we have brothers and sisters School and educational experiences all these make for an interesting story Studs Turkle wrote a non fiction book in 1974 titled Working People Talk About What They Do All Day and How They Feel About What They Do an entire 640 page book of ordinary people being interviewed about their employment experiences The book became extremely popular I imagine that his interviewees enjoyed talking to Turkle and they enjoyed talking about themselves I am one of those people who after looking back on my life decided that I wanted to talk out loud about my life because I believe it will interest other people Having finished writing my story I now realize that writing about oneself leaves one exposed to criticism and ridicule perhaps even to shame The author Stephen King wrote in his book Stephen King On Writing A Memoir of the Craft that if you wanted to write your autobiography you had to get right down into the cellar of your life I haven t pulled any punches or left anything out From cellar to attic I stand by my achievements

A Schoolmaster's Afterthoughts John Huntley Skrine,1902 Pastor Agnorum John Huntley Skrine,2015-07-18 Excerpt from Pastor Agnorum A Schoolmaster s Afterthoughts So you thought that summer morning And so I have Often thought in no holiday season but on a working day among my scholars when some incident of classroom or study or chapel has touched the heart with a sense of beauty in the life which has fallen to my lot If I could but harvest the good which hours of this life have let rest in my bosom for the moment harvest it and make the store be bread to strengthen man s heart in all after hours Well can I not You my friend are poet and there is a rippling lyric of yours in which the talk of that moorland river and the shine on the cloud bosoms live on for me at least You carried and stored the harvest of a quiet eye that morning In such staid rhythms as I command let me record a happy life day passed in the school and garner while I may my harvest of a masters eye the experience which has not been nought the vision which perhaps is more While I may For since I passed the reins into that younger hand and came away here to sit out the autumn evening among the dear hills whose breath is birthplace air to me memory begins already to mellow the landscape of the working days and in the aerial perspective lines and hues grow doubtful But let me record it as I might in letters to you dear friend of mine on the bank of Isis first About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing
