Partitioned Africans Ethnic Relations Across Africas International Boundaries 1884 1984:

Partitioned Africans A. I. Asiwaju, 1985      Handbook of Africa's International Relations Tim Murithi, 2013-09-05 Africa's international relations have often been defined and oriented by the dominant international and geopolitical agendas of the day In the aftermath of colonialism the Cold War became a dominant paradigm that defined the nature of the continent's relationship with the rest of the world The contemporary forces of globalization are now exerting an undue influence and impact upon Africa's international relations Increasingly the African continent is emerging as a vocal and in some respects an influential actor in international relations There is a paucity of analysis and research on this emerging trend This timely book proposes to fill this analytical gap by engaging with a wide range of issues with chapters written by experts on a variety of themes The emerging political prominence of the African continent on the world stage is predicated on an evolving internal process of continental integration In particular there are normative and policy efforts to revive the spirit of Pan Africanism the 21st century is witnessing the evolution of Pan Africanism notably through the constitution and establishment of the African Union AU Given the fact that there is a dearth of analysis on this phenomenon this volume will also interrogate the notion of Pan Africanism through various lenses notably peace and security development the environment and trade The volume will also engage with the emerging role of the AU as an international actor e.g. with regard to its role in the reform of the United Nations Security Council climate change the International Criminal Court ICC the treaty establishing Africa as a nuclear free zone Internally Displaced Persons the Millennium Development Goals MDGs international trade the environment public health issues security and development issues This book will assess how the AU's role as an international actor is complicated by the difficulty of promoting consensus among African states and then maintaining that consensus in the face of often divergent national interests This book will in part assess the role of the AU in articulating collective and joint policies and in making interventions in international decision and policy making circles The Handbook will also assess the role of African social movements and their relationship with global actors The role of African citizens in ameliorating their own conditions is often underplayed in the international relations discourse and this volume will seek to redress this oversight Throughout the book the various chapters will also assess the role that these citizen linkages have contributed towards continental integration and in confronting the challenges of globalization      African International Relations Mark W. DeLancey, 2019-03-13 African International Relations is a thoroughly revised and updated bibliography that contains annotated entries for international books and journal articles in the field of African international relations      Violence on the Margins Timothy Raeymaekers, 2013-08-27 This survey of various African and Asian conflicts examines people's experiences on territorial borders and the ways they affect political configurations By focusing on individuals routines and daily life these contributions treat borderland dynamics as actual political units with their own actions and outcomes      Frontiers of Medicine in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, 1899-1940 Heather Bell, 1999-06-10 Much recent work on the history of colonial medicine argues that medicine was the handmaiden of colonial power and of capitalism Dr Bell challenges this interpretation through careful investigation of the complicated relationship between medicine politics and capital in the Anglo Egyptian Sudan Subverting the accepted wisdom that colonial medicine consisted primarily of white male doctors treating black patients Dr Bell highlights the important role of women and of African and non European practitioners of Western medicine She moves beyond the realm of medical practice to consider the relationship between medical research and colonial power And she argues that a new international medicine emerged during the interwar period modifying and even supplanting existing colonial relationships Frontiers of Medicine examines the physical epidemiological and professional boundaries that endlessly preoccupies colonial officials Emphasising the tenuousness of colonial power it includes chapters on midwifery training and female circumcision on health and racial ideology and on the quest to find the yellow fever virus in East Africa Accepted wisdom maintains that colonial medicine consisted primarily of white doctors treating black patients that it was mainly about medical practice and that it was driven by colonial relationships Dr Bell subverts these notions with detailed evidence of the participation of women and native Africans as trained medical personnel in the Anglo Egyptian Sudan and demonstrates the tenuousness of colonial power in practice There are chapters on midwifery training and female circumcision on health and racial ideology and on the quest to find yellow fever virus in East Africa Dr Bell also investigates the relationship between colonial power and medical research arguing that a new international medicine emerged during the inter war period

Germany and Its West African Colonies Wazi Apoh, Bea Lundt, 2013 West African history is usually seen as mainly influenced by English or French colonialism There is a new interest in German colonialism but most research is done in European archives and with a European point of view This book explores German colonial exploits and their consequences in Ghana Togo and Cameroon mostly from an African point of view By means of research on sites of the colonial hinterland and the agency of entangled people the book reveals the simmering impact of the past encounters on indigenous religious cultural political and socio economic developments in West Africa Series African Studies Afrikanische Studien Vol 49

Somali Refugees in the Horn of Africa Sidney R. Waldron, Naima Ali Hasci, 1995

Dreams of Power K. van Walraven, 2019-01-04 Originally published in 1999 this book was the first study to provide a systematic reconstruction of the OAU s ideological ground work It is based on OAU documents a corpus of African perceptions of OAU functioning collected from governmental and non governmental newspapers and publications from more than thirty African countries and on interviews held with African diplomats and OAU officials It was also the first study to pay attention to the OAU s role in the political psychology of state elites which comes to the fore in the areas of OAU co operation discussed in this book the OAU s internal functioning the former struggle against apartheid and colonialism conflict management and the OAU s role in representing collective African viewpoints in global fora This study was originally a Ph D thesis which was considered to be among the best three dissertations in political science in The Netherlands in 1997

The African Inheritance Ieuan Ll.

