Religion Conflict And Reconciliation:

Religion, Conflict and Reconciliation ,2021-10-25 From the contents Andre DROOGERS Religious reconciliation a view from the social sciences Hendrik M VROOM The nature and origins of religious conflicts some philosophical considerations Michael McGHEE Buddhist thoughts on conflict Reconciliation and religion Tzvi MARX Theological preparation for reconciliation in Judaism Agus Rachmat WIDYANTO Interreligious conflict and reconciliation in Indonesia

Conflict and Reconciliation John Bowker,2008 Religions are involved in many long running conflicts around the world from the Balkans and the Middle East to Kashmir and Sri Lanka All that is well known Not so well known are the resources that religions can bring specifically and uniquely to the process of peace and reconciliation after conflict This book looks in detail at the ways in which the search for reconciliation is an obligation even a command in particular religions Religions understand reconciliation very differently and those differences are made clear in this book But the quest for reconciliation however differently it is understood is an obligation in religions that should be much better understood and employed by those who seek peace in the world

Moving Beyond Sectarianism Joseph Liechty,Cecelia Clegg,2001 A six year research project of the Irish School of Ecumenics concerned with Christianities and sectarianism in Northern Ireland and offering a detailed analysis of sectarian dynamics

Religion, Conflict and Reconciliation K. G. Hammar,Sverige Millenniekommittén,2000 Religion and Conflict Resolution Megan Shore,2016-04-08 This book examines the ambiguous role that Christianity played in South Africa s Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC It has two objectives to analyse the role Christianity played in the TRC and to highlight certain consequences that may be instructive to future international conflict resolution processes Religion and conflict resolution is an area of significant importance Ongoing conflicts involving Palestinians and Israelis Muslims and Hindus and even radical Islamic jihadists and Western countries have heightened the awareness of the potential power of religion to fuel conflict Yet these religious traditions also promote peace and respect for others as key components in doing justice Examining the potential role religion can play in generating peace and justice specifically Christianity in South Africa s TRC is of utmost importance as religiously inspired violence continues to occur This book highlights the importance of accounting for religion in international conflict resolution

Religion, Conflict, and Peacebuilding Stipe Odak,2020-10-27 This book provides fresh insights into the role of religious leaders in conflict transformation and peacebuilding Based on a large dataset of interviews with Christian and Muslim leaders in Bosnia and Herzegovina it offers a contextually rich analysis of the main post conflict challenges forgiveness reconciliation and tragic memories Designed as an inductive qualitative research it also develops an integrative theoretical model of religiously inspired engagement in conflict transformation The work introduces a number of new concepts which are relevant for both theory and practice of peacebuilding such as Residue of Forgiveness Degree Zero of Reconciliation Ecumene of Compassion and Phantomic Memories The book furthermore proposes two correlated concepts theological dissonance and pastoral optimization as theoretical tools to describe the interplay between moral ideals and practical limitations The text is a valuable resource for religious and social scholars alike especially those interested in topics of peace conflict and justice From the methodological standpoint it is an original and audacious attempt at bringing together theological philosophical and political narratives on conflicts and peace through the innovative use of the Grounded Theory approach

The Oxford Handbook of Religion, Conflict, and Peacebuilding Atalia Omer,R. Scott Appleby,David Little,2015-03-02 This volume provides a comprehensive and interdisciplinary account of the scholarship on religion conflict and peacebuilding Looking far beyond the traditional parameters of the field the contributors engage deeply with the legacies of colonialism missionary activism secularism orientalism and liberalism as they relate to the discussion of religion violence and nonviolent transformation and resistance Featuring numerous case studies from various contexts and traditions the volume is organized thematically into five different parts It begins with an up to date mapping of scholarship on religion and violence and religion and peace The second part explores the challenges related to developing secularist theories on peace and nationalism broadening the discussion of violence to include an analysis of cultural and structural forms In the third section the chapters explore controversial topics such as religion and development religious militancy and the freedom of religion as a keystone of peacebuilding The fourth part locates notions of peacebuilding in spiritual practice by focusing on constructive resources within various traditions the transformative role of rituals youth and interfaith activism in American university campuses religion and solidarity activism scriptural reasoning as a peacebuilding practice and an extended reflection on the history and legacy of missionary peacebuilding The volume concludes by looking to the future of peacebuilding scholarship and the possibilities for new growth and progress Bringing together a diverse array of scholars this innovative handbook grapples with the tension between theory and practice cultural theory and the legacy of the liberal peace paradigm offering provocative elastic and context specific insights for strategic peacebuilding processes

