Reading Science Ben Agger, 1989 To find more information about Rowman and Littlefield titles please visit www.rowmanlittlefield.com A Critical Theory Of Public Life Ben Agger, 2013-10-31 This text collects together Ben Agger's essays on the origins significance and applications of critical theory a perspective associated with the Frankfurt School The essays address a variety of topics including the viability of Marxist theory and new social movements Nature, Knowledge and Negation Harry F. Dahms, 2009-12-04 Places emphasis on developments in the social theory of environmental issues the environment and the environmental crisis This also emphasises on the increasingly questionable possibility of shared knowledge at a time of increasing fragmentation of common frameworks distraction from key issues and dilution of the idea of objectivity Reconsidering Social Constructionism Gale Miller, 2017-09-29 With the impact of social interactionist and ethnographic methodology twenty five years ago the research agenda in social problems began to shift its focus giving rise to the Social Constructionism movement The present volume and the related shorter text Constructionist Controversies review the substantial contributions made by social constructionist theorists over that period as well as recent debates about the future of the perspective These contributions redefine the purpose and central questions of social problems theory and articulate a research program for analyzing social problems as social constructions A generation of theorists has been trained in the constructionist perspective and has extended it through numerous analyses of diverse aspects of contemporary social life The debates in this volume pose fundamental questions about the major assumptions of the perspective the ways in which it is practiced and the purposes of social problems theory Their point of departure is Ibarra and Kitsuse's essay cutting new theoretical ground in calling for investigating vernacular resources especially rhetorical forms in the social problems process Contributors are forceful proponents both within and outside of the social constructionist community who take a broad array of positions on the current state of social problems theory and on the rhetorical forms that need exploring They also lay down the general lines for diverse and often competing programs for the future development of the constructionist agenda Private Sociology Arthur B. Shostak, 1996 Each contributor to this book has used personal experience as the basis from which to frame his individual sociological perspectives Because they have personalized their work their accounts are real and recognizable as having come from real persons about real experiences There are no objectively distanced disembodied third person entities in these accounts These writers are actual people whose stories will make you laugh cry think and want to know more Ghostly Matters Avery F. Gordon, 2008-02-29 Avery Gordon's stunningly original and provocatively imaginative book explores the connections linking horror history and haunting George Lipsitz The text is of great value to anyone working on issues pertaining to the fantastic and the uncanny American Studies International Ghostly Matters immediately establishes Avery Gordon as a leader among her generation of social and cultural theorists in all fields The sheer beauty of her language enhances an intellectual brilliance so daunting that some readers will mark the day they first read this book One must go back many more years than most of us can remember to find a more important book Charles Lemert Drawing on a range of sources including the fiction of Toni Morrison and Luisa Valenzuela He Who Searches Avery Gordon demonstrates that past or haunting social forces control present life in different and more complicated ways than most social analysts presume Written with a power to match its subject Ghostly Matters has advanced the way we look at the complex intersections of race gender and class as they traverse our lives in sharp relief and shadowy manifestations Avery F Gordon is professor of sociology at the University of California Santa Barbara Janice Radway is professor of literature at Duke University Liberation Sociology Joe R. Feagin, Hernan Vera, 2020-04-22 Liberation sociology is concerned with eliminating social oppressions and creating truly just societies Liberation sociology takes sides with the oppressed and envisions an end to that oppression Liberation social scientists featured in this book consciously try to step outside their groups or societies and view them critically The authors examine theories and research of social scientists who ask Social science for what purpose and Social science for whom Case studies offer humanistic democratic and activist answers Featured researchers provide tools to increase human abilities to understand deep social realities engage in better dialogues and increase democratic participation in use of knowledge Many people of all ages today continue to be attracted to sociology and other social sciences because of their promise to contribute to better political social and moral understandings of themselves and their social worlds and often because they hope it will help them to build a better society We accent the liberation potential of social science with these social science teachers and students firmly in mind

