Remembering Africa

Benedict Schofield, James R. Hodgkinson

Remembering Africa:

Remembering Africa M. Elisabeth Mudimbe-boyi, 2002 This collection of essays is concerned less with the representation of Africa than with the memory of the continent Remembering Africa and Its Diasporas Audra DipTEE, David Vincent Trotman, 2012 Remembering Africa and its Diasporas is a collection of essays concerned with the construction of memories and public histories It also explores the various dynamics that have shaped the way in which Africa and its diasporas have been viewed and chronicled outside of academia The chapters focus on how public perception are used both within Africa and within numerous African diasporas The essays are written by a broad range of authors from around the globe and discuss diasporas in Latin and North America as well as the Caribbean Forgotten Africa Graham Connah, 2004-08-19 Forgotten Africa provides an introduction to Africa's past from an archaeological perspective

Talking to the Dead LeRhonda S. Manigault-Bryant, 2014-05-14 Talking to the Dead is an ethnography of seven Gullah Geechee women from the South Carolina lowcountry These women communicate with their ancestors through dreams prayer and visions and traditional crafts and customs such as storytelling basket making and ecstatic singing in their churches Like other Gullah Geechee women of the South Carolina and Georgia coasts these women through their active communication with the deceased make choices and receive guidance about how to live out their faith and engage with the living LeRhonda S Manigault Bryant emphasizes that this communication affirms the women's spiritual faith which seamlessly integrates Christian and folk traditions and reinforces their position as powerful culture keepers within Gullah Geechee society By looking in depth at this long standing spiritual practice Manigault Bryant highlights the subversive ingenuity that lowcountry inhabitants use to thrive spiritually and to maintain a sense of continuity with the past Africa Air University (U.S.). Library, 1993 Remembering Africa Jo Paroz, 2005-03-17 After a 30 year career in New Mexico it was time for a change but what to do next That was the dilemma Jo was seeking something unknown and unnamed until she found her way to Africa a place where she could live out her dream of adventure and travel Remembering Africa Moments in Time is the author's memoir of the two years she lived in Dar es Salaam Tanzania while teaching at an International School with students and teachers from many different countries Through her personal stories she portrays both the humor and struggle of daily life in Dar and working at the International School there She provides a window for the reader to share her travel adventures to the exotic island of Zanzibar the Seychelles Zimbabwe Ethiopia Namibia and safari adventures into the Serengeti Ngorongoro Crater etc Jo was enchanted with the land and people of this amazing continent and she recorded events from those memorable years in a journal When she returned to the states the memories of her life in Africa lingered and begged to be shared Remembering Africa had to be written The poem Moments in Time written by Jo was inspired by her experiences while living and working in Dar es Salaam Tanzania South Africa's Struggle to Remember Kim Wale, 2016-04-14 Transitional justice studies typically focuses on how nations remember face and deal with histories of past violence This book however shifts the frame from national discourses of transitional justice onto local memory actors who attempt to engage with these broader systems of meaning from below. The case study is based on the memory struggles of individuals and groups who are attempting to gain access to the discourses and benefits associated with dominant memory identities of victim and veteran in the context of post transition South Africa. They share a common history of squatter resistance in the Western Cape in the 1980s and a common struggle for inclusion in dominant memory frameworks. The main theme of this book is the politics of memory as it relates to the conversation between national and local memory. Integrated within this theme is the further theme of alternative histories and counter memories of struggle from below. In focusing on counter memories of violence and transition this book aims to tell a different version of South African liberation history in relation to the dominant narrative. It analyses local memory actors attempts to bring their lived histories into conversation with national discourses of reconciliation and the national liberation struggle. In doing so it unpacks a memory paradox occurring within these narratives which highlights the politics of inclusion and exclusion within the frames of transitional justice knowledge. On the one hand this alternate story exposes the paradox between local and national memory while on the other hand it brings into focus the local experience of the intersection between international transitional justice discourses and national transition politics. This book will be of local and international interest to scholars and students in the field of transitional justice memory politics national liberation struggle and South African historiography. It will also be of interest to a broader South Africa public as it offers a deeper understanding of South Africa's history which challenges taken for granted transitional justice frames of knowledge.

