Twentieth-century Short Story Explication ,1967 The purpose of this work is to provide a bibliography of short story explication published from 1900 through 1966 in books monographs and periodicals Preface SAKI - Ultimate Collection: 145 Novels & Short Stories; Including Plays, Sketches & Historical Study Saki,H. H. Munro,2023-11-17 The SAKI Ultimate Collection 145 Novels Including Plays Sketches Historical Study anthology is a comprehensive gathering that underscores the wit irony and discerning critique of Edwardian society encapsulated in the works of H H Munro known by his pen name Saki This collection showcases a remarkable diversity of literary styles from the succinct satire of his short stories to the nuanced drama of his plays and insightful sketches of the historical context in which he wrote. Notable for its inclusion of lesser known works alongside celebrated stories, this anthology offers a unique lens through which to view the breadth of Saki's literary contributions and understanding of human nature and societal follies. The contributing authors in this case, Saki himself, with his distinct literary persona, provides a vivid tableau of the social mores and the undercurrents of discontent that characterized the late Victorian and early Edwardian periods. His keen observation, coupled with a sharp, often dark humor, captures the complexities and contradictions of his time, making his work an important part of literary and cultural discussions of the early 20th century. For readers seeking to immerse themselves in the Edwardian period through the prism of satire and to appreciate the craft of short storytelling at its finest, SAKI Ultimate Collection is an invaluable compilation. Offering not just entertainment but also a deep, multi-faceted historical perspective, this anthology is a testament to the enduring relevance of Saki's works. Scholars, enthusiasts, and new readers alike will find in this collection a rich source of study, reflection, and enjoyment, bridging the gap between literary art and historical insight.

Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series Library of Congress, Copyright Office, 1965. Includes Part 1 Number 2 Books and Pamphlets Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals. July-December. Journal of the Short Story in English, 2005. Reginald H. H. Munro, 2017-08-17. Hector Hugh Munro, 18 December 1870–14 November 1916, better known by the pen name Saki and also frequently as H. H. Munro, was a British writer whose witty, mischievous and sometimes macabre stories satirized Edwardian society and culture. He is considered a master of the short story and often compared to O. Henry. Citation needed and Dorothy Parker citation needed. Influenced by Oscar Wilde, Lewis Carroll, and Rudyard Kipling, he himself influenced A. A. Milne, Noël Coward, and P. G. Wodehouse. Besides his short stories, which were first published in newspapers as was customary at the time and then collected into several volumes, he wrote a full-length play, The Watched Pot, in collaboration with Charles Maude; two one-act plays; a historical study, The Rise of the Russian Empire, the only book published under his own name; a short novel, The Unbearable Bassington; the episodic The Westminster Alice, a parliamentary parody of Alice in Wonderland; and When William Came, subtitled A Story of London Under the Hohenzollerns, a fantasy about a future German invasion and occupation of Britain.

Early life Hector Hugh Munro was born in Akyab, British Burma, which was then still part of the British Raj and was governed from Calcutta under the authority of the Viceroy of India. Saki was the son of Charles Augustus Munro, an Inspector General for the Indian Imperial Police, by his marriage to Mary Frances Mercer (1843–1872), the daughter of Rear Admiral Samuel Mercer. Her nephew, Cecil William Mercer, later became a famous novelist as Dornford Yates. In 1872, on a home visit to England, Mary Munro was charged by a cow, and the shock caused her to miscarry. She never recovered and soon died. After the death of Munro's mother, Charles Munro sent his children, including two-year-old Hector, home to England. The children were sent to Broadgate Villa in Pilton village near Barnstaple, North Devon, to be raised by their grandmother and paternal maiden aunts, Charlotte and Augusta, in a strict and puritanical household. It is said that they were most likely models for a few of his characters notably The Lumber Room and Sredni Vashtar. Leading slightly insular lives, Munro and his siblings during their early years were educated under tutelage of governesses. At the age of 12, the young Hector Munro was educated at Pencarwick School in Exmouth and then as a boarder at Bedford School. In 1887, after his retirement, his father returned from Burma and embarked upon a series of European travels with Hector and his siblings. Hector followed his father in 1893 into the Indian Imperial Police and was posted to Burma, but successive bouts of fever meant his return home after only fifteen months.

Writing career In 1896, he decided to move to London to make a living as a writer. Munro started his writing career as a journalist for newspapers such as the Westminster Gazette, the Daily Express, the Morning Post, and magazines such as the Bystander and Outlook. His first book, The Rise of the Russian Empire, a historical study modelled upon Edward Gibbon's The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, appeared in 1900 under his real name but proved to be something of a false start. Whilst he was writing The Rise of the Russian Empire, he made his first foray into short story writing and published a piece called Dogged in St Paul's in February 1899. He then moved into the world of political satire in 1900 with a collaboration with Francis Carruthers Gould, entitled Alice in Westminster. Gould produced the sketches, and Munro wrote the text accompanying them, using the pen name Saki for the first time. The series lampooned political figures of the day. Alice in Downing Street begins with the memorable line: 'Have you ever seen an Ineptitude referring to a zoomorphised Arthur Balfour?' and was published in the Liberal Westminster Gazette.

Magill's Bibliography of Literary Criticism: Longus to Sexton Stephen L. Hanson, Patricia King Hanson, 1979 The Transitional Age; British Literature, 1880-1920 Edward S. Part I consists of four essays which survey significant developments in the fiction, poetry, drama, and non-fictional prose of the era. Short Stories and the Unbearable Bassington Saki, 1994 The North American timber wolf who suddenly replaces Mrs Hampton is one of many alarming animals: hyenas, tigers, a talking cat, a formidable ferret that rampage through the stories of Saki. H. H. Munro, aided by a cast of ruthless children and by Saki's icy wit, they throw the Edwardian social world into hilarious and appalling disarray.

Horror Literature through History Matt Cardin, 2017-09-21 This two-volume set offers comprehensive coverage of horror literature that spans its deep history, dominant themes, significant works, and major authors such as Stephen King, Edgar Allan Poe, and Anne Rice, as well as lesser-known horror writers. Many of today's horror story fans who appreciate horror through movies television video games graphic novels and other forms probably don't realize that horror literature is not only one of the most popular types of literature but one of the oldest. People have always been mesmerized by stories that speak to their deepest fears. Horror Literature through History shows 21st century horror fans the literary sources of their favorite entertainment and the rich intrinsic value of horror literature in its own right. Through profiles of major authors, critical analyses of important works and overview essays focused on horror during particular periods as well as on related issues such as religion, apocalypticism, social criticism and gender, readers will discover the fascinating early roots and evolution of horror writings as well as the reciprocal influence of horror literature and horror cinema. This unique two volume reference set provides wide coverage that is current and compelling to modern readers who are of course also eager consumers of entertainment. In the first section, overview essays on horror during different historical periods situate works of horror literature within the social, cultural, historical and intellectual currents of their respective eras, creating a seamless narrative of the genre's evolution from ancient times to the present. The second section demonstrates how otherwise unrelated works of horror have influenced each other, how horror subgenres have evolved and how a broad range of topics within horror such as ghosts, vampires, religion and gender roles have been handled across time. The set also provides alphabetically arranged reference entries on authors, works and specialized topics that enable readers to zero in on information and concepts presented in the other sections.
