Captivity in War during the Twentieth Century Marcel Berni, Tamara Cubito, 2021-08-27 This book offers new international perspectives on captivity in wartime during the twentieth century It explores how global institutions and practices with regard to captives mattered how they evolved and most importantly how they influenced the treatment of captives From the beginning of the twentieth century international organisations neutral nations and other actors with no direct involvement in the respective wars often had to fill in to support civilian as well as military captives and to supervise their treatment This edited volume puts these actors rather than the captives themselves at the centre in order to assess comparatively their contributions to wartime captivity Taking a global approach it shows that transnational bodies whether non governmental organisations neutral states or individuals played an essential role in dealing with captives in wartime Chapters cover both the largest wars such as the two World Wars but also lesser known conflicts to highlight how captives were placed at the centre of transnational negotiations

Intrusions Ursula Hegi, 2012-10-01 Brilliantly stretching literary conventions Ursula Hegi author of the best selling Stones from the River creates a funny and original novel within a novel to explore the doubts decisions and might have beens that mark not only the writing process but life itself As her author and her fictional heroine deal with their intrusions into each other's lives Hegi reveals much about the choices women make the ambiguities they face and the often surprising ways reality and fiction merge

Sisters Crossing Boundaries Katharina Stornig, 2013-10-02 The last third of the 19th century witnessed a considerable increase in the active participation of women in the various Christian missions Katharina Stornig focusses on the Catholic case and particularly explores the activities and experiences of German missionary nuns the so called Servants of the Holy Spirit in colonial Togo and New Guinea in the late 19th and first half of the 20th centuries Introducing the nuns ambiguous roles as travelers evangelists believers domestic workers farmers teachers and nurses Stornig highlights the ways in which these women shaped and were shaped by the missionary encounter and how they affected colonial societies more generally Privileging the sources produced by nuns i e letters chronicles and reports and emphasizing their activities Sisters Crossing Boundaries profoundly challenges the frequent depiction of women and particularly nuns as the largely passive observers of the missionizing and colonizing activities of men Stornig does not stop at adding women to the existing historical narrative of mission in Togo and New Guinea but presents the hopes and strategies that German nuns related to the imagination and practice of empire She also discusses the effects of boundary crossing both real and imagined in the context of religion gender and race BIRGIT I Annegret Neufang,2010 Analysing Patients with Traumas Franziska Henningsen,2023-04-21 The focus of this book is on detailed case histories of patients with severe traumas The author takes us through the successive stages of analysis and gives us a graphic impression of the progress of her diagnostic and therapeutic insights into traumatic processes and their treatment Her main interest is in the development of the transference countertransference relationship Traumatic experience has to be actualised within that relationship if it is to be treated successfully only in this way can therapeutic change become a feasible proposition Traumatic micro processes and trauma sequel phenomena in transference and countertransference are described and conceptualized The author demonstrates her point with examples taken from clinical practice illnesses experienced as traumatic separation traumas childhood experiences of violence adult experiences of violence war torture and displacement that can engender PTSD This book is a genuinely original contribution to psychoanalytic treatment of traumas Kreuz und Schwert im Kampfe gegen
