Negotiating Racial Politics in the Family Barbara Henkes,2020-05-06 This book is situated at the cutting edge of the political ethical dimension of history writing Henkes investigates various responsibilities and loyalties towards family and nation as well as other major ethical obligations towards society and humanity when historical subjects have to deal with a repressive political regime In the first section we follow pre war German immigrants in the Netherlands and their German affiliation during the era of National Socialism The second section explores the positions of Dutch emigrants who settled after the Second World War in Apartheid South Africa The narratives of these transnational agents and their relatives provide a lens through which changing constructions of national identities and the acceptance or rejection of a nationalist policy on racial grounds can be observed in everyday practice