Griffiths,2005-09-30 Africa is a continent gripped by civil wars and widespread famine The causes of many of the continent s problems are deep rooted and can be traced to Africa s colonial past when European powers divided the spoils of the continent into separate sovereign states The African Inheritance examines the effect this balkanization of Africa has had and is having on the political and economic well being of the continent From a brief history of pre colonial Africa and its subsequent European partition and inevitable decolonization the book discusses the consequences of such an inheritance small and weak states destructive secessionist movements irredentism and African imperialism Attempts to tackle these problems and assert independent development are inhibited by the colonial inheritance Regionalism in Africa Daniel C

Bach,2015-12-22 Africa which was not long ago discarded as a hopeless and irrelevant region has become a new frontier for global trade investment and the conduct of international relations This book surveys the socio economic intellectual and security related dimensions of African regionalisms since the turn of the 20th century It argues that the continent deserves to be considered as a crucible for conceptualizing and contextualizing the ongoing influence of colonial policies the emergence of specific integration and security cultures the spread of cross border regionalisation processes at the expense of region building the interplay between territory space and trans state networks and the intrinsic ambivalence of global frontier narratives This is emphasized through the identification of distinctive threads of regionalism which by focusing on genealogies trajectories and ideals transcend the binary divide between old and new regionalisms In doing so the book opens new perspectives not only on Africa in international relations but also Africa s own international relations This text will be of key interest to students and scholars of African politics African history regionalism comparative regionalism and more broadly to international political economy international relations and global and regional governance Rethinking

Language and Literature in a Changing World Genevoix Nana,Andrew Ngeh,2019-08-20 This volume is a blend of language and literature papers highlighting linguistic functionality and topicality in poetry novels translation and education It sheds light on the fictionalised reality of a strained official linguistic cohabitation in Cameroon as instantiated in present day colonial legacy claims It deals with issues of translation as a stylistic exercise whereby the translator has some creativity licence when rendering the source text into the target language thus embracing Skopos theory s view of translation as a purposeful activity determined by the target text and audience This book also looks at an educational conception of translation as opposed to a professional translation curriculum and advocates a comprehensive needs analysis for translator education in the context of translation teaching at the Advanced School of Translators and Interpreters ASTI in Cameroon The chapters also examine teacher and student discourse in the context of English Language teaching in tertiary education in China and pinpoint a dominant teacher s voice made relevant by a Confucian didactic indexicality which appears to be a stumbling block to any dialogic classroom discourse despite a new curriculum promoting communicative language teaching and student centredness This book will appeal to academics in the fields of language and literature in general and in

Cameroon and China in particular It will also be a valuable resource for professional translators and those concerned with teaching the subject in academia as it explores a pragmatic conception of translation and envisages it beyond professionalism as an academic field

Nationalism and African Intellectuals Toyin Falola, 2004 An examination of the attempt by Western educated African intellectuals to create a better Africa through connecting nationalism to knowledge from the anti colonial movement to the present day This book is about how African intellectuals influenced primarily by nationalism have addressed the inter related issues of power identity politics self assertion and autonomy for themselves and their continent from the mid nineteenth century onward Their major goal was to create a better Africa by connecting nationalism to knowledge The results have been mixed from the glorious euphoria of the success of anti colonial movements to the depressing circumstances of the African condition as we enter a new millennium As the intellectual elite is a creation of the Western formal school system the ideas it generated are also connected to the larger world of scholarship This world is in turn shaped by European contacts with Africa from the fifteenth century onward the politics of the Cold War and the subsequent collapse of the Soviet Union In essence Africa and its elite cannot be fully understood without also considering the West and changing global politics Neither can the academic and media contributions by non Africans be ignored as these also affect the ways that Africans think about themselves and their continent Nationalism and African Intellectuals examines intellectuals ambivalent relationships with the colonial apparatus and subsequent nation state formations the contradictions manifested within pan Africanism and nationalism and the relation of academic institutions and intellectual production to the state during the nationalism period and beyond Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin

Eritrea-Ethiopia War and Its Aftermath in International Legal Perspective Andrea de Guttry, Harry H. G.

Post, Gabriella Venturini, 2021-04-01 This book centres on the war that raged between Eritrea and Ethiopia from 1998 to 2000 a war that caused great loss of life and tremendous devastation It analyses the war in great detail from an international legal perspective the nature and the state of the boundary conflict preceding the actual armed conflict the military actions themselves the role of the UN peace keeping mission the responsibility for the multitude of explosive remnants of the war left behind Ample attention is paid to the decisions of the Eritrea Ethiopia Claims Commission and the Eritrea Ethiopia Boundary Commission This study is not limited to the war and the period immediately following it it also examines its more extended aftermath prolonging the analysis as far as the more recent improvement in the relations between Eritrea and Ethiopia away from a situation of no war no peace that prevailed after the armed conflict ended The analysis of the war and its aftermath is not only in terms of international legal issues it has been placed in a wider than strictly legal perspective The book is a valuable work for academics and practitioners in international law human rights and humanitarian law in particular for political scientists diplomats civil servants historians and all those others seriously interested in the Horn of Africa Andrea de

