House of Representatives,1878 Local Government, Local Legislation R.J.B. Morris,2016-10-04 In the mid Victorian period when British international influence and power were at their height concerns about local economic and social conditions were only slowly coming to be recognised as part of the obligations and expectations of central government Adopting a legal history perspective this study reveals how municipal authorities of this period had few public law powers to regulate local conditions or to provide services and thus the more enterprising went direct to Parliament to obtain at a price the passing specific local Bills to address their needs Identifying and analysing for the first time the 335 local Parliamentary Bills promoted by local authorities in the period from the passing of the Local Government Act 1858 to the first annual report of the Local Government Board in 1872 the book draws three main conclusions from this huge mass of local statute book material The first is that far from being an uncoordinated mass of inconsistent quixotic provisions these Acts have a substantial degree of cohesion as a body of material Second the towns and cities of northern England secured more than half of them Thirdly the costs of promotions and the vested interests involved in them represented a huge and often wasteful outlay that a more pragmatic and forward looking Parliamentary attitude could have greatly reduced Constituency Influence in Parliament Kelly Blidook,2012-04-12 Canada s parliamentary system has been characterized as executive dominant with governance focused on the centre and scholars have paid little attention to the legislature and its members Constituency Influence in Parliament illuminates how MPs in their pursuit of various goals in the legislature play an important representative role in shaping policy This critical volume offers the first full scale examination of the rules and conduct of parliamentary Private Members Business and of the electoral and policy motivations of those who hold the country s highest elected office Kelly Blidook offers a thought provoking assessment of the representational and policy dynamics that exist within the Canadian institutional structure His examination of what MPs do why they do it and what effect it has resurrects the relevance of Canada s Parliament General Index to the Journals of the House of Commons of the Dominion of Canada and of the Sessional Papers, ... Canada.
