African Literature as Political Philosophy Mary Stella Chika Okolo,2013-07-04 The politics of development in Africa have always been central concerns of the continent s literature Yet ideas about the best way to achieve this development and even what development itself should look like have been hotly contested African Literature as Political Philosophy looks in particular at Achebe s Anthills of the Savannah and Petals of Blood by Ngugi wa Thiong o but situates these within the broader context of developments in African literature over the past half century discussing writers from Ayi Kwei Armah to Wole Soyinka M S C Okolo provides a thorough analysis of the authors differing approaches and how these emerge from the literature She shows the roots of Achebe s reformism and Ngugi s insistence on revolution and how these positions take shape in their work Okolo argues that these authors have been profoundly affected by the political situation of Africa but have also helped to create a new African political philosophy

Specters of Liberation Martin J. Beck Matustik,Martin Beck Matuńtik,1998-03-19 Advocates a new existential and political coalition among critical and postmodern social theorists and among critical gender race and class theorists in dissent from the New World Order to raise specters of liberation and empower radical democratic change

Classifying Psychopathology Harold Kincaid,Jacqueline A. Sullivan,2023-10-31 Scholars question the extent to which current psychiatric classification systems are inadequate for diagnosis treatment and research of mental disorders and offer suggestions for improvement In this volume leading philosophers of psychiatry examine psychiatric classification systems including the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders DSM asking whether current systems are sufficient for effective diagnosis treatment and research Doing so they take up the question of whether mental disorders are natural kinds grounded in something in the outside world Psychiatric categories based on natural kinds should group phenomena in such a way that they are subject to the same type of causal explanations and respond similarly to the same type of causal interventions When these categories do not evince such groupings there is reason to revise existing classifications The contributors all question current psychiatric classifications systems and the assumptions on which they are based They differ however as to why and to what extent the categories are inadequate and how to address the problem Topics discussed include taxometric methods for identifying natural kinds the error and bias inherent in DSM categories and the complexities involved in classifying such specific mental disorders as oppositional defiance disorder and pathological gambling Contributors George Graham Nick Haslam Allan Horwitz Harold Kincaid Dominic Murphy Jeffrey Poland Nancy Nyquist Potter Don Ross Dan Stein Jacqueline Sullivan Serife

Tekin Peter Zachar Institutional Violence Deane Curtin, Robert Litke, 2022-05-20 Violence can be physical and psychological It can characterize personal actions forms of group activity and abiding social and political policy This book includes all of these aspects within its focus on institutional forms of violence Institution is also a broad category ranging from formal arrangements such as the military the criminal code the death penalty and prison system to more amorphous but systemic situations indicated by parenting poverty sexism work and racism Violence is as complex as the human beings who resort to it its institutional forms pervade our relational lives We are all participants in it as victims and perpetrators The chapters in this book were written in the hope that violence can be explicated even if not fully understood and that such clarification can help us in devising less violent forms of living even if it does not lead to its total abolition The studies bring new aspects of violence to light and offer a number of suggestions for its remedy Spiritual and Political Dimensions of Nonviolence and Peace David Boersema, Katy Gray Brown, 2006 This book is a collection of philosophical papers that explores theoretical and practical aspects and implications of nonviolence as a means of establishing peace The papers range from spiritual and political dimensions of nonviolence to issues of justice and values and proposals for action and change

Philosophical Perspectives on Power and Domination Laura Duhan Kaplan, Laurence F. Bove, 1997 The essays in this volume explore in detail many of the ways power structures our daily personal political and intellectual lives and evaluate the workings of power using a variety of theoretical paradigms from Hobbesian liberalism to Foucauldian feminist postmodernism Taken as a whole the book aims towards an end to unjust and destructive uses of power and the flowering of an encouraging educated empowerment for all human beings in a pluralistic world Section I offers a progressive chain of arguments that moves from the acceptance of domination through the rejection of domination and finally to a new vision of power based on equality and mutual respect Section II explores the questions how is the philosophical self that is our very understanding of who we are implicated in the web of power and domination Section III responds to political realism as it explores morally ideal solutions to the global problems of poverty war and hunger Section IV discusses ways in which our thought and practice in both public and private life are bound up in hierarchies of domination Sagacious Reasoning ,

An Islamic Reformation? Michaelle Browers, Charles Kurzman, 2004-01-01 This book brings together scholars with expertise in modern Islamic thought and practice to evaluate the claim that we are witnessing something tantamount to an Islamic Reformation by assessing the character and impact of various reformist trends in the Middle East and North Africa Each chapter also addresses the question of the appropriateness and usefulness of comparisons between Christian and Islamic or Western and Eastern reformations

A Guide to Asian Philosophy Classics Puqun Li, 2012-07-19 This book guides readers through ten classic works of Asian philosophy Several major schools of Eastern thought are discussed including Hinduism Buddhism Confucianism Daoism Taoism and Chan Zen The author connects the ideas of these schools to those of Western philosophy thereby making the material accessible to people who are unfamiliar with the cultures and intellectual traditions of Asia A wide range of important topics are addressed reality time self knowledge ethics human nature enlightenment and death

Peace Philosophy and Public Life Greg Moses, Gail Presbey, 2014-03-10 To a world assaulted by private interests this book argues that peace must be a public thing Distinguished philosophers of peace have always worked publicly for public results Opposing nuclear proliferation organizing communities of the disinherited challenging violence within status quo establishments such are the legacies of truly engaged philosophers of peace This volume remembers those legacies reviews the promise of critical thinking for crises today and expands the free range of thinking needed to create more mindful and peaceful relations With essays by committed peace philosophers this volume shows how public engagement has been a significant feature of peace philosophers such as Camus Sartre Dewey and Dorothy Day Today we also confront historical opportunities to transform practices for immigration police interrogation and mental health as we seek to sustain democracies of increasing multicultural diversity In such cases our authors consider points of view developed by renowned thinkers such as Weil Mouffe Conway and Martin Bar This volume also presents critical analysis of concepts for thinking about violence reconsiders Plato's philosophy of justice and examines the role of ethical theory for liberation struggles such as Occupy

The Moral Psychology of Compassion Justin Caouette, Carolyn Price, 2018-03-16 Compassion is widely regarded as an important moral emotion a fitting response to various cases of suffering and misfortune Yet contemporary theorists have rarely given it sustained attention This volume aims to fill this gap by offering answers to a number of questions surrounding this emotion These questions include What is the nature of compassion How does compassion differ from other emotions such as empathy pity or gratitude Is compassion a virtue Can we have too much compassion How does compassion influence other mental states desires motivations beliefs and intentions and behaviour How is compassion influenced by the environment Must compassion be deserved Can one be moral while lacking the capacity for compassion Compassion like other emotions has many facets biological social psychological and neural among others The contributors to this volume will draw on a variety of disciplines and methods in order to develop a more systematic and comprehensive understanding of this often neglected moral emotion
