Understanding Rhetoric Eamon M. Cunningham, 2020-01-01 Understanding Rhetoric A Guide to Critical Reading and Argumentation is a composition textbook that outlines three essential skills rhetoric argument and source based writing geared towards newcomers and advanced students alike Though comprehensive in its coverage the book s focus is a simple one how to move beyond a gut reaction while reading to an articulation of what is effective and what is not while explicitly answering the most important question of Why This text gets at this central concern in two fundamental ways First the text teaches composition as a cumulative process coaching you how to question challenge and expand on not just the readings you hold in your hands but also how to interrogate the internal processes of writing and thinking The book s blend of composition methods detail the cross point of product and process to turn reading and writing from a matter of coming up with answers to questions to learning what type of questions need to be asked in the first place The right questions the text argues are fundamentally rhetorical in nature Second the content of the practice based chapters is framed into a larger mesh of intellectual history to show how the writing and thinking you are doing today is continuous with a long history of writing instruction that goes back to the ancient world This book provides equal representation from classical and contemporary theory with the recognition that theory cannot be fully grasped without practice and practice cannot be fully understood without its theoretical antecedent After all you can't write outside the box until you know where the box is and what it looks like Postmodern Canadian Fiction and the Rhetoric of Authority Glenn Deer, 1994 Criticism that takes an ideological approach to Canadian writing is scarce political rhetorical studies are even more uncommon In this original approach to postwar Canadian fiction Glenn Deer presents provocative readings of ideologies as well as experiments with authorial stances The Rhetoric of Literary Communication Virginie Iché, Sandrine Sorlin, 2022-01-31 Building on the notion of fiction as communicative act this collection brings together an interdisciplinary range of scholars to examine the evolving relationship between authors and readers in fictional works from 18th century English novels through to contemporary digital fiction The book showcases a diverse range of contributions from scholars in stylistics rhetoric pragmatics and literary studies to offer new ways of looking at the author reader channel drawing on work from Roger Sell Jean Jacques Lecercle and James Phelan The volume traces the evolution of its form across historical periods genres and media from its origins in the conversational mode of direct address in 18th century English novels to the use of second person narratives in the 20th century through to 21st century digital fiction with its implicit requirement for reader participation The book engages in questions of how the author reader channel is shaped by different forms and how this continues to evolve in emerging contemporary genres and of shifting ethics of author and reader involvement This book will be of particular interest to students and scholars interested in the intersection of pragmatics stylistics and literary studies Homes and Haunts Alison Booth, 2016 This is the first full length study of literary tourism in North America as well as Britain and a unique exploration of popular response to writers literary house museums and the landscapes or countries associated with their lives and works An interdisciplinary study ranging from 1820 1940 Homes and Haunts Touring Writers Shrines and Countries unites museum and tourism studies book history narrative theory theories of gender space and things and other approaches to depict and interpret the haunting experiences of exhibited houses and the curious history of topo biographical writing about famous authors In illustrated chapters that blend Victorian and recent first person encounters that range from literary shrines and plaques to guidebooks memoirs portraits and monuments Alison Booth discusses pilgrims such as William and Mary Howitt Anna Maria and Samuel Hall and Elbert Hubbard and magnetic hosts and guests as Washington Irving Wordsworth Martineau Longfellow Hawthorne James and Dickens Virginia Woolf's feminist response to homes and haunts shapes a chapter on Mary Russell Mitford Gaskell and the Brontës and another on the Carlyles house and Monk's House Booth rediscovers collections of personalities haunted shrines and imaginative re enactments that have been submerged by a century of academic literary criticism Readers and Reading Andrew Bennett, 2014-07-15 Much literary criticism focuses on literary producers and their products but an important part of such work considers the end user the reader It asks such questions as how far can the author condition the response of the reader and how much does the reader create the meaning of a text Dr Bennett s collection includes important essays from such writers and critics as Wolfgang Iser Mary Jacobus Roger Chartier Michel de Certeau Shoshana Felman Maurice Blanchot Paul de Man and Yves Bonnefoy It looks in turn at deconstructionist feminist new historicist and psychoanalytical response to the school The book then considers the act of reading itself discussing such issues as the uniqueness of any reading and the difficulties involved in its analysis Persuasion, Rhetoric and Roman Poetry Irene Peirano Garrison,Irene Peirano,2019-08-22 Offers a radical re appraisal of rhetoric s relation to literature with fresh insights into rhetorical sources and their reception in Roman poetry
