Livingstone, 2023-02-28 This book investigates the nature and relevance of conjunctive explanations in the context of science and religion It explores questions concerning how scientific and religious explanations for features of the world or phenomena within it relate to each other and whether they might work together in mutually enriching ways The chapters address topics including the relationship between Darwinian and teleological explanations non reductive explanations of mind and consciousness and explanations of Christian faith and religious experience while others explore theological and philosophical issues concerning the nature and feasibility of conjunctive explanations Overall the contributions help to provide conceptual clarity on how scientific and religious explanations might or might not work together conjunctively as well as exploring how these ideas relate to specific topics in science and religion more generally Science and Religion in Dialogue Melville Y. Disenchantment is in its entirety extraordinarily well researched argued and written representing at once the most complete and nuanced treatment of the notion of disenchantment within this network of scientific religious philosophical and esoteric discourses and currents Nova Religio      Reading Ruse Michael Ruse,2024-09-12 Philosopher of science Michael Ruse is an influential and provocative voice in current debates on biology religion and ethics This collection brings into one volume representative samples of the broad range of Ruse s oeuvre as represented in his academic books mainly from post 2000 Ruse s writings in this period are gathered under seven headings each with five readings Atheism Belief and Faith Darwinism Belief and Religion Darwin Darwinism and Darwinian Thought Progress and Directionality in Evolution Design Telos and Purpose in the Natural World Naturalism Sociobiology and Their Entailments Darwinian Ethics and Morality      Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature ,1920      Evolution and Religion Michael Ruse,2008-05-13 Ruse a leading expert on Charles Darwin presents a fictional dialogue among characters with sharply contrasting positions regarding the tensions between science and religious belief      Reading Richard Dawkins Gary Keogh,2014 Theological reactions to the rise of the new atheist movement have largely been critically hostile or defensively deployed apologetics to shore up the faith against attack Gary Keogh contends that focusing on scholarly material that is inherently agreeable to theology will not suffice in the context of modern academia Theology needs to test its boundaries and venture into dialogue with those with antithetical positions Engaging Richard Dawkins as the embodiment of such a position illustrates how such dialogue may offer new perspectives on classical theological problems such as the relationship of science and religion the existence of God creation natural suffering and theodicy Keogh demonstrates how a dialogical paradigm may take shape rather than merely discussing it as a theoretical framework A dialogue between such opposing hermeneutics may provide a new paradigm of theological scholarship one which is up to the task of facing its critics in the public and pluralistic context of modern academia
