Teacher Education Reform as Political Theater Elena Aydarova,2019-10-01 Winner of the 2021 Outstanding Book Award presented by the Society of Professors of Education Winner of the 2020 Critics Choice Award presented by the American Educational Studies Association AESA Winner of the 2020 Outstanding Book Award presented by the Council on Anthropology and Education Around the world countries undertake teacher education reforms in response to international norms and assessments Russia has been no exception Elena Aydarova develops a unique theatrical framework to tell the story of a small group of reformers who enacted a major reform to modernize teacher education in Russia Based on scripts circulated in global policy networks and ideologies of national development this reform was implemented despite great opposition but how Drawing on extensive ethnographic material Aydarova teases out the contradictions in this process Teacher Education Reform as Political Theater reveals how the official story of improving education obscured dramatic and ultimately socially conservative changes in the purposes of schooling the nature and perception of teachers work and the design of teacher education Despite the official rhetoric Aydarova argues modernization reforms such as we see in the Russian context normalize social inequality and put educational systems at the service of global corporations As similar dramas unfold around the world this book considers how members of scholarly communities and the broader public can respond to reformers stories of crises and urgent calls for reform on other national stages

The Education Systems of Europe Wolfgang Hörner,Hans Döbert,Botho von Kopp,Wolfgang Mitter,2007-05-03 Education is a paradoxical phenomenon On the one hand it is universal as since the period of Enlightenment it has been declared universal good for everybody Mo over we learnt by historical research following the ideas of world system theory that since this time as far as its main structures are concerned compulsory state education given by professional teachers in classrooms it took even universal traits However on the other hand the fact that education became state education organised or at least controlled by the state was the beginning of another tradition line education in the form of state organised educational institutions became a means of creating national identity Universal inclusion as for the light of reason shining for everybody is opposed to more or less nationalist exclusion of all the others shaping the feature of a particular nation state with a particular educational system This fundamental dialectical tension between the universal and the particular was one to the important motives to make this handbook One of the central issues of the country studies is precisely to display the relationship between universal values and the search for national identity Another motive is given by the European dimension of the handbook

A History of Education for Citizenship Derek Heater, 2003-10-23 In this unique examination of education for citizenship Derek Heater covers two and a half millennia of history encompassing every continent Education for citizenship is considered from its classical origins through to ideas of world citizenship and multiculturalism which are relevant today The book reveals the constants of motives policies recommendations and practices in this field and the variables determined by political social and economic circumstances which in turn illustrate the reasons behind education for citizenship today Sections covered include Classical origins The age of rebellions and revolutions Education for liberal democracy Totalitarianism and transitions Multiple citizenship education A History of Education for Citizenship will be of interest to teachers and students of citizenship particularly those concerned with citizenship education It will also be of interest to those working in the field of politics of education and history of education

Politics, Identity and Education in Central Asia Pınar Akçalı, Cennet Engin-Demir, 2013-03-20 Focusing on the areas of politics identity and education this book looks at some of the most pressing and challenging issues that Kyrgyzstan faces in the post Soviet era It argues that Kyrgyzstan is challenged with oscillations between the old and the new on the one hand and domestic and international on the other The book analyses the process of post Soviet transition in today's Kyrgyzstan by focusing on the political elites some of the major identity problems and educational issues It discusses how Kyrgyzstan's first president in the post Soviet era had already been an exceptional leader even prior to the collapse of the Soviet Union in terms of his democratic and liberal tendencies The book goes on to look at how identity is a major factor in the country shaped to a large extent by genealogical factors and patron client mechanisms on the one hand and religious considerations on the other Finally it highlights how education has been perceived as a very influential agent of socialization that develops not only literacy and other skills but also common attitudes and values that are considered essential to any society By evaluating these three areas the book argues that Kyrgyzstan cannot isolate itself from the demands priorities and pressures of international actors which sometimes are in conflict with the country's domestic conditions It is of interest to students and scholars of Asian Studies Politics and International Relations

The German Lands and Eastern Europe Karen Schönwälder, Roger Bartlett, 2016-07-27 The relationship between Germans and their non German counterparts in Central and East Europe has been a fundamental feature of European History The twelve essays in this volume address key aspects of this complex and multifaceted relationship which has been marked by friendship and cooperation as well as enmity and strife The topics range from medieval peasant settlement to present day relations between

Germans and Poles Central themes are national identity the emergence and development of mixed communities and inter cultural communication      Latvia's Transition to a Market Economy M. Nissinen,1998-11-22 The postcommunist transitions to a market economy raised doubts about the political sustainability of an economic reform under democracy At the same time they turned the attention to the centrality of political factors in economic policy making Latvia has succeeded in proceeding into the consolidation phase of its market reforms while remaining committed to both political pluralism and macroeconomic austerity Even if politics were not treated as a mere constraint the basic question is still how are the government s adjustment choices modified in the political process      The Challenge of East-West Migration for Poland Keith Sword,Krystyna Iglicka,1999-02-12 One of the major features of the social landscape of the new states of Eastern Europe and the former USSR is migration whether voluntary or coerced The decline of communism in both East and Central Europe as well as the fall of the Soviet empire has created new population and ethnic problems The recent exodus has proved to be the largest migration wave reported in Europe in over 40 years The problem of foreigners in Poland is a subject scarcely studied and insufficiently described This volume has been compiled on the basis of papers prepared for a Social Sciences Seminar series at the School of Slavonic Studies London which was devoted to migratory movements in Poland since 1989 This volume thus contains the latest data and results of research quantitative as well as qualitative on the movement of foreigners into Poland It is a groundbreaking work      The Bolsheviks and the National Question, 1917-23 J. Smith,1999-01-13 In a timely re examination of the origins of the system which fell apart so dramatically in 1991 this book deals with the policies of the Soviets towards the non Russian nationalities of the former Russian Empire Making extensive use of previously unavailable material from the Soviet archives Jeremy Smith explores the attempts of the Bolsheviks to promote the development of minority nationalities in the Soviet context through a combination of political cultural and educational measures and looks at the disputes surrounding the creation of the Soviet Union