Re-Reading Tragic Africa Amy Rushton, 2024-05-31 Grounded in world systemic analysis this book revisits the literary and social implications of tragedy in relation to global narratives about Africa and within fiction by writers from the continent. It argues that working through the full complexity of tragedy helps to identify and challenge plots that depict Africa as reaching a tragic impasse. Instead reconsidering tragedy allows for further related interventions including the implications of narratives of development the argument for formally engaging with literary texts that present challenging material reformulations of African political and cultural agency and the possibilities to be found in utopian thinking. It claims that contemporary fiction helps to scrutinise the familiar big picture of Africa and create space for discussions about wider political and historical commonalities between the continent and the rest of the world. As such the novels discussed in this study are not simply about Africa these fictional narratives position Africa as a central actor within the global history of late capitalism.

Africana Critical Theory Reiland Rabaka, 2009-01-16 Building on and going far beyond W E B Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty First Century and Du Bois's Dialectics Reiland Rabaka's Africana Critical Theory innovatively identifies and analyzes continental and diasporan African contributions to classical and contemporary critical theory. This book represents a climatic critical theoretical clincher that cogently demonstrates how Du Bois's rarely discussed dialectical thought interdisciplinarity intellectual history making radical political activism and world historical multiple liberation movement leadership helped to inaugurate a distinct Africana tradition of critical theory With chapters on W E B Du Bois C L R James Negritude Aime Cesaire and Leopold Senghor Frantz Fanon and Amilcar Cabral Africana Critical Theory endeavors to accessibly offer contemporary critical theorists an intellectual archaeology of the Africana tradition of critical theory and a much needed dialectical deconstruction and reconstruction of black radical politics These six seminal figures collective thought and texts clearly cuts across several disciplines and therefore closes the chasm between Africana Studies and critical theory constantly demanding that intellectuals not simply think deep thoughts develop new theories and theoretically support radical politics but be and constantly become political activists social organizers and cultural workers that is folk the Italian critical theorist Antonio Gramsci referred to as organic intellectuals In this sense then the series of studies gathered in Africana Critical Theory contribute not only to African Studies African American Studies Caribbean Studies Cultural Studies Gender Studies and Postcolonial Studies but also to contemporary critical theoretical discourse across an amazingly wide range of traditional disciplines and radical political activism outside of and in many instances absolutely against Europe s ivory towers and the absurdities of the American academe

Decolonising African University Knowledges, Volume 2 Amasa P. Ndofirepi, Felix Maringe, Simon Vurayai, Gloria Erima, 2022-10-14 This book explores the influence of neoliberal globalisation on African higher education considering the impact of the politics of neoliberal ideology on the nature and sources of knowledge in African universities Written by African scholars the book engages with debates around the commodification of knowledge socially just knowledge knowledge transformation collaboration and partnerships and indigenous knowledge systems It challenges the neoliberal approach to knowledge production and dissemination in African universities and contributes to debates around decolonising knowledge production in Africa The chapters draw on experiences from universities in different sub Saharan countries to show how the manifestation of neo colonialism through the pursuit of the hegemonic neoliberal philosophy is impacting on decolonising university knowledge in Africa Providing a unique critique of the impact of neoliberal higher education in Africa the book will be essential reading for researchers scholars and postgraduate students in the field of Sociology of Education decolonising education Inclusive Education and Education Policy

Human Rights in Africa: Enhancing Human Rights Through the African Regional Human Rights System George Mugwanya, 2021-10-01 The author argues that although the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the role the United Nations plays in promoting global awareness of human rights has had a positive influence in Africa their institutional financial and political impediments undercut the ability of a global system to address adequately the crisis in human rights violations occurring in Africa today Using case studies from South Africa and Uganda past difficulties in addressing human rights problems are analyzed and recommendations made for future methodologies including the creation of an African Court of Human and Peoples Rights Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint

