Philosophy A Text With Readings 7th:

Children's and YA Books in the College Classroom Emily Dial-Driver, Jim Ford, Sara N. Beam, 2015-03-23 Using children's and young adult literature is a great way to enhance a variety of college classes in fields as varied as biology, computer game development, political science, and history. This collection of new essays by educators from a number of disciplines describes how to use such works as Where the Wild Things Are, The Tale of Peter Rabbit, Swamp Thing, Percy Jackson, and Harry Potter to introduce complex concepts and spark interest in difficult subjects. The contributors describe innovative teaching strategies using dystopian fiction, graphic narratives, fairy tales, and mythology. Often overlooked or dismissed by teachers, children's literature can support student learning by raising levels of academic rigor, creativity, and critical thinking.

Discourse, Power, and Resistance Down Under Mark Vicars, Tarquam McKenna, Julie White, 2012-10-26 This edited collection is an eclectic and provocative volume taken from presentations that reflect the scholarship of the inaugural AQR DPR Down Under conference that was held in Cairns in 2011 in Australia. This was a groundbreaking conference that brought together scholars, researchers, and practitioners from across Australia, UK, Japan, Italy, Finland, New Zealand, Luxembourg, South Africa, Vietnam, Malaysia, Tanzania, and Mexico. The theme of the conference represented at the conference and in this volume was that of Politicizing Qualitative Research. Delegates presented papers that sought to challenge research practices that too often can delegitimize. Other ways of knowing, confronting, disrupting, and resisting the epistemological common sense way of doing research within the academy can be a risky business and is often a fraught and contested endeavor. However, as the papers in this volume illustrate, contestation promises opportunities for re-perceiving, re-interpreting, and productively disrupting the orthodoxies of disciplinarity. Many thanks to Ignacio Rojas whose patient assistance and expertise as an artist in designing the cover proved invaluable in bringing this book to print.

God's Amazing Grace, Loving Mercy & Abiding Peace Mark E. Oh, 2012 The purpose of my autobiography is to give my heart-felt thanks to the Lord for what He has done for me for the past 60 years beginning from 1950 when I became a Christian during the war of Pohang in the boundary of life and death to 2010 when I officially closed the Lord's ministry as pastor of International Bible Church in Los Angeles. The desire of writing this book is totally on my own for neither did the Lord ever ask me to write this book nor did He ever need this book to be written. When a person receives God's amazing grace, loving mercy, and abiding peace in him, it is welling up a spring of water of thanksgiving from his inner heart without ceasing until he shares its amazing grace and loving mercy and abiding peace with others. This is just what I have done in this book. I am giving the Lord my heart-felt thanksgiving for the 20 miracles that have happened to me for the past 60 years without which I wouldn't be here today. To God be the glory and honor forever. Amen. Mark E. Oh, PhD, DMin, is a graduate of Keimyung University, Korea; San Francisco Theological Seminary; New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary; Western Seminary, California; Graduate School of Theology; and Fuller Theological Seminary. Married to the former Rosemary McGuire.

Stamos,2015-11-17 In this groundbreaking and provocative new book philosopher of science David N Stamos challenges the current conceptions of human rights and argues that the existence of universal human rights is a modern myth Using an evolutionary analysis to support his claims Stamos traces the origin of the myth from the English Levellers of 1640s London to our modern day Theoretical defenses of the belief in human rights are critically examined including defenses of nonconsensus concepts In the final chapter Stamos develops a method of naturalized normative ethics which he then applies to topics routinely dealt with in terms of human rights In all of this Stamos hopes to show that there is a better way of dealing with matters of ethics and justice a way that involves applying the whole of our evolved moral being rather than only parts of it and that is fiction free

Reading the Shape of Nature Mary P. Winsor, 2011-05-04 Reading the Shape of Nature vividly recounts the turbulent early history of the Museum of Comparative Zoology at Harvard and the contrasting careers of its founder Louis Agassiz and his son Alexander Through the story of this institution and the individuals who formed it Mary P Winsor explores the conflicting forces that shaped systematics in the second half of the nineteenth century Debates over the philosophical foundations of classification details of taxonomic research the young institution s financial struggles and the personalities of the men most deeply involved are all brought to life In 1859 Louis Agassiz established the Museum of Comparative Zoology to house research on the ideal types that he believed were embodied in all living forms Agassiz s vision arose from his insistence that the order inherent in the diversity of life reflected divine creation not organic evolution But the mortar of the new museum had scarcely dried when Darwin s Origin was published By Louis Agassiz s death in 1873 even his former students including his son Alexander had defected to the evolutionist camp Alexander a self made millionaire succeeded his father as director and introduced a significantly different agenda for the museum To trace Louis and Alexander s arguments and the style of science they established at the museum Winsor uses many fascinating examples that even zoologists may find unfamiliar The locus of all this activity the museum building itself tells its own story through a wonderful series of archival photographs

Handbook of Reading Research, Volume II Rebecca Barr, Michael L. Kamil, Peter B. Mosenthal, P David Pearson, 2016-11-18 A comprehensive overview of important contemporary issues in the field of reading research from the mid 1980s to mid 1990s this well received volume offers readers an examination of literacy through a variety of lenses some permitting microscopic views and others panoramic views A veritable who s who of specialists in the field chapter authors cover current methodology as well as cumulative research based knowledge Because it deals with society and literacy the first section provides the broadest possible view of literacy The second section defines the range of activities culturally determined to be a part of the enterprise known as literacy The third focuses on the processes that individuals engage in when they perform the act of reading The fourth section visits the environment in which the knowledge that comprises literacy is passed on from one generation to the next The last section an epilogue to the whole enterprise of reading research provides apt philosophical reflection
