Philosophy Of Human Rights International Perspectives:

The Philosophy of Human Rights Alan S. Rosenbaum, 1981-01-01 Human Rights and Social Policy in the 21st Century Joseph Wronka, 1998 Previous edition 1st published in 1992 Human Rights and Religious Values, 1995 Sects and new religious movements

Ethics of Human Rights A. Reis Monteiro, 2014-03-11 This volume focuses on the ethical significance of human rights aiming at contributing to a universal culture of human rights with deep roots and wide horizons Its purpose scope and rationale are reflected in the three part structure of the manuscript Part I has a broad introductory historical theoretical and legal character Part II submits that an Ethics of Human Rights is best understood as an Ethics of Recognition of human worth dignity and rights Moreover it is argued that human worth consists in the perfectibility of the human species rooted in its semiotic nature to be accomplished through the perfecting of human beings for which the right to education is key In Part III the main legal and political outcomes of the Human Rights Revolution are described and answers to the most lasting and common criticisms of human rights are provided To conclude the human stature of the Big Five drafters of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights is profiled and the priority that should be recognized to human rights education is highlighted Some appendices supplement the manuscript While making a case for the high value and liberating power of the idea and ideal of human rights objections controversies and uncertainties are not at all overlooked and emerging issues are explored The diversity of content of this volume meets many needs of the typical syllabus for a human rights course

Human Rights Kerri Woods, 2017-08-24 What are human rights Why do we have them How do we know for sure which rights are specific to humans And how should we respond when we disagree on them and on the obligations we owe to others who claim human rights These are just a few of the questions taken up in this broad ranging and systematic introduction to the theory of human rights The author draws on both traditional perspectives and current debates in the field to address key contemporary issues and conceptual questions She asks whether or not human rights can be said to be universal and whether human rights can encompass global justice environmental rights and global security for future generations In addition she explores the particular effects of differences of gender sexuality culture and religion on the nature of human rights in contemporary society and the implications these might have for international legal and political regimes Providing a comprehensive and accessible account of the key theoretical ideas in the field this text is essential for those seeking to understand the importance of human rights in shaping the moral and political claims of individuals cultures and societies across the world

A Philosophical History of Rights Gary B. Herbert, Examining Human Rights Issues and the Democracy Project in Sub-Saharan Africa E. Ike Udogu, 2014-03-06 Sub Saharan Africa is experiencing an impressive measure of economic revivalism that is driven by both national and international forces at the beginning of the twenty first century That political and business leaders in the region are determined that development in this millennium will not mimic the slow pace of growth in the twentieth is a given Undoubtedly the rapid spread of information communications technology ICT and contemporary investments of China in the region's growth agenda bear this thesis out This book among other things advances the theory that improving human rights practices and the democracy project i e democratic consolidation in sub Saharan Africa will create an enabling environment that is critical for stimulating the current inspiring development objectives

Third World Attitudes Toward International Law Frederick E. Snyder, Surakiart Sathirathai, 1987-06-23

Recueil Des Cours, 1989-IV Académie de droit international de La Haye, 1990-11-01 The Academy is an institution for the study teaching of public private international law related subjects Its purpose is to encourage a thorough impartial examination of the problems arising from international relations in the field of law The courses deal with the theoretical practical aspects of the subject including legislation case law All courses at the Academy are in principle published in the language in which they were delivered in the Collected Courses of the Hague Academy of International Law This volume contains Reform but not Revolution General Course on Private International Law by Peter M NORTH Questions de droit international prive et dommages catastrophiques par Tito BALLARINO

Thinking About International Ethics Frances V Harbour, 2019-04-09 This book describes and analyzes important moral theories as they pertain to international politics and the study of international relations examining the role that moral thinking actually played in specific cases in American foreign policy

International Law: Politics and Values Louis Henkin, 2023-11-27 This volume derives from a series of lectures delivered as the general course at the Hague Academy of International law in July 1989 Like those lectures this volume does not pretend to provide a complete treatise covering all international law Rather it offers a particular perspective on the principal subjects of traditional international law elaborates new developments and dares reexamine assumptions and premises The book is built on three themes The first addresses law as politics and international law as the law of a political system now comprised of more than 180 separate independent states The essential autonomy of states accounts for the political as well as economic and cultural heterogeneity in a pluralist and fragmented system and international law as its common denominator of normative expression A second theme explores change in international law as reflecting change in the values and purposes of the international political system It traces the pursuit through law of the traditional ideal of the state system to secure every state's right to realize its own agenda through its own institutions and the superimposed contemporary purpose to promote individual human rights and welfare in every society The third theme perceives a movement in the law from conceptualism to functionalism from logical deduction out of abstract principles to pragmatic attention to practical needs and solutions to new and old human problems Each of these themes dominates in several chapters but the other themes are not absent from any of them Each will add a fresh perspective and contribute to understanding the nature and operation of international law in the international political system at the turn of a new century

Baderin,2003-09-11

This volume examines the important question of whether or not international human rights and Islamic law are compatible It asks whether Muslim States can comply with international human rights law whilst adhering to Islamic law The traditional arguments on this subject are examined and responded to from both international human rights and Islamic legal perspectives The volume engages international human rights law in theoretical dialogue with Islamic law facilitating an evaluation of the human rights policy of modern Muslim States International Human Rights and Islamic Law formulates a synthesis between these two extremes and argues that although there are differences of scope and application there is no fundamental incompatibility between these two bodies of law Baderin argues that their differences could be better addressed if the concept of human rights were positively established from within the themes of Islamic law rather than by imposing it upon Islamic law as an alien concept Each article of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights as well as relevant articles of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women are analysed in the light of Islamic law The volume concludes that it is possible to harmonise the differences between international human rights law and Islamic law through the adoption of the margin of appreciation doctrine by international human rights treaty bodies and the utilization of the Islamic law doctrines of maq sid al shar ah the overall objective of Shar ah and maslahah welfare by Muslim States in their interpretation and application of Islamic law respectively Baderin asserts that Islamic law can serve as an important vehicle for the guarantee and enforcement of international human rights law in the Muslim world and the volume concludes with recommendations to that effect

Faith in Human Rights Robert Traer, 1991-01-01 In this first comprehensive study of the problem of a universal definition of human rights Robert Traer argues that contemporary theological discourse contains an affirmation of faith that unites members of world religious traditions with secular humanists in a common struggle to establish human rights as the basis for human dignity Scholars of religion law and comparative religious ethics as well as human rights advocates will find it an invaluable guide
