Battani, John R. Hall, Mary Jo Neitz, 2004-06-02 Culture has become a touchstone of interdisciplinary conversation For readers interested in sociology the social sciences and the humanities this book maps major classical and contemporary analyses and cultural controversies in relation to social processes everyday life and axes of ordering and difference such as race class and gender Hall Neitz and Battani discuss self and identity stratification the Other the cultural histories of modernity and postmodernity production of culture the problem of the audience action social movements and change The authors advocate cultivating the sociological imagination by engaging myriad languages and perspectives of the social sciences and humanities while cultivating cultural studies by developing the sociological imagination Paying little respect to boundaries and incorporating fascinating examples this book draws on diverse intellectual perspectives and a variety of topics from various historical periods and regions of the world 9/11 and the Visual Culture of Disaster Thomas Stubblefield, 2014-12-17 An insightful view on how 9 11 is perceived in American society the day that refuses to enter history the tragedy that has in effect not yet passed Journal of Popular Culture The day the towers fell indelible images of plummeting rubble fire and falling bodies were imprinted in the memories of people around the world Images that were caught in the media loop after the disaster and coverage of the attack its aftermath and the wars that followed reflected a pervasive tendency to treat these tragic events as spectacle Though the collapse of the World Trade Center was the most photographed disaster in history it failed to yield a single noteworthy image of carnage Thomas Stubblefield argues that the absence within these spectacular images is the paradox of 9 11 visual culture which foregrounds the visual experience as it obscures the event in absence erasure and invisibility From the spectral presence of the Tribute in Light to Art Spiegelman s nearly blank New Yorker cover from the elimination of the Twin Towers from TV shows and films to the monumental cavities of Michael Arad s 9 11 memorial the void became the visual shorthand for the incident By examining configurations of invisibility and erasure across the media of photography film monuments graphic novels and digital representation Stubblefield interprets the post 9 11 presence of absence as the reaffirmation of national identity that implicitly laid the groundwork for the impending invasions of Iraq and Afghanistan A concise engaging and thought provoking work that asks the reader to reassess their knowledge and relationship to that moment and the resulting milieu of post 9 11 life in America ARLIS NA Reviews Extraordinarily brilliant will change how we think about disasters and tragedies The book is a must read for both students and practitioners of media studies Repository The International Photojournalism Industry Jonathan Ilan, 2018-07-17 How are events turned into news pictures that define them for the audience How do events become commodified into pictures that both capture them and reiterate the values of the agencies that sell them This book looks at every stage of the production of news

photographs as they move to and from the ground and are sold around the world Based on extensive fieldwork at a leading international news agency that includes participant observation with photographers in the field at the agency's local and global picture desks in Israel Singapore and the UK in depth interviews with pictures professionals and observations and in depth interviews at The Guardian's picture desk in London the findings in this book point to a wide cultural production infrastructure hidden from and yet also nurtured and thus very much determined by the consumer's eye
