Navigating Cross Cultural Ethics What Global Managers Do Right To Keep From Going Wrong:

Navigating Cross-Cultural Ethics Eileen Morgan, 2012-09-10 Through the personal stories of managers running global business this book takes an inside look into the dilemmas of managers who are asked to make profits ethically according to the dictates of their company's ethics code. It examines what companies think they are doing to help managers in those situations and how those managers are actually affected. Thanks to the boost from the 1991 Sentencing Guidelines which minimizes penalties for companies with ethics codes caught in ethical wrongdoing more than 85% of US companies and two thirds of all Canadian companies and half of all European companies now have Codes of Ethics. Yet over and over we hear of stories of personal dilemmas and conflicts experienced by individual managers navigating those business waters in other cultures.

International Human Resource Management Dennis R. Briscoe, Randall S. Schuler, 2004 This is an ideal foundation text for anyone studying or working in the International Human Resource Management (IHRM) arena. Kolb, 2008 This encyclopedia spans the relationships among business ethics and society with an emphasis on business ethics and the role of business in society Transition Redesigned Wojciech W. Gasparski, 2017-07-28

Transition Redesigned deals with the philosophical bases of different types of transition change in the economy organizational institutional change and change in social and individual relationships The editors primary goal is to give further impetus to a much needed worldwide debate on the issue of transition towards a better future The volume reviews transitions made in different areas of human activity assesses their relevancy and analyzes their contexts During this century different organizations and institutions will undergo a level of radical and global change that has rarely been seen The expected shift must be addressed in terms of a multidimensional transition toward building a sustainable society Do we have an understanding of transition relevant to the task of meeting at least some of the challenges presented in this volume Do we need a radical innovation for redesigning the transition that may enforce real social and ethical responsibilities into organizational practice on different levels and bring to life new ideas Transition Redesigned seeks to answer these questions

Computing and Philosophy in Asia Soraj Hongladarom, 2009-03-26 This volume is a collection of selected papers presented at the Second Asia Pacific Computing and Philosophy Conference which was held in Bangkok Thailand in January 2005 The conference was organized by the Center for Ethics of Science and Technology Chulalongkorn University on behalf of the International Association of Computing and Philosophy www.ia-cap.org Computing have had a long relationship with philosophy starting from the problem of how symbols being manipulated in computing bear a relation to the outside world to those of artificial intelligence robotics computer simulation and so on Moreover as computer technologies have become thoroughly pervasive in today s environment there are also issues concerning social and ethical impacts brought about by them The papers in the volume represent a wide variety of concerns and various dimensions within which computing and philosophy are related Furthermore it also represents some of the first attempts to highlight cultural dimensions of computing and philosophy which became prominent when the conference was held for the first time within the milieu of an Asian culture The First Asia Pacific Computing and Philosophy was held in Canberra Australia Hence many of the papers in the volume address this added dimension Apart from the usual problems of how computers and human lives are interconnected the papers here also discuss how computers are related to human lives as lived in a specific culture Thus the book breaks a new ground and should be of interest to a wide range of scholars and students who are interested not only on computing and philosophy generally construed but also on this exciting new dimension of how the cultures of Asia the West and others bear upon the traditional issues in computing and philosophy and on how this dimension raises some new concerns and agenda Among the topics discussed in this volume are political online forums in Saudi Arabia e democracy and structural transformation of public sphere the Buddhist informational person a glance into the lives of computerized generation in Thailand technology and journalism in the market local approaches and global potential of information ethics computer enhanced good life computer teaching ethics and many others