Guttry is Full Professor of Public International Law at the Scuola Superiore Sant Anna in Pisa Italy Harry H G Post is Adjunct Professor in the Facult Libre de Droit of the Universit Catholique de Lille in Lille France Gabriella Venturini is Professor Emerita in the Dipartimento di Studi internazionali giuridici e storico politici of the Universit degli Studi di Milano in Milan Italy Dilemmas of Weak States Tatah Mentan,2017-11-30 Given the dramatic changes that have taken place in global politics in recent years especially following September 11 2001 it is time to examine a series of critical issues confronting the global political economy One of the most important of these issues is terrorism and its relationship with weak states This book examines the weak state terrorism nexus with particular emphasis on Africa Specifically it provides an in depth analysis of state weakness poverty and the opportunities offered by the latter for the breeding of terrorism and terrorists It also looks at the part played by radical Islam in transnational terrorism in Africa Emerging from this study is recognition of a need for the international system to analyze a wide range of issues that contribute to the weakening of African states The Bengal Borderland Willem van Schendel,2005 The Bengal Borderland constitutes the epicentre of the partition of British India Yet while the forging of international borders between India Pakistan Bangladesh and Burma the Bengal Borderland has been a core theme in Partition studies these crucial borderlands have remarkably been largely ignored by historians

Region-Building in Africa Daniel H. Levine,Dawn Nagar,2016-05-19 This landmark book is the first of its kind to assess the challenges of African region building and regional integration across all five African sub regions and more than five decades of experience considering both political and economic aspects Leading scholars and practitioners come together to analyze a range of entwined topics including the theoretical underpinnings that have informed Africa s regional integration trajectory the political economy of integration including the sources of different waves of integration in pan Africanism and the reaction to neo liberal economic pressures the complexities of integration in a context of weak states and the informal regionalization that often occurs in borderlands the increasing salience of Africa s relationships with rising extra regional economic powers including China and India and comparative lessons from non African regional blocs including the EU ASEAN and the Southern Common Market A core argument of this book running through all chapters is that region building must be recognized as a political project as much as if not more than an economic one successful region building in Africa will need to include the complex political tasks of strengthening state capacity including states capacity as developmental states that can actively engage in economic planning resolving long standing conflicts over resources and political dominance improving democratic governance and developing trans national political structures that are legitimate and inclusive

Nation-states and the Challenges of Regional Integration in West Africa Siga Fatima Jagne,2010 The Dissolution of the Colonial Empires Franz Ansprenger,2018-05-01 First published in 1989 On the eve of the First World War almost 72 million square kilometres of territory and more than 560 million people were under colonial rule By 1980 the European colonial empires had disappeared from the map Concentrating in particular on the British Commonwealth and the French colonial empire the author shows how economic and political changes in the mother countries the awakening national consciousness of the African and Asian peoples and the effects of two World Wars had all compelled Europe to decolonize He argues that although a satisfactory new order in world politics and the global economy has not been achieved in the process the dissolution of the empires came about with remarkably little bloodshed thereby laying a solid foundation for the future The author concludes by looking at the legacy of the decolonized world in the late 1980s He examines the last bastion of European colonial domination South Africa and discusses the emerging new North South relations

The Gambia-Senegal Border Mariama Khan, 2019-05-22 This book interrogates the validity of longstanding claims that Gambians and Senegalese are one people in two countries and explores how that claim intersects with the politics and development needs of the two countries Half a century after independence proponents of Senegambian unification continue to campaign on the basis of the longstanding social cultural and religious ties between Africa's smallest country The Gambia and Senegal the much larger country which almost entirely encircles it The border between the two former British and French colonies remains one of the starkest examples of colonial geographical bartering and it continues to serve a dual function as a bridge and a barrier in the social political and economic relations of the two countries The book investigates how the two states are constantly pulled between impulses of cooperation and de escalation and a competitive intimacy that disregards kinship ties and re activates tensions In particular the book shows how these interstate dynamics play out across the border itself where indigenous ideas of relatedness are reflected in the cross border transport and trade sectors and in the religious networks that straddle the two countries This book's skilful exploration of intersecting macro level and micro level relations in the Senegambia region will be of interest to scholars of African politics regional studies international development and border studies

Africa since Independence Paul Nugent, 2012-06-13 An indispensable introductory textbook that provides students with a genuinely comparative study of the different trajectories and experiences of independent African states Paul Nugent explores a range of key concerns including the impact of HIV and AIDS the contagion of warfare and efforts at achieving national reconciliation both in the past and today This is an ideal core text for modules on Modern African History African Politics or Africa since Independence or a supplementary text for broader modules on African History which may be offered at the upper levels of an undergraduate History Politics or African Studies degree In addition it is a crucial resource for students who may be studying modern African history for the first time as part of a taught postgraduate degree in African History African Politics or African Studies New to this Edition Revised and updated throughout in light of the latest research Reflects recent developments on issues such as AIDS urbanization the secession of South Sudan questions of citizenship and the importance of transnational spaces This second edition now features photographs
