Philosophy and Theory in Educational Research Amanda Fulford, Naomi Hodgson, 2016-06-10 Philosophy and Theory in Educational Research Writing in the margin explores the practices of reading and writing in educational philosophy and theory Showing that there is no right way to approach research in educational philosophy but illustrating its possibilities this text invites an engagement with philosophy as a possibility and opening possibilities for educational research Drawing on their own research and theoretical and philosophical sources the authors investigate the important issue of what it means to read and write when there is no prescribed structure Innovative in its contribution to the literature this edited volume enlightens readers in three ways The volume focuses on the practices of reading and writing that are central to research in educational philosophy suggesting that these practices constitute the research rather than simply reporting it It is not a prescriptive guide and should not be read procedurally Rather it is intended to illustrate the possibilities for this kind of research and to suggest starting points for those pursuing research projects Finally attention is given to the ways in which conducting educational philosophy can be educative in itself both to the researcher in writing it and to its audience in reading it With contributions from international scholars in the field of educational philosophy this book is a valuable guide for practitioner researchers taught postgraduate and doctoral students and early career researchers in university education departments Academic staff teaching research methods and seeking to introduce their students to philosophy as research without wishing to offer a prescriptive how to guide will also find this book of particular interest
