School Learning:

Perspectives on School Learning L. W. Anderson, 2014-01-09 First Published in 1985 This volume offers a collection of John B Carroll's works on the mastery of learning and related topics Including discussions and information around his Model of School Learning and a biographical background Culture in School Learning Etta R. Hollins, 2008-04-18 In this text Etta Hollins presents a powerful process for developing a teaching perspective that embraces the centrality of culture in school learning The six part process covers objectifying culture personalizing culture inquiring about students cultures and communities applying knowledge about culture to teaching formulating theory or a conceptual framework linking culture and school learning and transforming professional practice to better meet the needs of students from different cultural and experiential backgrounds All aspects of the process are interrelated and interdependent Two basic procedures are employed in this process constructing an operational definition of culture that reveals its deep meaning in cognition and learning and applying the reflective interpretive inquiry RIQ approach to making linkages between students cultural and experiential backgrounds and classroom instruction Discussion within chapters is not intended to provide complete and final answers to the questions posed but rather to generate discussion critical thinking and further investigation Pedagogical Features Focus Questions at the beginning of each chapter assist the reader in identifying complex issues to be examined Chapter Summaries provide a quick review of the main topics presented Suggested Learning Experiences have been selected for their value in expanding preservice teachers understanding of specific questions and issues raised in the chapter Critical Readings lists extend the text to treat important issues in greater depth New in the Second Edition New emphasis is placed on the power of social ideology in framing teachers thinking and school practices The relationship of core values and other important social values common in the United States to school practices is explicitly discussed Discussion of racism includes an explanation of the relationship between institutionalized racism and personal beliefs and actions Approaches to understanding and evaluating curriculum have been expanded to include different genres and dimensions of multicultural education A framework for understanding cultural diversity in the classroom is presented New emphasis is placed on participating in a community of practice This book is primarily designed for preservice teachers in courses on multicultural education social foundations of education principles of education and introduction to teaching Inservice teachers and graduate students will find it equally useful Time and School Learning (1984) Lorin Anderson, 2018-02-06 This book was first published in 1984 The role of time in school learning has long been a topic of interest to educationalists So much so that in the United States Carnegie Units purely time based entities are used to certify high school graduates and credit hours are the basic unit of college certification In this book contributors explore the role of time in school learning In particular American research has demonstrated that learning is a function of two time variables the time actually spent learning and the time needed to learn The book presents an integrated synthesis of the developments in the understanding of time in school learning and shows how this can have a dramatic impact on the process of schooling

Families, Schools, and Primary-school Learning: Evidence for Argentina and Columbia in an International Perspective , Changing the School Learning Environment Jack Rimmel Frymier, Ronald Joekel, 2004 The No Child Left Behind Legislation by the federal government led to another round of emphasis on public schools resulting in a focus on school renewal or as often termed school reform The National Association of Secondary School Principals in the 1960s initiated a concept for school renewal called The Model Schools Project 1969 1974 The MSP was the culmination of much of the seminal thinking on school renewal of that era The project was directed by Dr J Lloyd Trump NASSP secretary for research and development and Dr William D Georgiades professor of Education at the University of Southern California After the MSP formally ended Georgiades continued to provide leadership for school renewal as president of a follow up consortium of schools and districts the Learning Environments Consortium International In Changing the School Learning Environment Jack Frymier and Ronald Joekel take a look at the key concepts of the Model Schools Project and what has transpired during the past 30 plus years Has it survived as initially conceived evolved into something meaningful for contemporary schools or failed as so many other innovations have done A survey of best educational practices stemming from the Model Schools Project that promote school renewal and how they are being utilized today are also presented and discussed Should appeal to educators and secondary school administrators