Culture, Politics and Governing P. Nickel, 2015-02-10 Culture Politics and Governing The Contemporary Ascetics of Knowledge Production is a critical interdisciplinary approach to how the practices that govern the production of knowledge and culture have material consequences for how we experience everyday life Cultural Studies As Critical Theory Ben Agger, 2014-05-01 Examines the field of cultural studies and argues for its relevance in addressing the enormous impact of popular culture and mass media today Among the perspectives analysed are the Marxist sociology of culture and poststructural postmodern analysis Speeding Up Fast Capitalism Ben Agger, 2015-12-22 In his 1989 book Fast Capitalism Ben Agger presented a framework for understanding late 20th century social problems Speeding Up Fast Capitalism a sequel to his earlier book assesses social changes since the end of the 1980s brought about by information technologies like the Internet which have quickened the pace of everyday life In Speeding Up Fast Capitalism Agger assesses the impact of the Internet on consciousness communication culture and community and evaluates the prospects of democratic social change Where the earlier book was largely theoretical Speeding Up applies critical theory to specific topics such as Internet culture work families childhood schooling food the body and fitness Although indebted to Fast Capitalism the sequel appeals to an audience wider than theorists including empirical sociologists social scientists and scholars in cultural disciplines North American Critical Theory After Postmodernism P. Nickel, 2012-08-21 In a series of interviews this book explores the formative experiences of a generation of critical theorists whose work originated in the midst of what has been called the postmodern turn including discussions of their views on the evolution of critical theory over the past 30 years and their assessment of contemporary politics

Critical Strategies for Social Research William K. Carroll, 2004
 Edited by Canadian sociologist William K Carroll this thought provoking volume is designed for research methods courses in sociology and social sciences Critical Strategies for Social Research explores ways in which several key research strategies bring an emancipatory dimension to social analysis The new approaches recognize that social analysis is a form of knowledge production that takes place in a human constructed world marked by injustice and persistent inequality Carroll considers five influential and productive strategies of inquiry Dialectical Social Analysis Institutional Ethnography Participatory Action Research Critical Discourse Analysis Social Inquiry as Communicative Reason

Human Behavior and Social Environments Dennis Saleebey, 2001-08-20 Human behavior is a subject so vast that it would seem to defy one's ability to comfortably and confidently grasp its varieties nuances shapes and dynamics But in this wide ranging and comprehensive survey of the contexts of human behavior Dennis Saleebey examines the different social science approaches to understanding the way humans react to and are affected by their environment Using a biopsychosocial perspective this book demonstrates that there are many paths of knowledge many methods of inquiry and many perspectives that can guide one's understanding of human behavior Resilience how we cope with trauma and meaning making how we see and make sense of the world around us provide the conceptual framework of the book Saleebey examines a number of specific theories relevant to the biopsychosocial approach part whole analysis psychodynamic theory ecological theory cognitive theory and radical critical theory Human development is presented as a continuing interaction between individual family community social institutions and culture Pedagogical devices to aid the student include chapter overviews case studies and meaning making dialogues at the end of each chapter that pose questions for further thought

Writing Marketing Stephen Brown, 2005-09-15 Marketing is a very diverse discipline dealing with everything from the costs of globalization to the benefits of money back guarantees However there is one thing that all marketing academics share They are writers They publish or perish Their careers are advanced and their reputations are enhanced by the written word Despite its importance writing is rarely discussed much less written about by marketing scholars It is one of the least understood yet most significant academic competencies It is a competency in need of careful study Writing Marketing is the first such study It offers a detailed reading of five renowned marketing writers ranging from Ted Levitt to Morris Holbrook and draws lessons that can be adopted with profit by everyone else Although it is not a how to book there are no lengthy lists of dos and don'ts Writing Marketing reveals that the rules of good writing are good for nothing Written by Stephen Brown whose own writing skills are much commented upon Writing Marketing is insightful illuminating and iconoclastic It is a must read for every marketing academic irrespective of their methodological inclinations or philosophical preferences

of Domination tackles nothing less than the challenge of giving critical theory a new grip on current problems and restoring the left's faith in the possibility of enlightened social change Agger steers a course between orthodox Marxism and orthodox anti Marxism bringing the concepts of ideology dialectic and domination out of the academy and making them into a living medium of political self expression

