A Companion to Research in Teacher Education Michael A. Peters, Bronwen Cowie, Ian Menter, 2017-05-31 This state of the art Companion assembles and assesses the extant research available on teacher education and provides clear guidelines on future directions It addresses an important need in a collection that will be of value for teachers teacher educators policymakers and politicians There has been little sustained long term or systematic research to provide empirical support for the broad aspects of teacher education policy largely because such research has been chronically underfunded and based on traditional practitioner knowledge Many of the changes to teacher education are contentious and yet are occurring in rapid succession

These policies and movements have important consequences for education teacher quality and the future of the teaching profession At the same time the policies and initiatives that support these changes seem to be based more on ideology business interests and tradition than on research and empirical findings The nature quality and effectiveness of teacher preparation have increasingly become a central focus for education policy worldwide in a fiercely argued debate among governments think tanks world policy agencies education researchers and teacher organisations Education Reform and Internationalisation David Bridges,2014-08-28 This collection presents new investigations into the role of heritage languages and the correlation between culture and language from a pedagogic and cosmopolitical point of view

Contextualising Educational Studies in India Pradeep Kumar Choudhury,Suresh Babu G.S,2021-06-10 This volume presents an interdisciplinary framework to map out contemporary educational studies in India Based on conceptual tools quantitative methods and ethnographic accounts drawn from extensive fieldwork it addresses emerging discourses on educational policies their operation in the everyday functioning of institutions and actual practices in teaching and learning Individual chapters discuss the intersectionality in the current educational system of region gender class caste and minorities With comparative perspectives and case studies from across states including under studied rural and urban regions of India the book explores a wide range of issues affecting the educational system including socioeconomic and gender inequalities the educational status of tribal settlements in the hinterlands and their respective urban areas the marginalisation of minorities challenges in accessing educational avenues and choices and the model for imparting vocational education and training It navigates complex sites of discrimination and exclusion in the institutional spaces of the educational system and assesses the consequences of market dynamics and ideological undercurrents Presenting first hand information from the field it evaluates educational policies practices and research investigates challenges and failures provides suggestions and fosters critical thinking for a knowledge society The findings in this book will be of interest to researchers scholars and teachers of education economics sociology urban education and the politics of education as well as of public policy governance and development studies It will also be useful to research institutions policymakers educationists social scientists education professionals and governmental and non governmental bodies working on education Teacher Education and the Development of Practical Judgement Ruth Heilbronn,2011-11-03 Current conceptions of teacher training reflect key issues in professional practices Two prevailing views seem to be in conflict the first is that a teacher ought to be able to act as an autonomous professional trusted to have and apply subject knowledge through the exercise of judgement The second conception views the teacher more as a deliverer of a specific curriculum defined centrally in various government sponsored strategies Much has been written on the development of the reflective practitioner as crucial to the first conception and a strong critique of the audit culture in education has emerged Currently we are at a significant moment in teacher education a lighter touch KS3 curriculum and the instigation of new standards for the award of qualified teacher status QTS The QTS standards are important as they are set to form the basis of standards at all levels of teaching This book examines in depth current education and suggests why and how teachers need to develop and exercise practical knowledge and understanding how standards assessment alone cannot support this teacher formation and what good formation might be The nature of practical knowledge is analysed using some concepts from the work of John Dewey in two theoretical chapters 4 and 5 The current standards based model of teacher training in England is predominantly instrumentalist in its application of technical rationality and unsuited to the formation of teachers However the often invoked concept of the reflective practitioner is underdetermined and a conception of reflection is needed to illuminate its contribution to the development of practical judgement The book s argument applies more widely to the debate between deregulators and professionalisers in other spheres of economic and social activity In asking specific questions about teacher education questions about the aims of education within specific conditions are raised