On the Significance of Religion in Conflict and Conflict Resolution Christine Schliesser,S. Ayse Kadayifci-Orellana,Pauline Kollontai,2020-07-01 In this ground breaking volume the authors analyze the role of religion in conflict and conflict resolution They do so from the perspectives of Judaism Christianity and Islam while bringing different disciplines into play including peace and conflict studies religious studies theology and ethics With much of current academic political and public attention focusing on the conflictive dimensions of religion this book also explores the constructive resources of religion for conflict resolution and reconciliation Analyzing the specific contributions of religious actors in this field their potentials and possible problems connected with them this book sheds light on the concrete contours of the oftentimes vague religious factor in processes of social change Case studies in current and former settings of violent conflict such as Israel post genocide Rwanda and Pakistan provide real life contexts for discussion Combining cutting edge research with case studies and concrete implications for academics policy makers and practitioners this concise and easily accessible volume helps to build bridges between these oftentimes separated spheres of engagement The Open Access version of this book available at <http://doi.org/10.4324/9781003002888> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Religion in World Conflict Jonathan Fox, Shmuel Sandler, 2014-02-04 This new book tackles two crucial questions First how does religion in its various forms and manifestations influence world politics Second how will adding religion to the discourse on international relations modify our theoretical understanding Each of these leading authors addresses different aspects of these questions in different contexts providing a diverse and multifaceted view of the topic Susanna Pearce and Tanja Ellingsen examine the religious causes of conflict on the macro level Several of the contributors focus on specific conflicts The Gaurav Ghose and Patrick James examine the Kashmir conflict from the Pakistani perspective and Carolyn James and Ozgur Ozdamar examine it from the Indian perspective Similarly Hillel Frisch examines the Palestinian Israeli conflict from the Palestinian perspective and Jonathan Rynhold examines it from the Israeli perspective Finally two of the authors examine other important issues Stuart Cohen examines the evolution of the religious view of war in the Jewish tradition and Yehudit Auerbach examines whether it can play a role in conflict resolution and reconciliation These assessments deliver fascinating conclusions This book was previously published as a Special Issue of Terrorism and Violence

Material Perspectives on Religion, Conflict, and Violence, 2022-09-12 How do objects become contested in settings characterized by violent conflict Why are some things contested by religious actors How do religious actors mobilize things in conflict situations and how are conflict and violence experienced by religious groups This volume explores relations between materiality religion and violence by drawing upon two fields of scholarship that have rarely engaged with one another research on religion and violent conflict and the material turn within religious studies This way this volume sets the stage for the development of new conceptual and methodological directions in the study of religion related violent conflict that takes materiality seriously Contributors are Christoph Baumgartner Margaretha van Es Lucien van Liere Erik Meinema Birgit Meyer Daan F Oostveen Younes Saramifar Joram Tarusarira Tammy Wilks

Faith-Based Reconciliation Brian Cox,2012-01 The faith based reconciliation process is an innovative approach to diplomacy and peacemaking that has been developed over the past twenty years by Brian Cox who brings together a unique background in politics theological and pastoral training conflict resolution and international experience This approach is defined by eight core values and by a deliberative process that focuses on creating a reconciling spirit between antagonists as a prelude to constructive joint problem solving As a methodology it is not a form of interfaith dialogue or a traditional conflict resolution model It is a totally unique process that causes participants to search the depths of their own being and to experience at the deepest level the heart of the other in a faith based context It is Abrahamic reconciliation

An Assessment of Contemporary Models of Forgiveness Célestin Musekura,2010 Celestin Musekura had just begun doctoral studies in Dallas when he learned that many of his own family members had been killed in a wave of genocide reprisals back home in Rwanda Revenge would have been understandable but he said I have preached forgiveness and now it is my turn to practice it To my family I say I will pray for those who brutally murdered you and I will care for their children It should come as no surprise that Celestin s understanding of forgiveness well expressed in these pages is restoring communities throughout sub Saharan Africa He knows and practices that of which he speaks This book sets a course for realistic collective transformation Robert A Pyne Th D Director Peace and Justice Center St Norbert College Book Jacket

Forgiveness and Reconciliation Raymond G. Helmick,2008 This book brings together a unique combination of experts in the area of conflict resolution and focuses on the role forgiveness can play in the process It deals with the theology public policy psychological and social theory and social policy implementation of forgiveness Religions View Religions ,2006-01-01 Because religion is so central to the lives and experience of the vast majority of people throughout the world it figures very prominently in a variety of ways in interhuman relations Unfortunately religion often appears to be one of the potent sources of mistrust discord and strife between and among individuals groups and cultures What frequently lies at the root of such suspicion and dissension is general ignorance concerning the religious other a lack of knowledge about his or her beliefs aspirations and views of the good and morally honorable life And even if people have some factual knowledge about other religions they regularly display little understanding of them and their adherents Learning both to know and understand people of other faiths and their religions is absolutely requisite to the realization of paradigms of coherent and intelligent convivance that is living together in sensible peaceable and cooperative harmony An effective agency for fostering such knowledge and understanding is the discipline of theology of religions which examines how religions have and ought to view other religions And it is particularly the practice of comparative theology of religions which bears the most promise in this regard The present symposium consists of precisely this kind of comparative exercise and may be viewed as an important contribution to the development of a new project which endeavors to enlarge the horizon and broaden the focus and reflection of theology of religions as that has been gradually developed during the last few decades a new enterprise in other words which seeks to universalize and mutualize theology of religions discourse One of the important things this volume shows is that the views religions have of other religions differ from one another in very substantial ways which is explained by the fact that they derive from diverging paradigms of faith belief and ritual and specific cultural and social contexts This textbook demonstrates how strongly different Hindu Buddhist Shinto and Confucian views are from those of Islam Judaism and Christianity which latter in turn also exhibit considerable differences among themselves These differences are greater than people immersed in their own cultures often realize or expect It is becoming ever more clear that ignorance of or disinclination to acknowledge or refusal to accept these real differences constitute major root causes of serious conflicts in the world The essays in this book written by representatives of the major world religions offer descriptive and or prescriptive appraisals of other religions in general or one other religion in particular from the perspective of the religion of the author concerned It is hoped that this unique exercise in intercultural theology of religions will generate insights and new forms of understanding which can be used by religious leaders and other educators to help correct the disposition toward religious haughtiness insularity and communalism and the dangerous leanings toward interreligious suspicion antipathy and animosity which are all too often evident in our contemporary societies
