Women's Albums and Photography in Victorian England Patrizia Di Bello, 2017-07-05 This beautifully illustrated study recaptures the rich history of women photographers and image collectors in nineteenth century England Situating the practice of collecting exchanging and displaying photographs and other images in the context of feminine sociability Patrizia Di Bello shows that albums express Victorian women's experience of modernity The albums of individual women and the broader feminine culture of collecting and displaying images are examined uncovering the cross references and fertilizations between women's albums and illustrated periodicals and demonstrating the way albums and photography itself were represented in women's magazines fashion plates and popular novels Bringing a sophisticated eye to overlooked images such as the family photograph Di Bello not only illustrates their significance as historical documents but elucidates the visual rhetorics at play

In doing so she identifies the connections between Victorian album making and the work of modern day amateurs and artists who use digital techniques to compile and decorate albums with Victorian style borders and patterns At a time when photographic album making is being re vitalised by digital technologies this book rewrites the history of photographic albums placing the female collector at its centre and offering an alternative history of photography focused on its uses rather than on its aesthetic or artistic considerations It is remarkable in elegantly connecting the history of photography with the fields of material culture and women s studies

Women and Photography in Africa Darren Newbury, Lorena Rizzo, Kylie Thomas, 2020-10-26 This collection explores women s multifaceted historical and contemporary involvement in photography in Africa The book offers new ways of thinking about the history of photography exploring through case studies the complex and historically specific articulations of gender and photography on the continent and attending to the challenge and potential of contemporary feminist and postcolonial engagements with the medium The volume is organised in thematic sections that present the lives and work of historically significant yet overlooked women photographers as well as the work of acclaimed contemporary African women photographers such as H la Ammar Fatoumata Diabat Lebohang Kganye and Zanele Muholi The book offers critical reflections on the politics of gendered knowledge production and the production of racialised and gendered identities and alternative and subaltern subjectivities Several chapters illuminate how contemporary African women photographers collectors and curators are engaging with colonial photographic archives to contest stereotypical forms of representation and produce powerful counter histories Raising critical questions about race gender and the history of photography the collection provides a model for interdisciplinary feminist approaches for scholars and students of art history visual studies and African history
