

American Government Chapter 6

The Politics of Public Opinion

- Public Opinion- collection of popular views about something
- Beliefs- closely held ideas that support our values and expectations about life and politics
- Attitudes- the preferences we form based on our life experiences and values
- Socialization- learning about the society and community we live in and how we are to behave in it
- Political socialization- process by which we are trained to understand and join a country's political world
- Party support shifts with world events
 - Ex. after 9/11 people became more republican
- Agent of political socialization- source of political information intended to help citizens understand how to act and think in their political systems
 - Ex. family, school, social groups, media
- Diffuse support- support characterized by a high level of stability in politics, believing government is legitimate
- Framing- choosing the way information is presented
 - Most common in media
- Covert content- political information provided under the pretense that it is neutral
 - Only acknowledges one argument, but is presented as being neutral
- Overt content- political information is provided from one side of the argument, but it is made clear to the viewer
- Gove vs Butler debate- assumes that governments have finite amount of money and must choose whether to spend a larger part on the military or on social programs

- Fascism- promoted total control of the country by the ruling party or political leader
- Traditional conservatism- supports authority of the monarchy and the church, believes that government provided rule of law and maintains society
