The Powers of Literacy (RLE Edu I) Bill Cope,Mary Kalantzis,2014-06-17 Literacy remains a contentious and polarized educational media and political issue What has emerged from the continuing debate is a recognition that literacy in education is allied closely with matters of language and culture ideology and discourse knowledge and power Drawing perspectives variously from critical social theory and cultural studies poststructuralism and feminisms sociolinguistics and the ethnography of communication social history and comparative education the contributors begin a critical interrogation of taken for granted assumptions which have guided educational policy research and practice

Beyond Cyberpunk Graham J. Murphy,Sherryl Vint,2010-06-10 This book is a collection of essays that considers the continuing cultural relevance of the cyberpunk genre into the new millennium Cyberpunk is no longer an emergent phenomenon but in our digital age of CGI driven entertainment the information economy and globalized capital we have never more been in need of a fiction capable of engaging with a world shaped by information technology The essays in explore our cyberpunk realities to soberly reconsider Eighties era cyberpunk while also mapping contemporary cyberpunk The contributors seek to move beyond the narrow strictures of cyberpunk as defined in the Eighties and contribute to an ongoing discussion of how to negotiate exchanges among information technologies global capitalism and human social existence The essays offer a variety of perspectives on cyberpunk s diversity and how this sub genre remains relevant amidst its transformation from a print fiction genre into a more generalized set of cultural practices tackling the question of what it is that cyberpunk narratives continue to offer us in those intersections of literary cultural theoretical academic and technocultural environments

Crossing Borders Bernhard Kettmann,Georg Marko,1999      Discovering Dune Dominic J. Nardi,N. Trevor Brierly,2022-08-01 Frank Herbert s Dune is one of the most well known science fiction novels of all time and it is often revered alongside time honored classics like The Lord of the Rings Unlike Tolkien s work the Dune series has received remarkably little academic attention This collection includes fourteen new essays from various academic disciplines including philosophy political science disability studies Islamic theology environmental studies and Byzantine history that examine all six of Herbert s Dune books As a compendium it asserts that a multidisciplinary approach to the texts can lead to fresh discoveries Also included in this collection are an introduction by Tim O Reilly who authored one of the first critical appraisals of Herbert s writings in 1981 and a comprehensive bibliography of essential primary and secondary sources

Learning from Other Worlds Patrick Parrinder,2001 A definite look at the state of science fiction studies today that surveys the field from Hugo Gernsback to the present      Language, Science and Popular Fiction in the Victorian

Fin-de-Siècle Christine Ferguson, 2017-03-02 Christine Ferguson's timely study is the first comprehensive examination of the importance of language in forming a crucial nexus among popular fiction biology and philology at the Victorian fin de siècle. Focusing on a variety of literary and non literary texts the book maps out the dialogue between the Victorian life and social sciences most involved in the study of language and the literary genre frequently indicted for causing linguistic corruption and debasement popular fiction Ferguson demonstrates how Darwinian biological philological and anthropological accounts of primitive and animal language were co-opted into wider cultural debates about the apparent brutality of popular fiction and shows how popular novelists such as Marie Corelli Grant Allen H G Wells H Rider Haggard and Bram Stoker used their fantastic narratives to radically reformulate the relationships among language thought and progress that underwrote much of the contemporary prejudice against mass literary taste. In its alignment of scientific cultural and popular discourses of human language Language Science and Popular Fiction in the Victorian Fin de Siècle stands as a corrective to assessments of best selling fiction's intellectual ideological and aesthetic simplicity.

Scraps Of The Untainted Sky Thomas

Moylan, 2018-03-05 Dystopian narrative is a product of the social ferment of the twentieth century. A hundred years of war famine disease state terror genocide ecocide and the depletion of humanity through the buying and selling of everyday life provided fertile ground for this fictive underside of the utopian imagination. From the classical works by E M Forster Yevgeny Zamyatin Aldous Huxley George Orwell and Margaret Atwood through the new maps of hell in postwar science fiction and most recently in the dystopian turn of the 1980s and 1990s this narrative machine has produced challenging cognitive maps of the given historical situation by way of imaginary societies which are even worse than those that lie outside their authors and readers' doors. In Scraps of the Untainted Sky Tom Moylan offers a thorough investigation of the history and aesthetics of dystopia. To situate his study Moylan sets out the methodological paradigm that developed within the interdisciplinary fields of science fiction studies and utopian studies as they grow out of the oppositional political culture of the 1960 and 1970s the context that produced the project of cultural studies itself. He then presents a thorough account of the textual structure and formal operations of the dystopian text. From there he focuses on the new science fictional dystopias that emerged in the context of the economic political and cultural convulsions of the 1980s and 1990s and he examines in detail three of these new critical dystopias: Kim Stanley Robinson's The Gold Coast, Octavia Butler's The Parable of the Sower and Marge Piercy's He, She and It. With its detailed documented and yet accessible presentation Scraps of the Untainted Sky will be of interest to established scholars as well as students and general readers who are seeking an in-depth introduction to this important area of cultural production.

