1950s Science Fiction Films and 9/11 Melvin E. Matthews,2007 1950s Cold War era monsters meet 21st century terrorists this exploration of sci fi movies examines the similarities and differences between the political environment and popular culture of two eras This examination and appreciation of 1950s science fiction films includes behind the scenes tales about their production and many quotes from those who produced and starred in the films The author draws parallels between the Cold War fears of the 1950s and 60s and the constant terrorism alerts of the September 11th era exploring how the politics and the psychological climate of the times influences and is reflected in this vehicle of popular culture This book is the first of its kind studying the pop culture genre in the wake of the September 11th tragedy It shows that whatever the era and whatever the challenges and crises confronting America many entertainment themes remain the same reflecting their respective times and the relevant issues For instance Godzilla the only Fifties era monster to remain a movie star beyond that era could be fashioned to reflect whatever issues dominate the times be they nuclear war in the Fifties when Godzilla originated to a Seventies Godzilla film about environmental pollution Conceivably a Godzilla for the age of terrorism is possible Then the 1954 atomic mutation classic is the spiritual ancestor of the 2002 film Eight Legged Freaks The alien invaders of the Fifties signified a Russian invasion of America while other films of the genre such as Invaders from Mars depicted aliens utilizing mind control to manipulate humans to commit acts of sabotage signifying Communist enslavement If such a film were made now such invaders could be seen as terrorist masterminds using human slaves to commit terrorist acts Finally several Fifties films depicted the end of the world at a time when Americans expected a nuclear war with Russia The immediate pre September 11th era witnessed films presenting galactic threats to mankind s existence Independence Day Deep Impact Armageddon while the early 2000s witnessed the popularity of the Left Behind Christian films dramatizing the Tribulation period in the Book of Revelation Japan's Green Monsters Sean Rhoads,Brooke McCorkle,2018-02-12 In 1954 a massive irradiated dinosaur emerged from Tokyo Bay and rained death and destruction on the Japanese capital Since then Godzilla and other monsters such as Mothra and Gamera have gained cult status around the world This book provides a new interpretation of these monsters or kaiju and their respective movies Analyzing Japanese history society and film the authors show the ways in which this monster cinema take on environmental and ecological issues from nuclear power and industrial pollution to biodiversity and climate change RKO Radio Pictures Horror, Science Fiction and Fantasy Films, 1929-1956 Michael R. The Philosophy of Horror Noel Carroll, 2003-09-02 Noel Carroll film scholar and philosopher offers the first serious look at the aesthetics of horror In this book he discusses the nature and narrative structures of the genre dealing with horror as a transmedia phenomenon A fan and serious student of the horror genre Carroll brings to bear his comprehensive knowledge of obscure and forgotten works as well as of the horror masterpieces Working from a philosophical perspective he tries to account for how people can find pleasure in having their wits scared out of them What after all are those paradoxes of the heart that make us want to be horrified

Science Fiction Television Series Mark Phillips, Frank Garcia, 2014-05-12 Whether rocketing to other worlds or galloping through time science fiction television has often featured the best of the medium The genre's broad appeal allows youngsters to enjoy fantastic premises and far out stories while offering adults a sublime way to view the human experience in a dramatic perspective From Alien Nation to World of Giants this reference work provides comprehensive episode guides and cast and production credits for 62 science fiction series that were aired from 1959 through 1989 For each episode a brief synopsis is given along with the writer and director of the show and the guest cast Using extensive research and interviews with writers directors actors stuntmen and many of the show s creators an essay about each of the shows is also provided covering such issues as its genesis and its network and syndication histories Apocalypse Then Mike Bogue,2017-09-14 The United States the only country to have dropped the bomb and Japan the only one to have suffered its devastation understandably portray the nuclear threat differently on film American science fiction movies of the 1950s and 1960s generally proclaim that it is possible to put the nuclear genie back in the bottle Japanese films of the same period assert that once freed the nuclear genie can never again be imprisoned This book examines genre films from the two countries released between 1951 and 1967 including Godzilla 1954 The Mysterians 1957 The Incredible Shrinking Man 1957 On the Beach 1959 The Last War 1961 and Dr Strangelove 1964 to show the view from both sides of the Pacific Hollywood Monsters & Creepy Things Terry Rowan,2016-10-14 The story about Hollywood Monsters vampires zombies werewolves phantoms mummies and ghosts of literature and how they went Hollywood Classic monsters are primarily the creatures of legend touched by the supernatural or created by the madness of men who ventured where no man should go the good old monsters who lurked in gloomy settings of Central European villages ancient castles and tombs moulding mansions and stone laboratories filled mazes of bewildering equipment in dark nights and violent storms From A to Z which inspired by Edgar Allan Poe Bram Stoker and Mary Shelley Androids, Humanoids, and Other Folklore Monsters Per Schelde,1993-10-01 Science fiction films from the original Frankenstein and The Fly to Blade Runner and The Terminator traditionally have been filled with aliens spaceships androids cyborgs and all sorts of robotic creatures along with their various creators The popular appeal of these characters is undeniable but what is the meaning of this generation of creatures What is the relationship of mad scientist to subject of human to android of creature to creator Androids Humanoids and Other Folklore Monsters is a profound investigation of this popular cultural form Starting his discussion with the possible source of these creatures anthropologist and writer Per Schelde identifies the origin of these critters in the folklore of past generations Continuing in the tradition of ancient folklore contends Schelde science fiction film is a fictional account of the ongoing battle between nature and culture With the advance of science the trolls dwarves pixies nixies and huldres that represented the unknown natural forces of the world were virtually killed off by ever increasing knowledge and technology The natural forces of the past that provided a threat to humans were replaced by the danger of unknown scientific experiments and disasters as represented by their offspring science fiction monsters As the development of genetics biomedical engineering and artificial intelligence blur the lines between human and machine in the real world thus invading the natural landscape with the products of man s techno culture the representation of this development poses interesting questions As Per Schelde shows it becomes increasingly difficult in science fiction film to define the humans from their creations and thus increasingly difficult to identify the monster Unlike science fiction literature science fiction film has until now been largely neglected as a genre worthy of study and scholarship Androids Humanoids and Other Folklore Monsters explores science fiction sf film as the modern incarnation of folklore emblematic of the struggle between nature and culture but with a new twist Schelde explains how as science conquered the forests and mountains of the wild the mythic creatures of these realms trolls elves and ogres were relegated to cartoons and children s stories Technology and outer space came to represent the modern wild and this new unknown came alive in the popular imagination with the embodiments of our fears of that unknown androids cyborgs genetics and artificial intelligence gone awry Implicit in all of these is a fear and an indictment of the power of science to invade our minds and bodies replacing the individual soul with a mechanical machine made one Focusing his analysis on sixty five popular films from Frankenstein and Metropolis to Invasion of the Body Snatchers The Terminator and Blade Runner Per Schelde brings his command of traditional folklore to this serious but eminently readable look at SF movies decoding their curious and often terrifying images as expressions of modern man s angst in the face of a rapidly advancing culture he cannot control Anyone with an interest in popular culture folklore film studies or science fiction will enjoy this original and comprehensive study

