Contemporary Philosophical Naturalism and Its Implications Bana Bashour, Hans D. Muller, 2013-10-15 One of the most pervasive and persistent questions in philosophy is the relationship between the natural sciences and traditional philosophical categories such as metaphysics epistemology and the mind Contemporary Philosophical Naturalism and Its Implications is a unique and valuable contribution to the literature on this issue It brings together a remarkable collection of highly regarded experts in the field along with some young theorists providing a fresh perspective This book is noteworthy for bringing together committed philosophical naturalists with one notable and provocative exception thus diverging from the growing trend towards anti naturalism The book consists of four sections the first deals with the metaphysical implications of naturalism in which two contributors present radically different perspectives The second attempts to reconcile reasons and forward looking goals with blind Darwinian natural selection The third tackles various problems in epistemology ranging from meaning to natural kinds to concept learning The final section includes three papers each addressing a specific feature of the human mind its uniqueness its representational capacity and its morality In this way the book explores the important implications of the post Darwinian scientific world view

Contemporary Natural Philosophy and Philosophies - Part 2 Marcin J. Schroeder, Gordana

Dodig-Crnkovic, 2020-11-19 Modern technology has eliminated barriers posed by geographic distances between people around the globe making the world more interdependent. However, in spite of global collaboration within research domains, fragmentation among research fields persists and even escalates. Disintegrated knowledge has become subservient to the competition in the technological and economic race, leading in the direction chosen not by reason and intellect but rather by the preferences of politics and markets. To restore the authority of knowledge in guiding humanity, we have to reconnect its scattered, isolated parts and offer an evolving and diverse but shared vision of objective reality connecting the sciences and other knowledge domains and informed by and in communication with ethical and esthetic thinking and being. This collection of articles responds to the second call from the journal Philosophies to build a new networked world of knowledge with domain specialists from different disciplines interacting and connecting with the rest of the knowledge producing and knowledge consuming communities in an inclusive, extended, natural, philosophic, human-centric manner. In this process of reconnection, scientific and philosophical investigations enrich each other with sciences informing philosophies about the best current knowledge of the world, both natural and human-made, while philosophies scrutinize the ontological, epistemological, and methodological foundations of sciences.

The volume comprises cutting edge scholarly articles from renowned philosophers with various geographical backgrounds and from different philosophical strands. Next to investigating general questions as to the relation of philosophy and critique: What is philosophical critique and which philosophical concepts of critique are of importance today? Where do we need it most? Where are its limits? The articles focus on issues like theories of democracy and modes of election, the roles of emotions in the political realm, challenges from a widespread discontent in society to politics and science, changes to social identities and different theoretical approaches to social identity formation. The book is indispensable for all who are interested in what contemporary philosophy has to say on crucial issues of our time.
