

ESSAY ON “SCIENCE AND ITS SERVICE TO MAN”

Science can be defined as a systematically organized body of knowledge on a particular subject. So anything related to knowledge and collection of knowledge about a specific purpose can be defined as science. Science has proved to be pivotal in the succession of mankind's conscious and unconscious intelligence. It is the reason why man's caveman days are long gone.

Man has groomed himself into a supposedly better creature than its past, it is all due to science and the urge of understanding the unknown. 1.2 million years ago man discovered fire which began man's journey outside of his cave. His journey led to exploration of the earth. Due to the urge of understanding the unknown man found the gift of nature. Thus began the civilization period of human settlement and agriculture.

“The whole of science is nothing more than a refinement of everyday thinking.” ~ Albert Einstein.

The ancient man has transformed into a modern man due to science. Science did not originate on its own, all the knowledge was absorbed by man and the conscious mind was able to produce useable and helpful goods to make man's own life easier.

“Men love to wonder and that is the seed of science.” ~ Emerson.

Indeed, there are no alternatives to concrete as a volume construction material for infrastructure. This raises important questions of how concrete should be designed and constructed for cost-effective use in the short and long term and to encourage further radical development. Equally, it must be environmentally friendly during manufacture, in an aesthetic presentation in structures, and in the containment of harmful materials. The central theme of the Congress is Concrete in the Service of Mankind, under which five self-contained Conferences, each dealing with a particular aspect, are planned. The Congress offers opportunity to discuss how to improve and extend this service to mankind using responsible exploitation underwritten by sound technical understanding and research base. It brings together the shared skills and experience of the various disciplines involved in the construction process worldwide. This major publication continues the tradition established by Dundee University of organizing major international conferences every three years dealing with some aspect of concrete and also the link between Spon and Dundee University for publication of the proceedings. This book should be of interest to concrete technologists, contractors, civil
