Phenomenon of Religion Ninian Smart, 1973-06-18 The Christ's Faith Michael Allen, 2009-04-01 The Christ's Faith coheres with orthodox Christology and Reformation soteriology and needs to be affirmed to properly confirm the true humanity of the incarnate Son Without addressing the interpretation of the Pauline phrase pistis christou this study offers a theological rationale for an exegetical possibility and enriches a dogmatic account of the humanity of the Christ The coherence of the Christ's faith is shown in two ways First the objection of Thomas Aquinas is refuted by demonstrating that faith is fitting for the incarnate Son Second a theological ontology is offered which affirms divine perfection and transcendence in qualitative fashion undergirding a Chalcedonian and Reformed Christology Thus the humanity of the Christ may be construed as a fallen human nature assumed by the person of the Word and sanctified by the Holy Spirit The dogmatic location of The Christ's Faith is sketched by suggesting its potential function within three influential theological systems Thomas Aquinas federal theology and Karl Barth Furthermore the soteriological role of the doctrine is demonstrated by showing the theological necessity of faith for valid obedience before God Crucifying Religion Donavon Riley, 2019-08-01 Jesus is the end of all religion All the sacrifices of priests and people are rendered null and void by Jesus one time for all time sacrifice for all people everywhere past present and future tense Jesus death and resurrection save us from our own religiosity CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY Edward D. With contributions by theological ethicists known for their excellence in scholarship and teaching, the essays in this volume offer fresh purchase on and an agenda for the discipline of Christian ethics in the 21st century. The essays are organized in three sections following an introduction that presents the four font approach and elucidates why it is critically employed through these subsequent sections. The first section explores the sources of Christian ethics, including each of the four fonts: scripture, tradition, experience, and reason. The second section examines fundamental or basic elements of Christian ethics and covers different methods, approaches, and voices in doing Christian ethics, such as natural law, virtue ethics, conscience, responsibility, narrative, worship, and engagement with other religions. The third section addresses current moral issues in politics, medicine, economics, ecology, criminal justice, and other related spheres from the perspective of Christian ethics, including war, genetics, neuroethics, end of life decisions, marriage, family, work, sexuality, nonhuman animals, migration, aging, policing, incarceration, capital punishment, and more.

Christian Heresy, James Joyce, and the Modernist Literary Imagination Gregory Erickson, 2022-02-10 Organized by heretical movements and texts from the Gnostic Gospels to The Book of Mormon, this book uses the work of James Joyce, particularly Ulysses and Finnegans Wake, as a prism to explore how the history of Christian heresy remains part of how we read, write, and think about books today. Erickson argues that the study of classical, medieval, and modern debates over heresy and orthodoxy provide new ways of understanding modernist literature and literary theory. Using Joyce's works as a springboard to explore different perspectives and intersections of 20th-century literature and the modern literary and religious imagination, this book gives us new insights into how our modern and secular reading practices unintentionally reflect how we understand our religious histories. Postcolonial Theology of Religions Jenny Daggers, 2013-07-18 This original and ambitious book considers the terms of engagement between Christian theology and other religious traditions beginning with criticism of Christian theology of religions as entangled with European colonial modernity Jenny Daggers covers recent efforts to disentangle Eurocentrism from the meeting of the religions and investigates new constructive possibilities arising in the postcolonial context In dialogue with Asian and feminist theologies she reflects on ways forward for relations between the religions and offers a particularist model for theology of religions standing within a classical Trinitarian framework