Cold War in Southern Africa Sue

Onslow,2009-09-10 This edited volume examines the complexities of the Cold War in Southern Africa and uses a range of archives to develop a more detailed understanding of the impact of the Cold War environment upon the processes of political change In the aftermath of European decolonization the struggle between white minority governments and black liberation movements encouraged both sides to appeal for external support from the two superpower blocs Cold War in Southern Africa highlights the importance of the global ideological environment on the perceptions and consequent behaviour of the white minority regimes the Black Nationalist movements and the newly independent African nationalist governments Together they underline the variety of archival sources on the history of Southern Africa in the Cold War and its growing importance in Cold War Studies This volume brings together a series of essays by leading scholars based on a wide range of sources in the United States Russia Cuba Britain Zambia and South Africa By focussing on a range of independent actors these essays highlight the complexity of the conflict in Southern Africa a battle of power blocs of systems and ideas which intersected with notions and practices of race and class This book will appeal to students of cold war studies US foreign policy African politics and International History Sue Onslow has taught at the London School of Economics since 1994 She is currently a Cold War Studies Fellow in the Cold War Studies Centre IDEAS

The Negritude Movement Reiland Rabaka,2015-05-20 The Negritude Movement provides readers with not only an intellectual history of the Negritude Movement but also its prehistory W E B Du Bois the New Negro Movement and the Harlem Renaissance and its posthistory Frantz Fanon and the evolution of Fanonism By viewing Negritude as an insurgent idea to invoke this book s intentionally incendiary subtitle as opposed to merely a form of poetics and aesthetics The Negritude Movement explores Negritude as a traveling theory la Edward Said s concept that consistently crisscrossed the Atlantic Ocean in the twentieth century from Harlem to Haiti Haiti to Paris Paris to Martinique Martinique to Senegal and on and on ad infinitum The Negritude Movement maps the movements of proto Negritude concepts from Du Bois s discourse in The Souls of Black Folk through to post Negritude concepts in Fanon s Black Skin White Masks and The Wretched of the Earth Utilizing Negritude as a conceptual framework to on the one hand explore the Africana intellectual tradition in the twentieth century and on the other hand demonstrate discursive continuity between Du Bois and Fanon as well as the Harlem Renaissance and Negritude Movement The Negritude Movement ultimately accents what Negritude contributed to arguably its greatest intellectual heir Frantz Fanon and the development of his distinct critical theory Fanonism Rabaka argues that if Fanon and Fanonism remain relevant in the twenty first century then to a certain extent Negritude remains relevant in the twenty first century

V. Y. Mudimbe Pierre-Philippe Fraiture,2013 This study charts the intellectual history of the seminal Congolese philosopher epistemologist and philologist V Y Mudimbe from the late 1960s to the present day exploring his major essays and novels It highlights Mudimbe s trajectory through major debates on African nationalism Panafricanism neo colonialism negritude pedagogy Christianisation decolonisation anthropology postcolonial representations and a variety of other subjects using these as contexts for close readings of many of Mudimbe's texts both influential and lesser known

Political Development and the New Realism in Sub-Saharan Africa David Ernest Apter, Carl Gustav Rosberg, 1994
Since the 1950s David Apter and Carl Rosenberg have been among the leading American scholars in African Studies. In this volume they along with other major specialists in the field explore the new configurations of African politics. With tentative efforts at a revival of democracy now taking place it seems appropriate to reassess the theoretical debates and empirical themes that have characterized postwar Sub-Saharan African politics. Focusing on new realism that has emerged among Africanists since the dismantling of colonial rule the essays are presented as a corrective both to the initial euphoria informing African studies and to the later tendency to place blame for all Africa's political and economic difficulties on the receding specter of colonial oppression. Narrating the Self and Nation in Kenyan Autobiographical Writings Samuel Ndogo, 2016
Author Samuel Ndogo offers an understanding of the autobiographical genre in contemporary Kenyan literature. He draws attention to life writing as a form of cultural re-imagining in post-colonial Africa. Taking into consideration contradictions and paradoxes of referentiality in life writing this book examines the autobiographies of Jaramogi Oginga Odinga, Ngugi wa Thiong'o, Wangari Maathai and Bethwell Ogot. The analysis dwells on self-representations in correlation with imaginations of the Kenyan nation in these works. Thus the study gives a critical account into the modern memoir, the forms and styles it takes, the ways in which these authors tend to understand and present their lives. Series Contributions to African Research Beitrage zur Afrikaforschung Vol 63 Subject African Studies Literary Criticism British Narratives of Exploration Frédéric Regard, 2015-10-06
Features a collection of essays that focus on British travel narratives from the seventeenth through to the nineteenth centuries. This work investigates how the early explorers' sense of self was destabilised by encounters with the Other. Special Bibliography Series, 1957
