The Global Frontier Eric Strand, 2023-06-20 Americans often associate travel with luxury a cosmopolitan lifestyle and relaxation They travel to get away from it all Most fail to consider that modern American travel began in the straitened circumstances of the 1930s when President Franklin D Roosevelt encouraged citizens to tour the United States so as to stimulate the economy The Federal Writers Project composed guidebooks for each state and tourism became a form of national solidarity After World War II the Western frontier of self reinvention and spatial expansion opened up through the explosion of the global travel industry The Global Frontier shows that a variety of postwar literary travelers sought personal freedom and cultural enrichment outside their nation's borders including Black female and queer writers But the price of incorporation into a transnational leisure class was complicity in postwar American imperialism and the rejection of 1930s social commitments Eric Strand argues that capitalist globalization has enabled creative expression for marginalized identities and that present day humanists are the descendants of writers such as William S Burroughs Saul Bellow Richard Wright and Elizabeth Bishop Yet this personal liberation has accompanied a vast growth of social inequality which can only be addressed by reorienting toward progressive nationalism and an activist state Saul Bellow and the Decline of Humanism Michael K. Glenday,1990 Black Women, Agency, and the New Black Feminism Maria del Guadalupe Davidson,2017-02-17 The powerful Beyonc formidable Rihanna and the incalculable Nikki Minaj Their images lead one to wonder are they a new incarnation of black feminism and black women s agency or are they only pure fantasy in which instead of having agency they are in fact the products of the forces of patriarchy and commercialism More broadly one can ask whether black women in general are only being led to believe that they have power but are really being drawn back into more complicated systems of exploitation and oppression Or are black women subverting patriarchy by challenging notions of their subordinate and exploitable sexuality In other words who is playing who Black Women Agency and the New Black Feminism identifies a generational divide between traditional black feminists and younger black women While traditional black feminists may see for example sexualized images of black women negatively and as an impediment to progress younger black women tend to embrace these new images and see them in a positive light After carefully setting up this divide this enlightening book will suggest that a more complex understanding of black feminist agency needs to be developed one that is adapted to the complexities faced by the younger generation in today s world Arguing the concept of agency as an important theme for black feminism this innovative title will appeal to scholars teachers and students interested in black feminist and feminist philosophy identity construction subjectivity and agency race gender and class Literature of Europe and America in the 1960s Spencer Pearce,Don Piper,1989
