Remote People:

Australia's Rural, Remote and Indigenous Health Janie Dade Smith, 2016-02-06 Australia's Rural, Remote and Indigenous Health 3e is a practical guide to the delivery of health care in rural and remote Australia. Drawing on personal experiences of rural and remote practitioners, historical accounts, literature analysis, and epidemiology, this frank and engaging text examines the economic, social, and political forces that shape healthcare in rural and remote Australia. With limited current resources to support studies in rural and remote healthcare, this title bridges the gap by offering valuable insights into Indigenous life and social determinants of health through the use of storytelling. It is the perfect guide for anyone working in or planning to work in rural, remote, or Indigenous Australia and for those undertaking cultural studies or social policy. Only text covering both rural and remote health in Australia. Placement preparation with StudentConsult video interviews of experienced rural and remote practitioners providing first-hand experience of rural and remote practice. Pause and Think questions provide a framework to apply learned knowledge to practice. Pause and think question boxes train the reader to critically assess and apply concepts to practical situations. New Chapter Working with Indigenous Australians. Written by Shannon Springer, describes how to consult with Indigenous patients and draws on his experience in clinical practice. It offers consultation signposts and practical principles for working with Indigenous Australians. New Chapter Remote health practice. Written by Sue Lenthall, this chapter examines the differences and commonalities between the remote communities and then applies this information to a case study on a day in the life of a remote area nurse. It presents a remote client consultation model and a StudentConsult audio consultation between a nurse and a distant doctor, as well as tips for working in remote practice. The audio consultation gives a first-hand account of the experience of a remote area nurse managing an emergency case. Video and audio content: video interviews of experienced rural, remote, and Indigenous health practitioners, as well as students. The videos contain first-hand experience of rural and remote practice, as well as tips to help prepare those new to rural or remote practice.

Remote Avant-Garde Jennifer Loureide Biddle, 2016-02-04 In Remote Avant-Garde, Jennifer Loureide Biddle models new and emergent desert Aboriginal aesthetics as an art of survival. Since 2007, Australian government policy has targeted remote Australian Aboriginal communities as at crisis level of delinquency and dysfunction. Biddle asks how emergent art responds to national emergency, from the creation of locally hunted grass sculptures to biliterary acrylic witness paintings to stop-motion animation. Following directly from the unprecedented success of the Western Desert art movement, contemporary Aboriginal artists harness traditions of experimentation to revivify at-risk vernacular languages, maintain cultural heritage, and ensure place-based practice of community initiative. Biddle shows how these new art forms demand serious and sustained attention to the dense complexities of sentient perception and the radical inseparability of art from life. Taking shape on frontier boundaries and in zones of intercultural imperative, Remote Avant-Garde presents Aboriginal art under occupation in Australia today.