The Government of Disability in Dystopian Children's Texts Dylan Holdsworth, 2024-03-11

This book takes up the task of mapping discursive shifts in the representation of disability in dystopian youth texts across four historical periods where major social cultural and political shifts were occurring in the lives of many disabled people. By focusing on dystopian texts which the author argues act as sites for challenging or reinforcing dominant belief systems and ways of being this study explores the potential of literature film and television to act as a catalyst of change in the representation of disability In addition this work discusses the texts and technologies that continue to perpetuate questionable and often competing discourses on the subject

Reading Popular Physics Elizabeth Leane, 2007 Elizabeth Leane's Reading Popular Physics is a valuable contribution to our understanding of the nature and implications of physics popularizations Focusing particularly on five bestselling books A Brief History of Time The First Three Minutes Chaos Complexity and The Dancing Wu Li Masters Leane analyzes the textual strategies by which popularizers of science influence the public Her book offers readers a fresh perspective on this highly visible and influential genre

The New Utopian Politics of Ursula K. Le Guin's *The Dispossessed Laurence Davis, Peter Stillman, 2005-11-22 The Dispossessed has been described by political thinker Andre Gorz as 'The most striking description I know of the seductions and snares of self managed communist or in other words anarchist society' To date however the radical social cultural and political ramifications of Le Guin's multiple award winning novel remain woefully under explored Editors Laurence Davis and Peter Stillman right this state of affairs in the first ever collection of original essays devoted to Le Guin's novel Among the topics covered in this wide ranging international and interdisciplinary collection are the anarchist ecological post consumerist temporal revolutionary and open ended utopian politics of The Dispossessed The book concludes with an essay by Le Guin written specially for this volume in which she reassesses the novel in light of the development of her own thinking over the past 30 years

The British Critical Tradition Gary Day, 1993-01-12 This collection offers a reinterpretation of the history of British criticism by exploring the work of neglected as well as celebrated critics It contextualizes the current crisis and shows how traditional criticism anticipates and to some extent parallels the concerns of postmodern critical theory The issue of value is also addressed as is the question of the future direction of criticism making this volume an important contribution to contemporary critical debate

Aliens and Others Jenny Wolmark, 1994 Feminist Utopianism & Education Christine Forde, 2007-01-01 This book looks to feminist utopian thinking to seek alternative conceptualisations of the issue of gender and education We are currently faced with a situation where the issue of gender has become one of competing needs Debates on gender have swung from a concern for the progress of girls and women to a moral panic about the lack of engagement of boys in education The formulation of policy that swings from concerns and initiatives to support the educational progress of girls and women to a crisis about the engagement of boys and young men in education is ultimately to the detriment of both genders to the educational system and to society as a whole There is an urgent need for us to consider alternative approaches to the issue of gender and education In utopian writing education has been constructed as one of the means of bringing about the good society but importantly within feminist utopian writing and thinking what we understand as education is itself being transformed In feminist utopian thinking side by side with a critique of formal educational institutions there is an attempt to think more holistically about the relationship between the educative process and the achievement of girls and women's self-determination both individually and collectively to bring about a realignment of gender relationships in the sociopolitical order. This book draws from the debates about gender in the visions of alternative sociopolitical orders found in feminist utopian thinking to explore the issue of gender and education. This book will be of special relevance to those interested in feminism, gender studies, educational futures, and utopian thinking. Cult Fiction C. Bloom, 1996-10-04. Here is an exploration of pulp literature and pulp mentalities, an investigation into the nature and theory of the contemporary mind in art and in life. Here too the violent, the sensational, and the erotic signify different facets of the modern experience played out in the gaudy pages of kitsch literature. Clive Bloom offers the reader a chance to investigate the underworld of literary production and from it find a new set of coordinates for questions regarding publishing and reading practices in America and Britain, ideas of genre, problems related to commercial production, concerns regarding high and low culture, the canon and censorship, as well as a discussion of the rhetoric of current critical debate. Concentrating on remembered authors as well as many long disregarded or forgotten, Cult Fiction provides a theory of kitsch art that radically alters our perceptions of literature and literary values whilst providing a panorama of an almost forgotten history: the history of pulp. A Stanislaw Lem Reader Stanislaw Lem, Peter Swirski, 1997-11-12. In The Lem Reader, Peter Swirski has assembled an in-depth and insightful collection of writings by and about and interviews with one of the most fascinating writers of the twentieth century. Media Linguistics in South Asia Ali R. Fathi, 2022-09-30. The tone and texture of the language of media have changed considerably due to the rapid expansion of media in recent times and advancements in communication technologies. This book examines new ways to conduct linguistic explorations into the myriad of forms news is being presented and consumed. The volume contributes to the emerging field of media linguistics by measuring and analysing the associations between linguistics and the news discourse. It extends the conceptualization of language-media relations in sociolinguistics beyond the notions of influence and effect and broadens the theoretical and empirical scope of the discipline. The author discusses different perspectives of media linguistics, issues of variation in language of media, question of plurilingual resources, parallel language use in media, and textuality of news genres. He further analyses the dynamics of news reportage by studying the coverage of conflicts, violence, and dissent in South Asian media in recent decades, along with the reportage of cricket headlines and news. Comprehensive and topical, this volume will be useful for scholars and researchers of linguistics, media linguistics, applied linguistics, media studies, media sociology, sociology, cultural studies, and South Asian studies. Celestial Empire Nathaniel Isaacson, 2017-02-07. How colonialism profoundly influenced the emergence of Chinese science fiction. Challenging assumptions about science fiction's Western origins, Nathaniel Isaacson traces the development of the genre in China from the late Qing Dynasty through the New Culture Movement. Through careful examination of a wide range of visual and print media, including historical accounts of the institutionalization of science, pictorial representations of technological innovations, and a number of novels and short stories, Isaacson makes a case for understanding Chinese science fiction as a product of colonial modernity By situating the genre's emergence in the transnational traffic of ideas and material culture engendered by the presence of colonial powers in China's economic and political centers Celestial Empires explores the relationship between science fiction and Orientalist discourse In doing so it offers an innovative approach to the study of both vernacular writing in twentieth century China and science fiction in a global context     Beastly Journeys Tim Youngs, 2013-11-06 A critical exploration of travel animals and shape changing in fin de siècle literature
