John McIntosh Kell of the Raider Alabama Norman C. Delaney, 2003-01-29
A vivid portrait of the man credited as a driving force behind the most successful of the Confederate raiders, the legendary C S S Alabama. John McIntosh Kell was an experienced, proven military man, a graduate of Annapolis, a veteran of the Mexican War and of Admiral Perry's voyage to Japan. As a Confederate officer, Kell served first on the raider Sumter and then on the Alabama. At sea for only 22 months, the Alabama engaged nearly 300 northern merchant vessels, burning 55 of these transport ships along with their million-dollar cargoes. Though First Lieutenant Luff Kell was apparently content to let his captain Raphael Semmes take credit for their accomplishments, Semmes acknowledged that his successes were due largely to the energy and resourcefulness of his second in command. Life on the commerce cruisers was hard and tedious, and much of the responsibility for running the day-to-day operations, including the disciplining of a largely mercenary crew, rested on Kell, whose sense of duty and loyalty did not waver. Norman C. Delaney bases his account of this remarkable naval officer's experiences on the interviews Kell granted to news reporters during the 1880s and 1890s, previously neglected by historians, and his memoirs published in 1900 as Recollections of a Naval Life. He supplements these materials with records from Kell's earlier years, including letters, journals, diaries and contemporary observations First published in 1973 by The University of Alabama Press this new edition of an award winning biography will be welcomed by Civil War historians and enthusiasts around the world naval institutions and museums and general readers alike The navies Francis Trevelyan Miller, 1911 Two Civil Wars Katherine Bentley Jeffrey, 2016-04-11 Two Civil Wars is both an edition of an unusual Civil War era double journal and a narrative about the two writers who composed its contents The initial journal entries were written by thirteen year old Celeste Repp while a student at St Mary s Academy a prominent but short lived girls school in midcentury Baton Rouge Celeste s French compositions dating from 1859 to 1861 offer brief but poignant meditations describe seasonal celebrations and mention by name both her headmistress Matilda Victor and French instructor and priest Father Darius Hubert Immediately following Celeste s prettily decorated pages a new title page intervenes introducing An Abstract Journal Kept by William L Park of the U S gunboat Essex during the American Rebellion Park s diary is a fulsome three year account of military engagements along the Mississippi and its tributaries the bombardment of southern towns the looting of plantations skirmishes with Confederate guerillas the uneasy experiment with contrabands freed slaves serving aboard ship and the mundane circumstances of shipboard life Very few diaries from the inland navy have survived and this is the first journal from the ironclad Essex to be published Jeffrey has read it alongside several unpublished accounts by Park s crewmates as well as a later memoir composed by Park in his declining years It provides rare insight into the culture of the ironclad fleet and equally rare firsthand commentary by an ordinary sailor on events such as the sinking of CSS Arkansas and the prolonged siege of Port Hudson Jeffrey provides detailed annotation and context for the Repp and Park journals filling out the biographies of both writers before and after the Civil War In Celeste s case Jeffrey uncovers surprising connections to such prominent Baton Rouge residents as the diarist Sarah Morgan and explores the complexity of wartime allegiances in the South through the experiences of Matilda Victor and Darius Hubert She also unravels the mystery of how a southern youngster s school scribbler found its way into the hands of a Union sailor In so doing she provides a richly detailed picture of occupied Baton Rouge and especially of events surrounding the Battle of Baton Rouge in August 1862 These two unusual personal journals linked by curious happenstance in a single notebook open up intriguing provocative and surprisingly complementary new vistas on antebellum Baton Rouge and the Civil War on the Mississippi Photographic History of the Civil War Theo F. David Glasgow Farragut Charles Lewis, 2014-04-18 The second volume of this authoritative biography of America s first admiral examines the last ten years of David Glasgow Farragut s life which included the ever fascinating period of the Civil War Farragut was as carefully methodical in preparation for battle as he was fearlessly swift in the execution of his plans In Our First Admiral the reader will learn of gross inefficiency and waste in the conduct of war in the North as well as the South of jealous ambition and malicious criticism of lukewarm support of the government lack of cooperation between the Army and Navy and the inroads upon morale made by war weariness and disease all of which tried Farragut's courage as much as the enemy in battle Farragut was a practical resourceful leader with vision and intuition a rare combination a courageous hard hitting fighter who hated war and a deeply religious man with an exuberant spirit and love of fellowship who was also exceedingly loyal to the Navy and his country Though he was small in physical stature Farragut was tall indeed in the fundamental characteristics of true manhood      United States Naval History, Naval Biography, Naval Strategy and Tactics United States.
