Universe Bruce M. Jakosky,2022-10-18 Are we alone in the universe As humans are we unique or are we part of a greater cosmic existence What is life s future on Earth and beyond How does life begin and develop These are age old questions that have inspired wonder and controversy ever since the first people looked up into the sky With today s technology however we are closer than ever to finding the answers Astrobiology is the relatively new but fast growing scientific discipline that involves trying to understand the origin evolution and distribution of life within the universe It is also one of the few scientific disciplines that attracts the public s intense curiosity and attention This interest stems largely from the deep personal meaning that the possible existence of extraterrestrial life has for so many Whether this meaning relates to addressing the Big Questions of our existence the possibility of encountering life on other planets or the potential impact on our understanding of religion there is no doubt that the public is firmly vested in finding answers In this broadly accessible introduction to the field Bruce Jakosky looks at the search for life in the universe not only from a scientific perspective but also from a distinctly social one In lucid and engaging prose he addresses topics including the contradiction between the public s fascination and the meager dialogue that exists between those within the scientific community and those outside of it and what has become some of the most impassioned political wrangling ever seen in government science funding

Writing a New Society V. Matheson-Hooker, 2021-10-01 Writing a New Society is the first extended study of the novel in Malay and is a groundbreaking study of the relationship between social change and literary practice The book traces the emergence of the genre from the 1920s and drawing on 26 of Malaysia s best known novels argues that the form was developed as a vehicle for transforming Malay ideas about themselves and their society Virginia Hooker focuses on the underlying anxiety about racial identity which underpins much of Malay writing and examines how ethnic identity is constructed and expressed In a radical break with the traditional notion of Malay society as being totally dependent on the Sultan the book shows how the novelists centre their writings on descriptions of ordinary Malays and present the household as the primary site of change Here the novels develop and describe a private sphere where Malays who previously had no rights begin to exercise their initiative The concept of social equality which inspires the novelists subverts many of the themes of modern Malay politics

Hanegraaff, 1998-01-01 This volume introduces what has sometimes been called the third component of western culture It traces the historical development of those religious traditions which have rejected a world view based on the primacy of pure rationality or doctrinal faith emphasizing instead the importance of inner enlightenment or gnosis a revelatory experience which was typically believed to entail an encounter with one's true self as well as with the ground of being God The contributors to this book demonstrate this perspective as fundamental to a variety of interconnected traditions In Antiquity one finds the gnostics and hermetics in the Middle Ages several Christian sects The medieval Cathars can to a certain extent be considered part of the same tradition Starting with the Italian humanist Renaissance hermetic philosophy became of central importance to a new religious synthesis that can be referred to as Western Esotericism The development of this tradition is described from Renaissance hermeticists and practitioners of spiritual alchemy to the emergence of Rosicrucianism and Christian theosophy in the seventeenth century and from post enlightenment aspects of Romanticism and occultism to the present day New Age movement
