Arguments The School of Life, 2019-08-22 An average couple will have between thirty and fifty significant arguments a year and yet we re seldom taught very much about why they happen and how they could grow a little less intense This is a guide to arguments in love it teaches us why they might occur what their symptoms are how we could learn some wiser ways of communicating and how we would ideally patch up after a fight The book looks at twenty of the most common arguments including ones about sex money in laws who is cold and who is over emotional and the state of the bathroom and the finances We recognise our own antics but also pick up consoling and wise ideas on how to skirt certain conflicts going forward The tragedy of every sorry argument is that it is constructed around a horrific mismatch between the message we so badly want to send I need you to love me know me agree with me and the manner in which we are able to deliver it with impatient accusations sulks put downs sarcasm exaggerated gesticulations and forceful f yous A bad argument is a failed endeavour to communicate this is a definitive guide to how we might argue better The priority is not so much to avoid points of contention as to learn to handle them in less counterproductively vindictive and more gently strategic ways We need a lot help in order in order to acquire the complex art of converting our poisonous arguments into effective and compassionate dialogues

Summary of The School of Life & Alain de Botton's The School of Life Everest Media, 2022-03-08T22:59:00Z

Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 We are often the last people to know what is going on inside us We suffer because there is no easy way to introspection We are not a fixed destination but an eternally mobile unfocused and vaporous specter 2 Emotional skepticism is the recognition that our own minds can be faulty and misleading It is the first step towards emotional maturity which involves the understanding that we will never know everything and the willingness to accept that fact 3 The presence of the unknown past colors and sharply distorts our perceptions of the present We interpret what is happening in the present through expectations fostered in long years whose real nature we have forgotten 4 The picture doesn't show any of these things The person who looks at it and the way they elaborate on it reveals far more about their emotional inheritance than it does about the image itself The School of Life

How to Age Anne Karpf, School of Life, 2014 Society has a deep fear of ageing Old age is increasingly viewed as a biomedical problem something to be avoided at all costs and then vanished away by medicine Anne Karpf urges us to change our narrative Exploring how our outlook on ageing is historically determined and culturally defined she draws upon case studies old and new to suggest how ageing can be an actively enriching time of immense growth She argues that if we can recognize growing older as an inevitable part of the human condition then the great challenge of ageing turns out to be none other than the challenge of living One in the new series of books from The School of Life launched January 2014 How to Age by Anne Karpf How to Develop Emotional Health by Oliver James How to Be Alone by Sara Maitland How to Deal with Adversity by Christopher Hamilton How to Think About Exercise by Damon Young How to Connect with Nature by Tristan Gooley This new series of The School of Life s self help books build on the strengths of the first tackling some of the hardest issues of our lives in a way that is genuinely informative helpful and consoling Here are books that prove that the term self help doesn t have to be either shallow or naive Alain de Botton of Life & Alain de Botton's Relationships (The School of Life Library) Everest Media,2022-04-26T22:59:00Z Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 We live in a world that was created by Romanticism an ideology that emerged in Europe in the mid 18th century It tells us that a long term marriage can have the excitement of a love affair and that sex should be the supreme expression of love 2 The modern age has had enough of reasons which are the catalysts of misery The prestige of instinct is the legacy of a collective traumatized reaction against too many centuries of unreasonable reason 3 We must replace the Romantic view of love with a more mature and psychologically mature vision called Classical which encourages us to adopt a number of unfamiliar but hopefully effective attitudes The