Practising Human Geography Paul Cloke, Ian Cook, Philip Crang, Mark Goodwin, Joe Painter, Chris Philo, 2004-04-21 Filling an enormous gap in the geographic literature here is a terrific book that shows us how to think about and practice human geographic research Professor Jennifer Wolch University of Southern California Practising Human Geography lucidly comprehensively and sometimes passionately shows why methodology matters and why it is often so hard To choose a method is to choose the kind of geographical values one wants to uphold You need to get it right These authors do Trevor Barnes University of British Columbia Practising Human Geography is a godsend for students Written in an accessible and engaging style the book demystifies the study of geographical methodology offering a wealth of practical advice from the authors own research experience This is not a manual of approved geographical techniques It is a reflexive critical and highly personal account combining historical depth with up to the minute examples of research in practice Practising Human Geography is a comprehensive and theoretically informed introduction to the practices of fieldwork data collection interpretation and writing enabling students to make sense of their own data and to develop a critical perspective on the existing literature The book makes complicated ideas approachable through the effective use of case studies and a firm grasp of contemporary debates Peter Jackson Professor of Human Geography University of Sheffield Practising Human Geography is a critical introduction to key issues in the practice of human geography informed by the question how do geographers do research In examining those methods and practices that are essential to doing geography the text presents a theoretically informed discussion of the construction and interpretation of geographical data including the use of core research methodologies using official and non official sources and the interpretative role of the researcher Framed by an overview of how ideas of practising human geography have changed the twelve chapters offer a comprehensive and integrated overview of research methodologies The text is illustrated throughout with text boxes case studies and definitions of key terms Practising Human Geography will introduce geographers from undergraduate to faculty to the core issues that inform research design and practice

Turning Points in Qualitative Research Yvonna S. Lincoln, Norman K. Denzin, 2004-09-08 This is a book of signposts of key turning points of Gregory Bateson's knots tied in a handkerchief Each article reproduced in this volume edited by leading qualitative methodologists Lincoln and Denzin represents one of these turning points in qualitative research a revolution in the way research is conceptualized and practiced Authority representation legitimation ethics methods presentation even the purpose of qualitative research have all been transformed by these articles and the authors who penned them Bringing together the work of scholars from Haraway to Geertz Mead to Mishler Clifford to Conquergood Laurel Richardson to Miles Richardson the editors are able trace the changes in the discipline over the past five decades A necessary addition to the shelf of all researchers it will also be a key textbook for training the next generation of scholars in the history and trajectory of qualitative research Genocide Graham Charles Kinloch,Raj P. Mohan,2005 Twenty authors analyze factors behind genocidal situations worldwide with detailed case studies and an evaluation of attempts to prevent genocide and of the implications for human rights policies with a particular concern to develop new and practicalinsights Provided by publisher Social Analysis of Education Philip Wexler,2017-04-28 First published in 1987 this book offers an ideological critique of the new sociology of education with the aim to redeem understanding of the social and historical character of knowledge It argues that with an historical and social grasp university knowledge can be understood as a collective product and can become a useful resource for encountering and transforming the social present To reach this objective the book reviews the history of the new sociology of education and shows how it is limited by earlier times and social conflicts In doing so it aims to continue the unrealized critical analysis that was promised by the new sociology of education and remained contained A Sociology of the Absurd Stanford M. Lyman,Marvin B. Scott,1989 This work provides a crystallization and particularization of a school of sociological thinking variously called creative sociology existential sociology phenomenological sociology conflict theory and dramaturgical analysis The result is a methodological synthesis of the dual visions of Erving Goffman and Harold Garfinkel This book equips the reader with a framework for providing adequate descriptions of those face to face encounters that make up everyday life This edition includes essays not found in the first edition as well as a new introduction that locates it in the spectrum of contemporary theorizing