Fear and Nature Christy Tidwell, Carter Soles, 2021-05-10 Ecohorror represents human fears about the natural world killer plants and animals catastrophic weather events and disquieting encounters with the nonhuman Its portrayals of animals the environment and even scientists build on popular conceptions of zoology ecology and the scientific process As such ecohorror is a genre uniquely situated to address life art and the dangers of scientific knowledge in the

Anthropocene Featuring new readings of the genre Fear and Nature brings ecohorror texts and theories into conversation with other critical discourses The chapters cover a variety of media forms from literature and short fiction to manga poetry television and film The chronological range is equally varied beginning in the nineteenth century with the work of Edgar Allan Poe and finishing in the twenty first with Stephen King and Guillermo del Toro This range highlights the significance of ecohorror as a mode In their analyses the contributors make explicit connections across chapters question the limits of the genre and address the ways in which our fears about nature intersect with those we hold about the racial animal and bodily other A foundational text this volume will appeal to specialists in horror studies Gothic studies the environmental humanities and ecocriticism In addition to the editors the contributors include Kristen Angierski Bridgitte Barclay Marisol Cortez Chelsea Davis Joseph K Heumann Dawn Keetley Ashley Kniss Robin L Murray Brittany R Roberts Sharon Sharp and Keri Stevenson

Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media Julia A. Empey, Russell J.A. Kilbourn, 2023-08-24 Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media From Annihilation to High Life and Beyond places posthumanism and feminist theory into dialogue with contemporary science fiction film and media This essay collection is intimately invested in the debates around the posthuman and the critical posthumanities within a feminist critical theoretical framework In this posthumanist light science fiction as a genre allows for new imaginings of human technological relations while it can also be the site of a critique of human exceptionalism and essentialism In this way science fiction affords unique opportunities for the scholarly investigation of the relevance and relative applicability of specific posthumanist themes and questions in a particularly rich and wide ranging popular cultural field of production One of the reasons for this suitability is the genre's historically longstanding relationship with the critical investigation of gender specifically the position and relative empowerment of women The original analyses presented here pay close attention to audiovisual style including game mechanics facilitating the critical interrogation of the issues and questions around posthumanism Where typically the mention of SF in the posthumanist context calls to mind a whole set of often clichéd tropes the cyborg technologically augmented bodies AI subjectivities etc this volume's thirteen chapters analyze specific examples of contemporary SF cinema that engage in meaningful ways with the burgeoning field of critical posthumanism and that utilize such films to interrogate posthumanist and feminist as well as humanistic ideas

Celluloid Mushroom Clouds Joyce Evans, 2018-03-05 Celluloid Mushroom Clouds is a historical account of how the movie industry responded to specific economic and political forces over the postwar years Joyce Evans investigates the transformation of the imagery associated with atomic technology found in Hollywood films produced and distributed between 1947 and 1964 Incorporating qualitative and quantitative research methods over 90 are analyzed in terms of their historical context and the context of film production and distribution
