Remembered Prisoners of a Forgotten War Lewis H. Carlson, 2003-03-01 Remembered Prisoners of a Forgotten War presents a devastating oral history of Korean War POWs The Korean War POW remains the most maligned victim of all American wars For nearly half a century the media general public and even scholars have described hundreds of these prisoners as brainwashed victims who uncharacteristically caved in to their Communist captors or even worse as turncoats who betrayed their fellow soldiers In either case these boys apparently lacked the right stuff required of our brave sons Here at long last is a chance to hear the true story of these courageous men in their own words a story that until now has gone largely untold Dr Carlson debunks many of the popular myths of Korean War POWs in this devastating oral history that is as compelling and moving as it is informative From the Tiger Death March to the paranoia here at home Korean POWs suffered injustices on a scale few can comprehend More than 40 percent of the 7 140 Americans taken prisoner died in captivity and as haunting tales of the survivors unfold it becomes clear that the goal of these men was simply to survive under the most terrible conditions Each survivor's story is a unique and personal experience from missionary teacher Larry Zeller's imprisonment in the death cells of Pyongyang and his first encounter with the infamous killer known as The Tiger to Rubin Townsend's daring escape from a death march by jumping off a bridge in a blinding snowstorm From capture to forced marches isolation permanent camps and torture Remembered Prisoners of a Forgotten War is one of the most fascinating and disturbing books on the Korean War in years and a brutally honest account of the Korean POW experience in the survivors own words

Pash, 2014-05-22 Largely overshadowed by World War II's greatest generation and the more vocal veterans of the Vietnam era Korean War veterans remain relatively invisible in the narratives of both war and its aftermath Yet just as the beaches of Normandy and the jungles of Vietnam worked profound changes on conflict participants the Korean Peninsula chipped away at the beliefs physical and mental well being and fortitude of Americans completing wartime tours of duty there Upon returning home Korean War veterans struggled with home front attitudes toward the war faced employment and family dilemmas and wrestled with readjustment Not unlike other wars Korea proved a formative and defining influence on the men and women stationed in theater on their loved ones and in some measure on American culture In the Shadow of the Greatest Generation not only gives voice to those Americans who served in the forgotten war but chronicles the larger personal and collective consequences of waging war the American way I Cannot Forget Judith Fenner Gentry, John Wilson Moore, 2013-09-01 Eighteen year old Johnny Moore was an energetic self-confident private first class when he entered combat with a heavy weapons platoon in Korea Four and a half months later after surviving heavy attacks on the Pusan Perimeter and in one of the forward units of the western column advancing on the Yalu River he was captured by the Chinese infantry Moore and other American POWs suffered from starvation rations bitter cold and mental torment Although the intense Chinese efforts to change the prisoners' ideologies were largely unsuccessful they were very effective in engendering distrust among the prisoners and abandonment of duty by the officers Encouraged by an American sergeant Moore worked with his captors to obtain better sanitation a fairer distribution of food and on two occasions medicine for the sick Twice he tried to escape from imprisonment Just four days after his twenty-first birthday in 1953 the Chinese released him Moore cooperated fully with US military interrogators giving as much information as he could on the prison camp and the methods his captors had used But two years later army officers arrested him at his home and charged him with treason Although the charge was dropped and a Field Board of Inquiry returned him to regular duty the army's treatment of him left Moore further traumatized He eventually went AWOL and turned to drinking gambling and other self-destructive behaviors Military historian Judith Fenner Gentry has worked with Moore's memoirs of his experiences during and after the war to corroborate clarify elaborate and situate his story within the larger events in Korea and in the Cold War She has consulted records from courts martial newspaper interviews with returning POWs and Freedom of Information Act documents on the Army Criminal Investigation Division and the Army Counter Intelligence Corps Name, Rank, and

Cold Days in Hell William Clark Latham, 2013-02-03 Prisoners suffer in every conflict but American servicemen captured during the Korean War faced a unique ordeal Like prisoners in other wars these men endured harsh conditions and brutal mistreatment at the hands of their captors In Korea however they faced something new a deliberate enemy program of indoctrination and coercion designed to manipulate them for propaganda purposes Most Americans rejected their captors promise of a Marxist paradise yet after the cease fire in 1953 American prisoners came home to face a second wave of attacks Exploiting popular American fears of communist infiltration critics portrayed the returning prisoners as weak willed pawns who had been brainwashed into betraying their country The truth was far more complicated Following the North Korean assault on the Republic of Korea in June of 1950 the invaders captured more than a thousand American soldiers and brutally executed hundreds more American prisoners who survived their initial moments of captivity faced months of neglect starvation and brutal treatment as their captors marched them north toward prison camps in the Yalu River Valley Counterattacks by United Nations forces soon drove the North Koreans back across the 38th Parallel but the unexpected intervention of Communist Chinese forces in November of 1950 led to the capture of several thousand more American prisoners Neither the North Koreans nor their Chinese allies were prepared to house or feed the thousands of prisoners in their custody and half of the Americans captured that winter perished for lack of food shelter and medicine Subsequent communist efforts to indoctrinate and coerce propaganda statements from their prisoners sowed suspicion and doubt among those who survived Relying on memoirs trial transcripts debriefings declassified government reports published analysis and media coverage plus conversations interviews and correspondence with several dozen former prisoners William Clark Latham Jr seeks to correct misperceptions that still linger six decades after the prisoners came home
