The past decade has witnessed the realization of Philip Johnson and John Burgee's most innovative buildings in their eighteen year professional collaboration. No single architectural team has had a stronger impact on the shape of the American skyline. Their impressive output makes an updated volume on their work timely and welcome both to the architectural community and to the interested public. The twenty five projects featured in this volume include high rise office buildings and urban complexes, colleges and cultural centers, commercial and religious monuments. A distinctive and highly varied repertory emerges: the Romanesque ensemble of the New Cleveland Playhouse, the neoclassical AT&T a mansard roofed skyscraper in San Francisco adorned with classical statues, the Dutch gabled Republic Bank Center in Houston, Boston's village of skyscrapers International Place at Fort Hill, and that major twentieth century space in Garden Grove, California, the steel and glass Crystal Cathedral. The volume also features buildings currently in production and under construction, such as the triple tiered oval shaped office building on Fifty third Street and Third Avenue in New York, a very creative manipulation of the New York City zoning laws, and the new home of John Burgee Architects with Philip Johnson. The illustrated main text is supplemented by a chronological index providing in capsule form a history of their major built projects from dust jacket.

Photographs Philip Johnson Franz Schulze, 1996-06-15

In this critically acclaimed biography, Franz Schulze probes the private and professional life of one of the most famous architects and architectural critics of the twentieth century. The only child of a wealthy Midwestern family, Philip Johnson was a millionaire by the time he graduated from Harvard, and in 1932 he helped stage the historic International Style exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art. A patron of the arts and a political activists who flirted with the politics of Hitler, Huey Long, and Father Coughlin, he went on to create controversial and historical structures such as the Glass House, the Roofless Church, the AT&T Building, the Crystal Cathedral, and many more. Johnson's personal charms paired with his manipulative ploys like his borrowing of designs shine through in this biography. Drawing on Johnson's correspondence, personal photographs, and speeches, and on interviews with his friends and contemporaries, Schulze fills the biography with fascinating information on the architect's family, travels, friends, and lovers, and his many buildings and spaces themselves. Franz Schulze is a professor of art at Lake Forest College. He is the author of
